Peace Resolution at Woman's Club Meet

A resolution to the effect that "our government be urged to put forth every effort to aid world peace by whatever method will best achieve that effect," was submitted for the legislative committee of the Omaha Woman's club at its open meeting yesterday in the Burgess-Nash auditorium by Miss Katherine Worley. Miss Worley acted for the chairman of the committee, Mrs. R. E. McKelvy, who was obliged to be absent. The resolution, which made no specific mention of the Bok peace plan, either favorable or unfavorable, was referred by Mrs. Philip Potter, president, to the executive committee of the club before being voted upon from the floor.

A preliminary report of the visit to Theodore Leisen, Metropolitan Utilities district manager, of a special committee on softening of the city water, was made by Mrs. Potter. The committee had found Mr. Leisen favorably disposed toward the

N. F. W. C. Offers Prizes for Music

"A music club in every town" is the slogan of the music department of the National Federation of Women's clubs, which hopes to double the number of music divisions before the biennial convention of the federation in Portland in 1925.

To this end a number of prizes are being offered for the state organizations showing the greatest growth in musical activities in proportion to what they had at the beginning of the contest.

Prizes for musical compositions by young American artists under 30 years of age will also be awarded. Rules and regulations for these contests, which are offered for compositions in three classes, voice, violin and piano, may be had by writing E. H. Wilcox, chairman of the music contest committee, University Station, Grand Forks, N. D. Rules for the junior competitions in the same classes may also be obtained from Mr. Wilcox.

These contests will take place at specified dates beginning this spring and continuing until May 1, 1925. For the older classes the contests are in a series, first the state, then the district, and then the national or finals, which will take place at the biennial at Portland a year from next June. The junior state winners will also appear at Portland.

These contests, conducted every other year, have done more than anything else to interest the younger people in music and musical careers, and are conducted under rules comparable by the highest musical authorities, and adjudged by the finest musicians procurable. No one other activity of the federation has been more productive of results, an increasingly greater number of contestants appearing at each series of contests.

A Plea for Comfort

In every house, no matter what its size or architectural style, there should be at least one room dedicated to the goddess of ease. Elsewhere we may be as formal as we like, but in this one spot we must be able to relax and be our complete and normal selves.

To the man of the house this opportunity for undisturbed comfort is likely to be of greater importance than to the feminine members of the family. His very masculinity seems to crave more solid physical and mental rest, with the result that mere frills and fripperies have little place in his surroundings.

Perhaps a comfortable chair and a glowing fire are the chief elements of a real man's lounging room. Let them both be simple—the former of the deep seated wing type with soft arm rests, and the latter an exponent of practical utility above all else. There is something honest about an open fire, whether of the wood or coal variety, that demands equal straightforwardness in its setting; hence the hearth, mantel and chimney breast should be restrained and sincere. A little paneling that carries out the lines of the fireplace opening, perhaps a pair of small artificial flower stands or jars to give a touch of color, a low guard rail on which one's heels can be comfortably rested for that toasting process which is one of the great privileges of the fireside lounge—these are accessories that fit perfectly into the picture. Legion Auxiliary President Fails to Appear for Luncheon

Instead of eight hours, as had been at first intended, Mrs. Franklin Bishop, national president of the American Legion auxiliary, spent six minutes in Omaha Monday.

Mrs. Bishop, who had intended to arrive at 8, missed her connections and was further delayed by late trains. She barely had time to hurry from the Union to the Burlington stations and catch the train taking her to Lincoln.

Members of the Omaha American Legion auxiliary held their luncheon as planned yesterday noon in the main dining room of the Fontenelle hotel, despite the absence of the guest of honor, Mrs. G. M. Ackerman, department president, Alnsworth, Neb. Mrs. Donald Macrae, Council Bluffs, past national vice president; and Mrs. Mabel Moody, South Dakota, national committeewoman, were out-of-town guests.

Omaha Club Commended.

Mrs. Ackerman, in an informal talk after the luncheon, encouraged the auxiliary for the membership campaign now about to open, which sets a membership of 15,000 as its goal, and commended them for undertaking literacy and community work.

A uniform plan for flag decoration such as has been introduced in Council Bluffs was recommended by Mrs. Macrae, who has just completed arrangements to have flagpoles of a standard size set at regular distances apart throughout the principal streets of that town.

Discusses School Vacation

Mrs. F. P. Larmon, president of the Omaha chapter of the D. A. R., brought greetings from that body and urged that the school board be asked to reconsider its action against granting a school holiday on Washington's birthday. An expression of opinion being called for from the floor, those present voted overwhelmingly in favor of dismissing classes on that day.

Mrs. Roland Jones conveyed the greetings of the Major Isaac Sadler chapter, D. A. R., defended the action of the school board, saying that the public schools will hold exercises on that day from which the children could gain more knowledge of patriotism than from being allowed vacation to go to the local park or the moving picture theater.

Alliance Francaise

Mrs. A. H. Richardson will be hostess to the French Alliance at her home on January 25. Monsieur Maurin from Paris will be a guest and speaker.

Mrs. Joseph Lawrence will enact the part of Sylvia Graham, a young widow, in "The Other Woman," one of the two plays to be presented at the matinee Wednesday afternoon in the Burgess-Nash auditorium by the Omaha Woman's club. The play, which is by Ellis Kingsley, is a dialogue between two women who urge their claims to the man they both love. Mrs. O. Y. Kring takes the "other woman" who is "Miss Enid Vivian, an actress." Mrs. Fred Larkin plays the maid. The play is directed by Mrs. Lawrence.

The name of Mrs. E. L. Dunn has been added to the cast of the second play, "The Suffragette Baby," announced Sunday. Mrs. Dunn will play one of the suffragettes.

Huse-Kelly.

The wedding of Miss Josephine Huse to Harry J. Kelly of Port Arthur, Tex., will take place at 4 this afternoon in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. G. Nashburg.

Mr. Kelly arrived last night from Texas. Out-of-town guests, who are expected this morning are, H. G. Hise, St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. E. K. Halldeman, Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Agnew, Fullerton; Mrs. Reed Alter, Grand Island, and H. H. Biscow, St. Paul.

Only relatives will attend the wedding, which will be performed by

Rev. Stephen Dowd of Our Lady of Lourdes church, Miss Huse will wear an afternoon gown.

The ceremony will be followed by a reception for 30 guests. Mrs. Alfred Burr and Mrs. Frederick Stout will pour at the refreshment table, and Miss Jessie Mason will assist in the living room.

After the reception, the couple will leave for a honeymoon in Chicago and New Orleans. They will make their home at Port Arthur, Tex.

ADVERTISMENT. COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germs.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial catarrh, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.
