

Fight Expected in Upper House on Eugenics Law

Elections Law Also Due for Reconsideration—Lower House to Tackle Education Bill.

Des Moines, Jan. 28.—Today's interesting session of both houses of the legislature probably will be followed tomorrow by one bristling with action. In the senate, the eugenics amendment to the marriage law was on the calendar and Senator McIntosh of Decatur county planned to call up for reconsideration the elections law which was defeated last week after adoption of an amendment closing the door to nomination of candidates by any groups except political parties. The house was expected to reach the board of education bill which contains controversial features sponsored or opposed by various school factions. The fate of the eugenics proposal was in doubt tonight, some members declaring the committee which reported out the bill before the addition was offered, would ask that it be referred in order that the addition might be killed. About the same opposition that lined up for the defeat of the eugenics amendment today was lost 27 to 10, was anticipated.

The election law had been expected to lie on the table the remainder of the session, the sponsors having declared they preferred the existing law to the code bill, until Mr. McIntosh's intention to call it up was made known. That new amendments, if any were in prospect, could not be learned today.

The prospective fight over the education bill centers about the establishment of the chair of critic teaching at Cedar Falls last year, the director of Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis lining up in opposition.

Each house was in session today less than an hour, the senate with no bills ready for consideration. The house acted on a few minor senate amendments and both sides adjourned until 9:30 tomorrow.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save 2¢, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membrane, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, insist on the druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COLDS

The slightest cold may develop "Flu" and then run into pneumonia. Go to your druggist and be sure to get a 26c box of Zerbst's Grip Capsules. Follow simple directions and you'll be surprised how quickly you'll feel fine. For that cough use Zerbst's Chloro-Pine

Iowa Shows Gain in Sheep, Cows

Fewer Hogs and Horses on January 1, 1924 Than Year Ago, However.

Des Moines, Jan. 28.—Iowa had more sheep and more milk cows on January 1, 1924, than at the first of 1923, but the number of hogs and horses in the state declines and the number of cattle other than milk cows remained stationary, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today through Charles F. Sauer, agricultural statistician here for the bureau of agricultural economics, and Leslie M. Carl, cooperating with him as livestock statistician.

Production of hogs in the state reached the peak some months ago and on January 1 had declined 5 per cent from the high point of 1923; the report said. Milk cows increased 4 per cent in number in 1923, the same proportionate increase as in 1922; sheep increased 12 per cent; the number of feeder cattle was the same as the year before, and the number of horses showed the same gradual decrease which has manifested itself for seven or eight years.

"The number of swine of all ages in Iowa on January 1, 1924," the report said, "is 10,539,000, which is about one-half million less than the 11,044,000 head on farms a year ago. The revised estimate for a year ago shows a 35 per cent increase over the previous year, a gain of over 2,500,000 hogs. There is a decrease of 6 per cent in the number of swine in the United States as a whole in 1923.

"The number of milk cows in Iowa has increased 4 per cent in each of the last two years. The number on farms on January 1 this year is 1,205,000, against 1,160,000 a year ago and 1,115,000 for January 1, 1922. An increase of 1 per cent is reported for the United States.

"The number of other cattle on Iowa farms is the same as last year, or 8,479,000 head. However, an 11 per cent increase was reported last year, there having been but 3,134,000 head on Iowa farms on January 1, 1922. A decrease of 2 per cent is reported for the United States.

Family Saved by Coffee Mill

Battered Relic of Winter of 1880-81 Given South Dakota State Museum.

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 28.—A battered coffee mill of the type "sold anywhere" in 1858 has just been added to the state museum to bear perpetual silent testimony to its service during the memorable deep snow winter of 1880 and 1881 when, for a period of five months, it was the principal means of keeping body and soul together for a family of nine near the present town site of Colman.

The gift was presented by Edmund D. Stitzel of Waterloo, Ia. He was one of six sons who were marooned with the family from January 1 to May 1, when the first freight train arrived bringing relief supplies of salt pork and crackers, as well as the first mail in four months, according to the record submitted with the relic.

"Flandreau, 15 miles northeast, was then the nearest trading point and during the period before the snow became too deep, regular round trips were made on foot until the dealer's supply of groceries gave out," the chronicle sets forth.

"Coffee mill-graham," frozen potatoes and melted snow water constituted almost the sole fare of the family during those long months. The only fuel obtainable was twisted hay, fed into a small cook stove, which furnished the heat for three unfinshed and unplastered rooms.

"Wheat for the flour was sorted during the day time and ground by firelight at night, each member of the family taking his turn as miller. No other light except that from the stove was used. There was no kerosene and the six tallow candles the family hoarded were reserved for use in case of sickness."

The parents were John and Fanny Stitzel, who brought their family into the state in 1880. The coffee mill was purchased in Milton, Pa., from where the pioneers were emigrants.

Iowan Would Decline Job on Shipping Board

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Personal considerations probably would prevent James R. Howard of Iowa, president of the National Transportation Institute, from accepting appointment to membership in the United States shipping board, he intimated today.

Reports circulated recently that President Coolidge contemplated nominating him led him to make public a letter he wrote under date of January 22 to C. E. Rawson, Des Moines, chairman of the Iowa republican state committee.

"My sole interest is in the Iowa farm," said Mr. Howard in explaining that his friends had offered their support in behalf of the shipping board appointment.

Huron, S. D., Jan. 28.—The First National bank here failed to open its doors today, national bank officials having found that the runs made on the bank in the last few days had depleted its cash reserve. George Wright is president of the bank.

The First National bank is the oldest institution in the city and is one of the oldest banks in the state. At the time of its last statement it carried deposits of $1,500,000. It was recently consolidated with the City National bank of Huron. As soon as a plan for reorganization can be worked out, it will be submitted to the depositors.

Second Big Tractor Bought for Johnson County Roads

Tecumseh, Neb., Jan. 28.—The board of commissioners of Johnson county has adopted a new plan of maintaining the Goldenrod highway through the county, a little more than 25 miles. Heretofore the distance has been divided between three patrolmen, each man taking about a third of the mileage. With helpers, the patrolmen have maintained the road using horse-drawn grading and maintaining machines. The commissioners have bought a 60-horsepower caterpillar tractor and heavy graders, the second outfit of the kind to be bought in a year, and Fredman for the entire highway in the county. John Mommens will operate the tractor. These men and this machinery will maintain the whole road, doing away with two patrolmen on the highway and all of the horses.
