Village Women Have Clubhouse

What women can do in a town of 300 when they really get started is shown by the lively Woman's club of Jansen, Neb., which in the 15 months of its existence has enrolled nearly one-sixth of the entire population of the village, has bought a club house and is considering a city park.

In March, 1923, as soon as the club had adopted its charter, it called a mass meeting of its members to consider what to undertake. A cynical throng of husbands, brothers and sons thronged the background of the room, to see how the women couldn't do business. The club at once put through a measure to buy and furnish a community club house, for use not only by themselves but by all other organizations of the town which were homeless at the time. And the rabid males who came to sneer, remained to contribute.

A committee was appointed under Mrs. J. J. Fast which made quick work of raising subscriptions for the purchase of a vacant business block. A couple of entertainments given by the Woman's club, and the assistance of the town band led by H. T. Fast completed the purchase fund. Furnishing the building was yet another problem. The local lumber company came to the rescue with material for an improvised stage and seats in the part to be used as an auditorium. A piano, dishes, and curtains were purchased by the women with the money they earned by selling refreshments after every entertainment that came to the town. "Eating," writes Mrs. M. L. Smoot, president of the club, is "an important industry" in Jansen; and it seems to have produced good dividends for the energetic club women.

So while cities of considerably larger population than Jansen are only talking about a club house, the Jansen Woman's club has housed under a roof purchased in consequence of its own efforts. To be sure, the roof was not without its drawbacks, as became evident this winter when it was almost impossible to heat the building. The town council rented a warmer building, while the first one was suited to serve as a school gymnasium.

The new location, however cozy, has one disadvantage. It formerly housed a poultry dealer and bears the legend "poultry" over the door. And town was dub the structure the "Hen House." Young chickens are a specialty of the structure, however, for a good many young girls have joined the Woman's club and are Another triumph of the year-old Jansen Woman's club was to investigate traffic conditions on a dangerous railroad corner near the town and convince the authorities of the need of proper safeguards.

At present the club is signing for new worlds to conquer, and making plans to achieve a municipal park for Jansen in 1924.

Press Club Tea

Prize-winning manuscripts from the recent contest of the Omaha Press Women's club were read at a tea of the club yesterday afternoon at Grey Rocks, the home of Mrs. Henry Joorly.

Two plays were read, "The Playwright," a fantastic comedy, by Miss Henrietta Rees, regarded by the judges as the most original of the entries in the dramatic class; and "The King of Culture," by Mrs. J. L. Masters, adjudged the best to perform. The former was an allegory presenting the difficulties of the author in getting together the rebellious material of his play. The latter was a sparkling bit of satire comedy centering about a culture bureau.

Mrs. J. M. Peyton read "A Witness for the State," which took second place in the short story class. It was a moving story of a man and a dog, Alaska and bootlegging.

The Press club will meet with Mrs. Mason at the Morris apartments a week from next Tuesday to hear the other manuscripts.

College Club Prepares Music Program

"Tannhauser" will be the subject of a program by the music section of the Omaha College club Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m., in the Burgess-Nash auditorium. Mrs. Jean Buchta Protzman will be the leader.

The program will include the story of the life of Wagner; by Mrs. W. H. Pierpoint; the story of the opera "Tannhauser," by Mrs. Protzman; the air "Evening Star," by Mrs. Florence Basler Palmer with orchestral accompaniment; piano solo, "Pilgrims' Chorus," arranged by Liszt; Mrs. J. Dean Ringer; "Elizabeth's Prayer," Mrs. Pierpoint.

A special feature will be an orchestra under the direction of Lillian Gould Faber, which will play selections from the opera. The ensemble of the orchestra includes Lillian Gould Faber, first violin; Lois Marmon, second violin; Mrs. Mabel Burnite, cello; Mrs. Fred Langhorst, clarinet; Mrs. Deyo Crane, organ; Jean Buchta Protzman, piano.

The meeting is open and a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

No More Gray Hair - Says Science

Wonderful Clean, Colorless Liquid Restores Original Color

Results in a Week

Science again has scored a triumph in the discovery of a very remarkable liquid known as Kolor-Bak. If you are gray, just apply this liquid to the hair and scalp and your hair will soon take on the actual color it had in the past. Not a trace of grayness will remain.

Kolor-Bak comes in the form of a clean, colorless liquid, containing properties which quickly restore the lost color to the hair and give it renewed vigor. And note that the one preparation is for all colors of hair. No special solution required for each color—no samples of hair required.

You will find also that with Kolor-Bak the hair has the same shade throughout. It does not appear streaked, faded or "dyed."

Every scientist, every physician, knows that gray hair is hair that has ceased to receive its normal supply of coloring matter or pigment from certain tiny cells (called follicles or papillae) in the scalp, because these cells have become inactive from illness, shock of some kind, scalp disease, dandruff, infection, neglect of the hair or lack of circulation, etc. But no matter what the cause of the grayness, it is simply amazing to see how it disappears when Kolor-Bak is used. It is a proved substitute for the natural pigmentation.
