for Bluejays

Lincoln, Neb., aJn., 31.—Coach W. G. Kline has put the final polish of his Nebraska basket ball team for its right at Omaha. The Cornhuskers, after an illustrous start, were unable to maintain the pace and have lost their last four games. This, in face of Creighton's record, makes the Nebraska hope appear somewhat forlorn, but as it was in the army, so it is in basket ball, "You never can always sometimes tell."

Huskers Prepare

Coach Kline appreciates the full strength of the Bluejay five and he is building to counteract it. The Nebraskans have given good account of themselves for 40 minutes in every game played thus far, win or lose, and Coach Kline does not anticipate setting a precedent at Omaha Friday night. Nebraska plays Drake at Des Moines Saturday and Grinnell at Grinnell Monday.

Great Britain No Match for American Squad The Yankees amazed the crowd with their tremendous speed at the outset but seemed to lose their punch in the second period, the let-down being due o lack of training. In the second period, the British pulled themselves together somewhat, presenting a more determined defense. Evidence of this fact brought cries of "well played" from the English rooters, but in the long run they had little to cheer about. The British seldom threatened the American goal. The Yankees got away running in the opening period, only two goals being scored, but the Americans came back with three more in the third. The individual goals were furnished as follows:

Drury, one; Rice, four; Small, two; Abel, two: Synott, two.

The victory qualified the American team to meet Canada in the final round on Sunday. In spite of the impressive showing of the American team, the Canadians rule heavy favorites.

Another bob-sled accident occurred today when the English sled overturned on a dangerous curve while going 50 miles an hour. It is believed batting that Frederic Browning, captain of the team, sustained fracture of both legs. The remaining three occupants of the sled were uninjured
