

Bryan Demands U. S. Act to Cut Gasoline Price

Governor Urges Government Either Take Over Oil Industry or Restrain Firms Under Anti-Trust Law.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee, Lincoln, Feb. 7.—Following Governor McMeister's South Dakota, Governor Bryan this morning said he is writing to President Coolidge and to the United States attorney general's office, demanding that the oil industry either be taken over by the government or that action be taken under the Sherman anti-trust law.

"The federal government should assert its power, first to protect the public against robbery, and second, to show the public that the government is not impotent to deal with the oil octopus which has spread its slimy tentacles over government officials."

"Last summer the price of gasoline was reduced under pressure and threat of competition. There was a large margin between refinery, wholesale and retail prices. With that condition, we would have been able to do what has been done in the coal business by establishing competition. We could have reduced the margin between the refinery and retail price 7 or 8 cents a gallon and still would have excessive profit for the retailer."

Conditions Different. "Conditions now are different. The Standard Oil company and so-called independent companies, seeing the opportunity of the state to reduce the price, apparently have organized to control raw product prices and refinery prices and are advancing them so as to reduce the margin between them and the retailer, to prevent the state from getting hold of gasoline and to cut down the profit margin so as to have a better argument for higher prices."

"The situation is a national problem, and not a problem for the state. The state cannot control prices of the raw product, or refinery prices. The federal government can. I am calling on the federal government to take action to take over the oil industry or to take action under the Sherman anti-trust law, restraining the oil companies and prosecuting them to prevent this public robbery of the public."

Action Justified. "The oil companies are furnishing evidence sufficient to convict them. The robbery is such that the federal government is immediately justified in acting. The oil companies are taking advantage of the demoralized situation at Washington, a situation which they have created, to plunder the country by increasing the price of gasoline and oil and the federal government should assert its power to protect the public against the robbery and to show the public that the government is not impotent to deal with the oil octopus which has spread its slimy tentacles over government officials."

Character of Early West Rides to His Last Roundup. Sheridan, Wyo., Feb. 7.—With the death at Buffalo, Wyo., of J. C. (Hardwinter) Davis, passed the man at whose invitation Owen Wister came to Wyoming and wrote "The Virginian." Davis rode the ranges of Wyoming and Montana with Theodore Roosevelt and later visited him in the White House. "Hardwinter" also built the Sahara Irrigation project in northern Wyoming, and was the first man to prospect for oil in the now famous Salt Creek field. Davis and Owen Wister were said to have been boyhood chums. He was born at Mulford, Del., in 1867, and served in the lower house of the first Wyoming legislature.

ADVERTISEMENT. VITAL FACTS FOR WOMEN. Sooner or later almost every woman is brought to face with the fact that she is a victim of some weakness or ailment peculiar to her sex. It may be the young woman suffering from pain or irregularities, a mother who has brought on some weakness or displacement from over-work, or the middle aged woman passing through the most critical period of her life. For each of these trying periods Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved the greatest boon ever given to women, and there are women living in every town and city in the country who testify to its value.

Dakota Counties Named for Heroes

57 Named for Persons, Three for Sentiment, and Eight for Miscellaneous Reasons.

By Associated Press. Pierre, S. D., Feb. 7.—Tribute to heroic figures in the life of territory, state and nation has inspired the naming of a vast majority of counties of South Dakota, according to records of the department of history, completed only after a persistent search. Fifty-seven counties have been named for persons, three for pure sentiment and eight for miscellaneous reasons with emphasis on geographic features and Indian life. If the testimony of these county names be accepted legislators were the greatest heroes of South Dakota pioneer life, for names of this class predominate.

The naming of Aurora county is ascribed in the records to "sentiment." Department of history officials are of the opinion this may have inspired the title, "The Sunshine State," which now applies to the entire sisterhood of counties. Like sentiment prevailed in the christening of Bon Homme and Union counties. The former is a shortening of "Bon Homme Jacques," the French Uncle Sam.

Geography entered into the naming of four counties—Minnehaha in reminiscence of the one-time beauty of the Big Sioux Falls, Butte in token of the many distinctive hills in that section, Fall River after the stream of that name and Lake after the small native bodies of water.

Walworth is set down as a courtesy to a county of the same name in Wisconsin, while Yankton and Eagle preserve the names of Indian tribes.
