

Cagers From Capital Take Second Consecutive Drubbing From Omaha Teams

Central Downs Lincoln Cagers

by 26-18 Score Wally Marrow of Central Is Feature of Game With 15 Points to His Credit.

Coach Zip Hill's Central High cagers avenged the defeat handed them earlier in the season by Lincoln High yesterday afternoon on the Technical floor by walling the Capitals, 26 to 18.

Lincoln five had played a grilling game with the Tech. High quintet the night before, and were in no condition to withstand the Central attack.

Lincoln Wears Out. The Red and Black from the state capital were all in before the game had reached the half-way mark.

Central opened up after Brown scored the first goal, and baskets in rapid succession by Marrow and Church put the Purple to the front.

From then on the Omahans led, and although the outstates came within one point of Central in a third rally, they failed to tie the score.

The Central attack was centered around Wally Marrow, forward. He scored five field goals, two of them from the center of the floor, and a like number of free throws out of six tries.

Church Scores High. Church was next on the score sheet with seven markers.

Captain Lawson played a stellar guarding game, supplying the bulk of the Purple fight.

For the losers, the floor work of Acher and the goal tossing of Brown was featured. Captain Corrick was a tower of strength on defense.

The summary: Central, 26; Lincoln, 18.

Central: Wally Marrow, 15; Church, 7; Lawson, 7; Acher, 5; Brown, 4; Corrick, 3; Petterson, 2.

Lincoln: Brown, 7; Acher, 6; Ward, 5; Corrick, 4; Kahler, 3; Little, 3; Wittie, 2.

Referee: Ernie Adams (Omaha) under the clock. Time: 20 minutes. Free throws missed: Central, 2; Lincoln, 7.

Guarding and Teamwork of Coach Schabinger's Athletes Spell Ruin for Wisconsin Basketeers

Trio of Bluejays Display a Wonderful Defensive Game - Ike Mahoney Is Outstanding Star.

By RALPH WAGNER. Staff Correspondent The Omaha Bee. Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 8.—Creighton university's basket ball team, termed the "wonder team" of the middlewest, added more glory to its reputation here tonight when it defeated the Marquette university quintet by the score of 28 to 17 in the first of a two-game series.

The largest crowd that has ever watched the Marquette hoopsters in action on their own court was on hand when the Bluejays took the floor. Playing good teamwork and guarding like no other Creighton team has guarded, the Bluejays soon had the Marquette cagers in the palm of their hand, so to speak. Soon after the game started little Johnny Trautman scored from one free throw line and from the other, scoring 14 in the lead. The half ended 14 to 5.

Creighton not only shot more field goals than did the Hilltops of Milwaukee, but the Blue and White basketeers outguessed and outgarded the Marquette cagers. Time and again the defense of the local quintet crumbled under the whirlwind attack of Mahoney, Lovely and Trautman. Marquette also broke through the five-man defense of the Bluejays, but seldom did they get close enough to the baskets to register goals, so tight and close did the players from Omaha guard their man. Three times during the contest Creighton dribbled and passed through the entire Marquette net to drop the leather through the square under the basket and without a single Hilltopper in close range of the shooter.

Mahoney Stars. Scoring honors of the evening were shared by "Ike" Mahoney and Johnny Trautman, each scoring four field goals and a free throw. But of the two hoopsters Mahoney was the outstanding star of the game. It was his floor work and basket shooting that caused the Marquette followers to applaud for him more than once during the evening. Mahoney played his position tonight if he ever did, and even the Hilltop fans claim that he is the best basket ball player to ever grace the Marquette gymnasium floor. Trautman played well, as usual, but the locals were rangy players and Johnny is small, very small, but in spite of this, played a good game.

Two New Stars Uncovered in Athletic Meets

Goodwin and Acher, Sprinters, Perform in Likely Manner in Games Held in East.

New York, Feb. 9.—Bill Goodwin of New York city is a new star in the Olympic firmament. Bill isn't the prettiest runner in the world, but he has a potent faculty for covering the ground. There is a lot of waste motion in the way Bill manipulates his legs. He falls to grab all the aid he can acquire from his arms and shoulders and the nicer balancing of his torso, but Bill gets there, nevertheless.

Bill got there first in the Metropolitan one-mile championship three weeks back and he came within a faint whisper of getting there Saturday night, January 19, in his memorable race with Jole' Ray at the Fordham games. Had he started his first sprint a stride sooner, he would have sent the redoubtable Jole' to his second defeat in four days.

Joe his little to be cocky about as regards his recent visit here. H. Lloyd Hahn of the Boston A. A. failed to surrender a yard of the 20-yard handicap Jole' granted him and preceded the Chicagoan by fully 20 yards in crossing the finishing line in the Silk A. A. 1,500-meter run, and Goodwin's "almost victory" gave Jole' a worried look.

Goodwin was not the lone Fordham games performer who disclosed Olympic possibilities. Vernon Ascher, in winning the 440-handicap from scratch gave a very pitiful exhibition, and Tommy Campbell finishing second in the 500 and 600 yards from scratch, are a pair of middle distance men who must be reckoned as possible passport grabbers when the good ship America steams away on June 16. Ascher has a world of strength, a barrel of speed and showed an ability to apply it at just the right time. Tommy needs work. He has been twining his legs around classroom chairs and he has yet to shake the kinks out.

Ascher Is Newcomer. Ascher is but a newcomer to the game of track. His first real win was the national junior A. A. quarter mile crown on August 31, 1923. His running on the Stag field, Chicago, speedway on that afternoon so impressed Hugh Haddon, president and treasurer of the Wilco Athletic association, that he invited the new junior king to compete in the pre-Olympic games of the Wilco A. A. which took place at the Yankee stadium, September 8. Against a fast field, which included Jake Driscoll of the Boston A. A., the holder of world records for the 500 and 600 yards, and former intercollegiate and national A. A. quarter-mile champion, Ascher triumphed in a thoroughly impressive manner.

Dual meets have been scheduled with the local Y. M. C. A. Lincoln High school, Central High school and Creighton Prep. The Y. M. C. A. water churners will be engaged at Technical pool February 22. These meets will all point to the intercity meet to be held at the Omaha Athletic club some time in March.

Coach Hubbard has been sending his Maroons through their paces at the Technical tank for several weeks and has his men in fine condition. The team has not yet been picked, but shortly after the interclass meet to be staged next Friday at the Technical pool, Coach Hubbard will probably make his selections.

Leroy Lucas, Vernon Hudder, Bert Gaynor, Jack Foster, Irvin Nelson and Vincent Bazaar are letter men back from last year's team.

N. Y. Sportsman Finds Conditions at New Orleans Far From Perfect

New York, Feb. 9.—A northern sporting man who has just returned from New Orleans brings a doleful tale of his experience in the Crescent city. "No more winter racing for me at New Orleans!" he says. "I am glad to return to New York where I can enjoy real life and forget what has happened since I left here in November."

"In the first place, the weather conditions at New Orleans ever since racing began at Jefferson Park on Thanksgiving day have been fierce. There has been nothing but rain to make the track a sea of mud and drench one to the skin or sudden cold spells to cause numerous cases of sickness among the regulars."

"One of the leading bookmakers has just been an attack of double pneumonia by a miracle. Similar illness has driven many owners, trainers, layers and players away from New Orleans which seems to be steeped in hard luck this season."

"So called 'big money' is scarce and the bookmakers, burdened with heavy expenses, are bucking a tremendously hard game. In fact, most of them are losers and may not be able to get themselves out."

"During the Jefferson Park meeting the attendance was good and the betting lively despite the constant rain and mud. The admission rate was $2.20, which attracted hundreds of spectators who may patronize pool rooms rather than pay almost twice that sum to enter the Fair grounds."

"One of the few bright features of the winter meetings is the marvelous riding of Parke, the young jockey who is under contract to Harry Payne York tracks this year."

Hudkins and Strayer to Box for State Title

Golden Bear and Stanford to Fight for Right to Enter National Contests.

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—Facing the most ambitious spring sport programs in years, Stanford and University of California athletes are preparing for been battles to win the right to represent the Pacific coast in national championship events.

At Berkeley plans have been made not only to keep California in front in track and baseball, but to annex far-western crew honors.

Carroll Elbright of the University of Washington, who like Ed Egan of Yale, is a disciple of Coach Hiram Conbear, has been selected to put the Bears on the crew map.

Coach Walter Christie has more than 160 athletes out for track and California has its eyes fastened upon its four I. C. A. A. title, Captain Neufeld, Lang and Hurst are veteran performers around whom Christie will build his 1924 team.

At Palo Alto Coach Dick Templeton is planning more than a hundred trackmen through their paces, and Stanford will offer real competition to the Bears this spring. Ernie Nevers, Cardinal grid star, will compete in the discus, javelin and shot events.

California's track schedule includes the University of Southern California, March 22; University of Illinois, April 19, and to the National A. A. U. championships in Chicago in April.

Stanford and California wrestling and boxing teams will clash February 29, and swimming and tennis stars of the two universities will meet April 19.

Bedtime Story. Once upon a time there was a ball player who did not tell the manager that he was being given the worst of showing the upper classmen a good fight.

The services of a number of professional entertainers have been secured. The nature of the entertainment is being kept a secret, and Tom Dennison and Jones predict a wonderful time for all who attend.

All players and followers of amateur baseball are urged to attend the meeting.

Churches to Have Baseball League

Omaha church and Sunday School baseball teams will again have opportunity to play the national sport under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Director Weston announced yesterday that a meeting would be held the last of February to draft schedule.

The leagues will function on the same plan as last year. There will be two divisions of each circuit, a north league and a south league.

Games will be played Saturday afternoons, and many umpires will be provided. A franchise fee will be exacted from all entrants.

Twenty-three church and Sunday school nines got a chance to play the grand old game last year, and Director Weston expects even more teams to enter this season.

Teams playing in the church league last year and who will probably enter this year are: Walnut Hill, Olivet Baptist, Clifton Hill, Dietz Memorial, Wheeler Memorial, First Christians, M. E. Wops, Trinity Methodists, Pearl Memorial, Hirst Memorial, Plymouth Congregational, North Presbyterian and Castler Presbyterian.

Georgie Marks Receives Panning

New York, Feb. 9.—General criticism of Georgie Marks and his manager today followed the bout last night between Marks and Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion. The affair was advertised as a championship bout at 112 pounds but Marks weighed 116 1/2 pounds and the bout went on as a non-title attraction, Villa winning the decision easily.

Tiger Quintet Falls to Huskers

Columbia, Mo., Feb. 9.—The Cornhuskers had an easy time with the Missouri Tigers last night, winning by the score of 31 to 11. Cozier started the scoring in the early part of the game and the Nebraska men never headed. The first half ended with the Cornhuskers leading, 18 to 6.

Usher, Goodson and Beerke led the Cornhusker offense while Shiz kept the Tigers from doing effective work. The Missouri men were not given a chance to do much and what little they did they did poorly.

The Nebraska substituted the entire second team in the last half, and Coach Bond also sent in his reserve squad which worked even better than the first team.

Long shots from midcourt by the visitors sent the Missouri defense back into a position in which they could not play.

Eastern Turf Events to Attract Best of Nags in This Country

New York, Feb. 9.—Turfmen are beginning to enthuse over the unusual number of good horses that will be nominated for the rich handicaps to be run this year on the New York race tracks operated under the jurisdiction of the Jockey club.

The Suburban, Brooklyn and Empire City and Metropolitan handicaps, Big Blaze, Flagstaff, Nassau, Illino, Transmute and Beau Butler, Grey Lag is not the only distinguished cradle in this list that is expected to return to the races in first class condition.

When the Suburban, Brooklyn and Metropolitan were run at Sheepshead Bay, Gravesend and Morris Park, respectively, the weights were announced early in February with the result that speculation as to the winners covered a period of nearly four months. But in recent years the publication of the handicapper's estimates have been deferred until a few days before the final period ended the important races for the purpose of arranging the weights in accordance with the latest form of the entries.

The nominations for the Suburban, a feature of the Belmont park spring meeting, which have been received to date indicate the high quality of the probable starters in all the important handicaps. So far the Suburban has attracted the mighty Grey Lag, which is sure to receive top weight; the wonderful Zev, now a 4-year-old; Mad Hatter, Prince James, My Play, Martingale, Dunlin, Messenger, How Fair, Sting, Sun Flag, Cherry Pie, Exodus, Enchantment, Vigil, My Own, Mad Play, Diogenes, Bud Lercher, Ordinance, Sarazen, Stanwick, Underclap, Wise Counsellor, Big Blaze, Flagstaff, Nassau, Illino, Transmute and Beau Butler.

Coach Hubbard's Tech High Tankers Will Open Aquatic Season Friday

The 1924 Technical High swimming season starts off with a big splash next Friday afternoon. An interclass swimming meet, the first of its kind in Tech, will be held at the Cummer street pool.

Interest is high at the Maroon institution over the coming meet, and, from indications, a record breaking enrollment of swimmers will enter the meet.

The seniors look best. Led by the mighty Leroy Lucas, 200-pound shoulder cap the honors.

Bert Gayney, breast stroke artist who negotiates the 50 yards in less than 40 seconds; Vincent Bazaar, 100-yard free style specialist, who has been developing rapidly under the tutelage of Coach Hubbard, and Johnny Doorn, husky player, are the men the seniors are depending upon.

The Juniors have a pair of letter men in their camp, Vernon Hucker, 100-yard free style star, and Jack Foster, holder of the tri-tri-city freestyle diving championship, six capable of showing the upper classmen a good fight.

The strength of the freshmen and sophomores is unknown. Several underclassmen have been showing up to advance in practice but as yet are green and should not give the more experienced splashers any trouble.

Coach Hubbard, in charge of the meet, announces that this meet will be in the nature of an experiment to determine the most likely candidates for the Tech swimming squad.
