

Drama League
Bulletins the Denishawns

Mrs. Arthur Gilou, president of the Omaha Drama league, stated Friday that the league would bulletin the appearance of Miss Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn and their company of dancers at The Brandeis theater the nights of February 15, 20, sponsored by the local Altrusa club.

In its bulletins, the Drama league endeavors to serve as a theatrical guide to its members," said Mrs. Gilou. "The Denishawn dancers, representing as they do, a real achievement in American art, are worthy not only the note, but the support of the Drama League." Mrs. Gilou remarked.

Entirely different programs will be given at each of the Denishawn performances. Tuesday night, the numbers will be "The Spirit of the Sea," an elemental dance poem; "The Feather of the Dawn," a Pueblo pastoral; six diversions, concluding with "The Legend of the Peacock" by Miss St. Denis; "Cuadro Flamenco," a Spanish gypsy dance scene; "Ishtar of the Seven Gates," a mystic dance of Babylonia.

Wednesday night's program will feature music visualizations, a method of music interpretation unique with the Denishawns; a Spanish suite, "Noche," a dance drama based upon an ancient Toltec legend; an Oriental group including "China," "Crete," "India," "Siam," "Java," "Japan" and "Egypt."

The gorgeous costumes were designed by Miss St. Denis, Ted Shawn and Pearl Wheeler and executed at the Denishawn studio in New York City.

Miss Ennis Weds Tomorrow.

The marriage of Miss Laura Ennis, daughter of Mrs. Daniel R. Ennis, to David H. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wead, will be solemnized Monday night, 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother. The ceremony will be simple in detail. Mr. Bowman and his bride will go to the Grand Canyon for a short time, then on to California, where they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Wead for several weeks' visit on the coast.

Dainty Dancer Is Producer for Junior League Cabaret

Long since, Mrs. Lewis Burgess endeared herself to Omaha as a dainty dancer in Junior League Revues. At the league Mah Jongg ball this year, she will have opportunity to prove her talent in a new role, that of producer. Mrs. Burgess, seen here with her young son, Ward II, is chairman of cabaret features of the ball which will be given at the Brandeis April 25, 26. It will be a big social affair, not a benefit, and the public will be invited to attend. Cabaret and dancing will fill late evening hours and supper will be served after midnight. Mrs. Burgess is guaranteeing a "money's worth" cabaret, in which the league's most stunning girls will appear.

Miss Gladys Peters is chairman for the event, assisted by Miss Hilda Hammer. Mrs. Glenn Wharton has charge of reservations; Miss Claire Daugherty, of the cast; Mrs. Yale Holland, costumes, and Miss Erna Reed, properties.

Was It Congratulation or Condolence?

In the Language of Flowers, What Do Jonquils Mean
—A New Method for Taking European Travel—The Triangle Again.

By GABBY.

WERE flowers by way of congratulation or condolence?

Divorce proceedings of a very beautiful woman and her distant and erstwhile husband were announced some days ago. On the evening and the day thereof, a handsome bowl of saucy tulips gave a touch of gaiety to her apartment. Jonquils glowed in their place the following day.

Were they a note of spring and hope? Or merely evidence of a sympathetic friend?

Gabby admits she does not know. A widower or a bachelor, each a former king of Ak-Sar-Ben, might have sent them. Both are callers on this very charming woman, and the friendships date back to childhood days. Romance would seem rather appropriate and would certainly be thrilling whether she chose the substantial bachelor or the genial and much betwined widower.

Perhaps someone who knows the language of flowers will volunteer to interpret for Gabby.

ALTHOUGH it is maintained that the "Mechanical Age" which we are now enjoying is a great damper upon the "resourcefulness of individuals," and reformers cry out the requiem of the "fading home life," there are many Omahans who do find entertainment in their own living rooms almost nightly.

George McIntyre, as well known hosts for musical evenings and it is a joy to their friends when the invitations are extended and a four-some or sixsome forms the group. The bridge lamps burn frequently at the Halleck Rose home where Mr. and Mrs. Rose and a few friends usually a twosome, figure the ever intriguing bridge hand. The Charles Mortons, Jr., are Mah Jongg fans with radio intermissions and the C. C. Beldens find reading aloud the evening pleasure.

And so the bright lights of Douglas street, our "little Broadway" twinkle in vain for these home folk who are entertaining unto themselves.

WANTED to find: A woman who is not dieting, or a group of women anywhere who do not make "calories" the feature of a luncheon conversation.

A bachelor who returns social calls extended by his married friends. Anyone at all age, sex or color not a consideration, who refrains from saying upon entering a room where a grate fire burns, "A fireplace is so cozy!"

The person who doesn't say "My finesses never work" or "She doesn't take a good photograph." It's her animation that makes her so attractive!

Someone who can pay a compliment without saying, "Don't you love it!"

A feminine who can show a piece of her own jewelry without commenting: "But it is dirty, I must have it cleaned."

WHAT day, or what newspaper, would be complete without at least one bright saying from some child?

Not this one, at least. It happened at a school in Guide Rock, Neb., and in one of the lower grades.

"What is the capital of Nebraska?" teacher asked the proverbial Johnnie. "N," replied the resourceful child brightly, and—we contend, correctly.

The latest trisided figure coming to our notice, involves two men and a woman. The woman was formerly the wife of one of the angles and is now married to the other. The setting is sunny California.

The divorce between the couple of

The first part, took place in Omaha some years ago. The husband was prominent in theatrical circles. After severing his official connections here a year ago, he journeyed to California. Visiting members of his family, a daughter to be exact, he met husband number 2, and forthwith liked him.

Now we have it that the two men are chums and the middle-aged three inseparable. Perhaps the years melt and soften the heart after all.

Returning Actress to Be Entertained.

Mrs. A. V. Shotwell is awaiting the arrival of Miss Florence Fair, who comes on February 21 with the Southern Marlowe company, to complete her plans to honor Miss Fair during her engagement here. Miss Fair has visited Omaha before, having played the lead in "The Bat" two seasons ago when she was much entertained and complimented upon her charm and beauty.

Children's Party.

Mrs. C. M. Ward entertained 12 little guests at her home Friday honoring the 12th birthday anniversary of her daughter, Corinne. George Washington decorations were used.

The Late Mrs. Barrows in Chaplin Picture.

Friends of the late Mrs. Benjamin Barrows have been seeing her this week in the Charlie Chaplin picture, "A Woman of Paris," at the Sun theater. Mrs. Barrows lived in Omaha for many years. Since the death of her husband 12 years ago she has made her home in Los Angeles and the movies have been a pastime for her. She was very striking in appearance. Her role in the Chaplin picture was that of "the richest old maid in Paris." Mrs. Barrows died last September.

Mrs. Harry Nicholson of Omaha, daughter of Mrs. Barrows, had hoped to have her mother visit her; this winter. "It is strange she comes in a picture instead of in life," said Mrs. Nicholson.

City Concert Club.

Mrs. A. V. Kinsler, Miss Blanche Sorenson, Edith May Miller and Heister Dickson Copper are taking reservations for the City Concert club luncheon, Brandeis restaurants, Monday, 12:15. Plans will be made for music week. Election of officers.

Valentine Supper Dance.

Mrs. Max Fraumkin will entertain 22 guests at the St. Valentine supper dance at the Brandeis restaurant.

Prenuptial Affairs for Miss Meierjurgan.

Miss Bernice Meierjurgan is to be entertained at many prenuptial affairs during the next two weeks. On Monday, February 11, Mrs. Richard Dallman entertains at a handkerchief shower at her home. Tuesday, February 12, Mrs. John Davidson, who is to be Miss Meierjurgan's matron of honor, will be hostess at a bridge party of 12, and a miscellaneous shower. Wednesday, February 13, Miss Helen Stoltenberg entertains with a shower and Kensington. On Thursday, February 14, Mrs. Russell Bailey entertains at bridge. February 16, Mrs. Richard Giller will be hostess at a bridge party for 12, and in the evening Miss Edith Willbrandt will entertain at bridge.

Valentine Day at Nursery.

Valentine's Day will be observed at the Omaha Day Nursery in charge of Junior League girls.

Amateur Musical President
on Fine Arts Program

Eugenie Whitmore Dinkins will appear on the program presented by the Amateur Musical club at the Omaha Society of Fine Arts galleries in the public library this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The public is invited to attend. There is no charge.

Mrs. Dinkins will play "Novelette," by Schumann, and "Left Hand Etude," by Foote. She will also assist Mrs. Conrad Young and Miss Von Mansfeld in trio numbers, for violin, cello and piano. Mrs. Harry Steel and Mrs. Harry Nicholson will sing solo numbers, and Mrs. Young will play a violin group.

President of the Amateur Musical club this year is Mrs. Dinkins. Her mother, the late Mrs. H. P. Whitmore, was one of the organizers of this musical organization.

Mrs. Dinkins leaves Thursday for a short visit in the east. In Washington she will visit Mrs. Harry A. Williams, formerly Miss Marthena Harrison of Omaha.

Mrs. Katherine Reynolds, and her father, E. M. Reynolds, returned Friday from New York. The short skirts are back. Miss Reynolds assures us. Suits will be popular, with short boyish style coats. Materials run to plaidness and a great deal of navy blue will be worn. Miss Reynolds says "The Miracle" is the most popular play in New York and holds the interest to the end.

Phi Delta Psi.

Phi Delta Psi will entertain at luncheon Saturday at the Brandeis restaurants.

Feast

I drank at every vine,
The last was like the first.
I came upon no wine
So wonderful as this.

I gnawed at every root,
I ate of every plant,
I came upon no fruit
So wonderful as want.

Feed the grape and bean
To the vintner and monger;
I will lie down lean
With my thirst and my hunger.
