MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 14.—Joe Jackson, former outfielder of the Chicago club of the American league, and plaintiff in suit for $18,500 for alleged breach of contract, was placed under arrest by Judge John J. Gregory, in circuit court here shortly after 6 p. m. today.

Judge Gregory's action was taken shortly after the jury had heard the testimony in the suit referred to consider the evidence. The bailiff had just turned the key in the door of jury room when the court rapped for order and asked Jackson to come to the witness stand.

Madison Square
Garden Suspended
by Commission

New York, Feb. 14.—Because the public was not notified until a few hours before the bout last Friday night between Pancho Villa and Georgia Marks it would not be a championship affair because Marks was four pounds overweight, the management of Madison Square Garden, where the bout was held, will be unable to conduct a boxing program arranged for February 25.

This was the chief suspension of a batch issued yesterday by the reorganized state athletic commission. The commission alleged, though Tex Rickard, manager of the Garden, denied it, that the promoter had failed to keep sufficiently in touch with the fighters to know whether the fight would involve a title, as it was billed to do, and that he had not actually received the required $2,500 weight forfeit.

South Five to Play
Thomas Jefferson

Coach Patton has been drilling his team all week, and the South High Packers are in tip-top shape for their tussle tonight, with the Thomas Jefferson High five of Council Bluffs. Roy Hoden has been steadily improving and is expected to start at center in place of Captain Wedberg, who is slated to play forward. The other forward position will probably be handled by Wakefield, Smith or Bernhardt. Wakefield, at present, seems like the best bet as Wedberg's running mate. Joe Reeves and Clark have been working together at guard like well-oiled parts of a machine, and are putting up a strong front against the opposing quints.

The second stringers are also showing up and expect to win from the strong Central High second team, in the preliminary tonight. The substitutes held the first stringers to an 8 to 4 score in 25 minutes of scrimmage last night. The seconds will play a return game with Waterloo High next Tuesday.

The seconds had previously defeated the Waterlootes, 24 to 13, and it is reported that the Waterloo quintet is out for blood. Coach Loxvry expects to use the following men in the game: Fitch and King, forwards; Kalstrom, center; and Urban, Harding and Bell, guards.

Husker Mat Men
to Meet Ames Stars

Lincoln, Feb. 14.—University of Nebraska's wrestling team showed off today for Ames, where the Husker strappers engage the Ames matmen in a dual meet Friday. Neither team has been defeated in the western intercollegiate conference, and for several years Ames has won from Nebraska in the mat sport.

This year both teams are comparatively "green," and an effort to stack them up prior to the meet has been impossible. Nebraska has a victory over Northwestern, and Ames has won from Minnesota. The western intercollegiate standings:

Track Prospects
Good at South

More likely looking track prospects are turning out every night at South High. The regular tracksters are rapidly getting into condition and will soon be showing up in their old form. Prospects for a banner season are held, if the early turnout is to be taken into consideration. Never in the history of South High has so large a squad turned out so early in this season.

Captain Townsend, Gilbert Kurtz and Wedberg are showing up the best in the shot put and discus. The hurdle honors are being contested by Whalarik, Kruljcek, Wakefield and Curran. No sprints or any type of running has been started, but these activities are expected to get under way next week.

Numerals Awarded
to Husker Athletes

Lincoln, Feb. 14.—With four numerals already won and 30 other track athletes with points to their credit, the 1924 track numeral roll competition among "Indian" Schulte's cinder artists promises to surpass all previous years in the number of numerals won and the number of men competing.

Everett Krites 'N' man, and holder of the Nebraska record in the 220 low hurdle was the first man to win his numeral. Other Husker tracksters who have earned their numerals are Wiperman, Al Bloodgood, and Dean Higgins. Wiperman earned the emblem by his performances in the 660-yard run and the quarter mile. Bloodgood won the numeral by making fast time in the 50-yard dash and the 440-yard run. Higgins stepped off the quarter in 56 seconds and the half in 2:07.2. His performance gave him 22 points, whereas only 12 points are required for a numeral.

Nyikos Quits College.

Bloomington, Ind.—A stunning Indiana university basketball team when it became known that Mike Nyikos, star forward and a premier goal shooter of the Western conference, had withdrawn and returned to his home at South Bend on account of scholastic standing.

With the Northwestern and Ohio games close at hand, Coach Mann is trying out Ricketts, a new man, at the position.

Girl Driver of Dog
Sledge Team Ready
for Annual Relay

Ashton, Ida., Feb. 14.—Lydia Hutchison, girl driver of the Canadian champion dog sledge team, accompanied by Trainer Shorty Husk and J. B. Bancroft, arrived here today from LePas, Manitoba, with her team to compete in the American dog derby, to be held here February 22. Miss Hutchison has driven her dog team to victory at LePas, Manitoba, Banff, Alberta, and Quebec this winter, and has hopes of winning the championship of the big derby here.

believe it or not

HAROLD SOBOTKER is known as a sure shot among his friends. He never goes hunting but what he brings in close to the limit and stands out among them as one of the few hunters whose birds are never badly shot up. In fact, most of Harold's birds don't even bleed.

Harold don't brag about it, but his never failing gun with its queer looking extra long shells, caused them to investigate.

The story is that Harold has had made some extra long shells, twice as long as Super X. He loads them himself and instead of shot uses lethal gas. Friends say that Harold can gas a bird 50 yards away and with one shot often gets 10 or 15 ducks out of a flock.

Harold denies the story and states that it is his eagle eye and unerring aim which brings in the mallards.

"Lethal gas," says Harold, "the other ducks like to see me when they see my eye. I usually wait until they fire and miss, then I fire and kill, and instead of lethal gas I use No. 6 shot."

Believe it or not, says Harold, "Harold's ducks don't bleed and they fall in flocks. One hunter declared that Harold fired at a duck on the right side of the blind and that a flock coming in from the left curled up and died."

"And I've never seen shot go around a corner," says the friend.

Paris, Feb. 14.—Marcell Nilles, the French heavyweight fighter, last night knocked out Larry Gains, Ontario, Canada, in the third round.

Loyalty--The Most Important Word in Athletics

By Ed Hughes

THE savants of the Princeton faculty have at last decided that the most important word in the English language is "loyalty." Whether or not this is true, the decision of these erudite minds is interesting. Perhaps loyalty is the most important thing we have to deal with after all. For, to use a double-barreled argument in its behalf, one might rattle off in proving that most of life's disasters can be blamed to lack of loyalty. Say, for instance, the weakening of loyalty to one's natural gifts, a shaken faith, or something of the sort.

What is the most important word in athletics, the sport world? Is it "speed," "condition," "brains," "natural ability"—or is it "loyalty" here too? The writer passes that one along to the savants, the wisecracks of sport. We have no candle of enlightenment at hand whose rays can pierce the darkness that envelops that quiz. But one can see, nevertheless, that loyalty plays a decent, respectable part in athletic achievement just the same.

Dempsey's success in the ring has much to do with loyalty. Loyalty, after all, is closely linked with faith in something, confidence in a belief, or in one's self.

The good old knockout jolt without loyalty is the keynote of Dempsey's success in many ways than one. Better than most scrappers I have ever met he realizes the supreme value of taking care of himself. His dispositions are comparatively mild. Dempsey exercises a little every day. In this he is loyal to his natural talents. The faith in his knockout wallop never lacks the essential support of prime physical condition.

Loyalty, however, is sometimes the agent of ruin. Which is more power by the way. It brought Jess Willard down when it carried Dempsey on high at Toledo. Willard was loyal to an exaggerated belief in his own fantastic superiority over everybody. He couldn't bring himself to believe any man could knock him down, let alone a smaller individual like Dempsey.

Jess was half-trained, strange to the ring after years of idleness. Yet he had a wild, crazy conceit, faith in his great bulk and punch that brought humiliation for him.

Dempsey knocked him down twice in the first round, and massacred him in three. Beware of loyalty to an exaggerated ego!

Tech High to Play
Bluffs Tonight

Technical High Maroons travel across the big muddy tonight to tangle with the Abraham Lincoln high quintet on the Auditorium floor. The game will be called at 8 o'clock.

The Drummonds will make the invasion minus the services of "Buck" Crab, stellar Maroon forward and regular teammate of "Swede" Charquist. "Buck" is flunking in accounting and will ineligible for tonight's fracas.

Coach Drummond will probably elect to start the terrible Lester Boder in Crab's place. Boder will be remembered as the fighting fool who came very nearly upsetting Creighton Preps' chances for the city title last Saturday night on the Technical floor.

Lester played a bangup game against the junior Bluejays, and was the center of the fight throughout the contest.

Kenneth Othmer, rangy sub forward, is another possibility for the vacant berth. He looked like a comer in the Columbus clash, but fell from his perch with a decided flop in the Lincoln and Creighton skirmishes.

Swanson and Holm are in good condition, while Captain Zust is fit for a fight as ever.

The Tech seconds battle the Abraham Lincoln seconds in a preliminary contest, so Coach Drummond will have an abundance of material on hand for the main event.

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 14.—Billy McCarey, American representative of Luis Firpo, was quoted today as declaring Pennsylvania stood ready to receive the proposed Willis-Firpo bout next July with open arms. He has been informed, it is said, that Pennsylvania officials, including the secretary of state and attorney general, were in favor of the bout.

"The town most favored," McCarey said, is Morrisville, opposite Trenton, N. J., on the Delaware river."

February 24, both in 15-round matches, did little hard training until the arrival of Hugh Gartland, his New York representative. Most of his important workouts have taken place under Gartland's direction in the private gymnasium of his friend and patron, Felix Bung.

The trouble with his left arm, which bothered him when he fought Jack Dempsey, has entirely disappeared, he says, and he is using it freely now. Firpo's sparring partners include two American negroes, Joe Boylen and Calvin Respasser, well known in pugilistic circles of several South American countries.

Paris.—Marcel Nilles, French heavyweight, knocked out Larry Gains, Ontario, Canada, in the third round.

Conference Lead at Stake.

Lincoln, Feb. 15.—Leadership in the Nebraska College conference basketball race will be at stake tonight when Nebraska Wesleyan and Peru Normal basketball teams meet at University Place, a suburb.

Wesleyan has won four conference games and Peru has taken three contests. The latter team has met defeat at the hands of a state college team this season.

Doane Saturday

The University of Omaha Maroon quintet, fresh from handing a bitter dose of defeat to Midland last Tuesday night, is determined to turn the trick again when the Doane College lads invade the north Omaha court tonight.

Jack Polendahl may be out of the fight with a strained knee received in the Midland game, but the rest of the team are in great shape and expect to give the Crete Blues a battle that will bring the victory home.

The team showed up better against Central High in scrimmage last night than in a long time, and their offense gives promise of scattering a few thrills Saturday night.

Coach Adams announced he is not yet satisfied with the work of his team, and intends sending the men through one more stiff workout before tomorrow night. He is requiring every man on the team to shoot 50 free throws before the game, the same tactic having been very successful before the game with Midland, when 10 out of 16 chances were made.
