year, when the amount was also exceptionally heavy.

January Steel Output.

An increase in January steel output had been foreshadowed, but the gain of about 17 per cent, exceeded most expectations. The estimated production for all companies, last month was practically 3,569,099 tons, or an annual rate of 41,465,090 tons, and current operations at not much below those of last August. Thus far, February has brought a further increase in buying in some districts, notably in Chicago, and most prices, are firmly held, though concessions have not wholly disappeared. In pig fron, such price changes as have occurred have been in the direction of advance, and additional orders of size have been placed in Philadelphia territory. Yet pig fron prices, despite the recent rise, are still several dollars a ton below those of a year ago.

Financial News

New York, Feb. 17.—Although the oil investigations and the consequent epidemic of gossip finally made a marked impression on speculative sentiment and speculative markets during last week, optimistic views with regard to the business situation continued to be held in the banking and industrial circles. That were also also to the held in the sharpest treak since the current rise started in November. Cotton broke through the January lows and seld at a level above 5 cents below the high for the crop year, and wheat lost approximately 4 cents of its recent 6-cent rise.

Industrial news meanwhile was considered encouraging. The steel industry is operating at a rate some 5 per centabove the average for last year and prices continus firm.
