Rohrer, Bryan and Endres Hit by Dry Complaint

"Samardick Only Dry Sleuth on Job at Omaha," Claim of Faction Seeking Removal of Director.

Discharge of U. S. Rohrer, federal prohibition director for Nebraska, was demanded Thursday by Elmer Thom as, secretary of the "Committee of 5000," in a conference with Senator Coorge W. Norris in Washington.

Thomas, according to dispatches declared that not only Rohrer, but also Governor Bryan and Sheriff Undres have been grossly negligent in prohibition enforcement. Thomas was formerly a warm supporters of Bryan and Endres.
"There are at least 1,000 foreigners

Praises Samardick. Asked whether Robert Samardick has done good work, he replied, "Yes, but he is only one man.'

When informed that Federal Prohi bition Comissioner Roy Haynes was scheduled to stop in Omaha Thursday, Thomas rushed to a telegraph office and wired W. T. Graham in Omaha, asking him and other prohibition workers to call on Haynes here and urge the dismissal of Rohrer.

"I am only afraid Haynes' visit to Omaha may be forestalled in some manner," said Thomas.

Rohrer's Office Locked.

U. S. Rohrer was not in his office this morning. His private office was locked. Inquiry at his home brought no information of his whereabouts. At his office some stated he was there Wednesday; others declared they hadn't seen him. Last Tuesday he left early, saying he was going out of town, but not telling where. "Bob" Samardick left Wednesday for St. Louis to be a witness in liquor cases. Prohibition workers here who for merly were supporters of Rohrer have recently criticized him severely for failure to produce results. Rohrer's defense has been that his office is

'pare Us 15 Minutes" Plea; "Leaving Soon," His Reply.

Ghided by U. S. Rohrer around the rear end of the train and down the east end of the baggage room at Union station, United States Prohibi tion Commissioner Haynes entered Omaha at 12:40 Thursday noon.

The effort to avoid dry workers, who had been notified by Elmer Thomas from Washington to see Haynes and impress on him the de-sirability of removing Rohrer from his office as prohibition director for W. T. Graham and J. Dean Ringer sprinted from the front end of the train, down between other trains, splashing through snow and slush and arriving at the rear of the bagrage room just as Mr. Rohrer had engaged a taxicab.

. Leaving Soon. Taking no notice of Rohrer, they introduced themselves to the com missioner, and also to H. N. Duncan of Minneapolis, prohibition divis "Can you give us 15 minutes fo

a conference?" asked Graham.
"I am unable to say. I am leaving soon," said the commissioner. 'When do you leave?"

"I don't know yet." Eventually the two Omahans and Haynes and Duncan stepped aside and conferred for a moment. Then Rohrer, Haynes and Duncan departed in the taxi. Met by Rohrer.

"I have nothing to say regarding possible changes," said Haynes. "I haven't yet looked into the case. We consider Rohrer a good man. We consider Samardick a good man, I am going on to Denver from here," Robrer is absolutely incompetent," said Graham later. Mr. Rohrer wen up the line last night and met the train on which Haynes came, conferring with him enroute. Mr. Haynes had merely noti-fied Mr. Rohrer that he would armusic.
