

Congress Honors Memory of Late Warren Harding

Memorial Address Delivered by Secretary Hughes in House Chamber; Mrs.
Harding Attends.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Congress laid aside legislative business today to pay tribute to the memory of Warren G. Harding.

The house and senate joined in memorial services, held in the house chamber, with Secretary Hughes as the only speaker and President Coolidge, his cabinet, supreme court justices and foreign diplomats in attendance.

In a gallery opposite the speakers rostrum, with a small group of friends, sat Harding's widow. Elsewhere in the crowded gallery were men and women of prominence, among them Mrs. Coolidge, joining in the simple impressive ceremonies.

The memorial service, beginning shortly after noon, lasted a little more than an hour. After a prayer by the Rev. J. Shea Montgomery, the house chaplain, Hughes read an address in which he sketched Harding's career and referred to his accomplishments in public life.

As the galleries filled and distinguished officials took their seats the Marine band in the speakers lobby played hymns that were favorite of the late president. After the secretary of state had delivered his eulogy and the benediction had been pronounced by the Rev. J. J. Murr, chaplain of the senate, the band played one more religious air, "Lead Kindly Light."

Secretary Hughes concluded his tribute to Harding with the observation that he "gave his life to his country."

At one juncture in his address Hughes referred to Coolidge and his accession to the presidency. Recalling the death of Harding the speaker said that, "Without a moment's uncertainty or confusion a new and skillful helmsman took his place at the wheel and the ship of state responding to his sure guidance held on its course."

Creston Couple Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Columbus, Neb., Feb. 27.—Fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Freyermuth of Creston was celebrated today. The occasion was doubly significant in the fact that it was also the 15th wedding anniversary of Charles Freyermuth, their son.

Louis Freyermuth and Amelia Schreiber were married at Muscatine, Ia., where they lived for eight years. From Muscatine the family moved to a farm near Leigh, Neb., and resided there four years. In 1888 it was decided to take up a homestead in Sheridan county, where they lived until the dry years came along and forced their removal to Stanton county. This was their home until nine years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Freyermuth retired from active farm life and came to Creston.

To Mr. and Mrs. Freyermuth were born four children—Mrs. Anna Hamlett of Edgewood, Ia.; Mrs. Carrie Mestor of Betherville, Ia.; Charles Freyermuth of Creston, and Mrs. Mabel Goering of Humphrey. They have 18 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Elgin Voters Are Unable to Agree on School Site

Elgin, Neb., Feb. 27.—Three hundred voters meeting in the community building discussed two proposed sites for a new high school building. Six ballots were taken with neither side being able to muster the necessary two-thirds majority. At 2 in the morning, the meeting adjourned until March 5, when the question again will be discussed. The district has voted and sold bonds for $70,000 for constructing the building and now the voters are unable to choose a building spot.

Says Indigestion Results From an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.

Omaha Business Men Urged to Support Dairy Promotion in Booklet Issued by Acorn Press

Handsome Folder Devotes Space to State's Fundamental Industries—Agriculture and Dairying.

The campaign for the promotion of the dairy industry in Nebraska is growing in strength daily. Having its inception in Omaha, and backed by the Chamber of Commerce, it is only natural that the progressive business concerns of Omaha should be enthused.

One of the most valuable contributions to the literature of the campaign is furnished by the Acorn Press in the shape of a handsomely printed folder dealing with two subjects closely allied, "Agriculture, the Pastmaster in Nebraska," and "The Milk Cow Is Queen in Nebraska."

The Acorn Press issues a monthly folder known as The Acorn. It is always a work of art. This is true in increased measure of the most recent issue of this folder because it combines rare artistic beauty with a comprehensive though brief reference to Nebraska's fundamental industries—agriculture and dairying.

Dependent Upon Farming.

"Upon agriculture all other industries of the middle west depend," says The Acorn. "The sooner we fully realize this fact, the sooner we will be able to regain our lost ground and return to normal conditions. Is there any business in Omaha that is independent of agriculture? As this is the fact of the matter, it behooves every one of us concerned with the future success of Omaha to face the facts and do what we can to assist the farmer, the livestock breeder and the dairymen to 'come back.' This result cannot be obtained through vague promises of something helpful in the future, but must come through definite suggestions and actual help that will assist the farmer to make more money for himself. Just where to begin is a problem that must be solved by each individual industry through the channels with which such industry is most familiar. That the farmer did not give up the conflict a year or more ago is positive proof that he has qualities which are not to be found in ordinary business enterprises outside of agriculture. Let's help the farmer, lend him a hand so he may get back 'on top' again, and in so doing we will indirectly help ourselves. The milk and cow campaign now in progress should receive our unstinted support, for it is a long step in the right direction. Where the milk cow is, there agriculture flourishes. The very attractiveness of this brochure will lend an emphasis to the message it contains, and the message as above quoted should have a direct appeal to every business institution throughout the entire state.

But it is the message concerning Bossie Cow that carries the real "punch" and which is worthy of reproduction in every newspaper in Nebraska. The more it is impressed upon the public mind, the greater will be the impetus to the dairying campaign. Under the caption, "The Milk Cow Is Queen in Nebraska," The Acorn sends forth the following:

"The popular slogan, 'Corn Is King in Nebraska,' may well be coupled with another slogan, 'The Milk Cow Is Queen in Nebraska.' Speaking in aggregate terms of millions of dollars for milk and butter in Nebraska is perhaps above the conception of the ordinary individual, and few business men themselves comprehend the fact that such is the income of the humble milk cow.

Truth Borne Out.

The truth of The Acorn's assertion is borne out by a study of the financial reports from Minnesota and Wisconsin, states where the dairy industry has been highly developed.

Other phases of the dairying industry as allied with agriculture, are emphasized in the brochure. Says The Acorn:

"Milk is one farm crop which does not rob the soil of plant food. The crops of corn and alfalfa for which Nebraska farms are famous when fed to the milk cow bring back profits which may be figured in hundreds of per cent over what they would bring on the market as corn and alfalfa."

The Acorn also calls attention to the byproducts, always worth considering. Skimmed milk may be fed fresh to calves and weaning pigs, or it may be converted into cottage cheese and fed to poultry with wonderful results. And to the cream check the Acorn pays the following deserved tribute:

"Within the last two years especially the cream check has meant more to the farmer than any other income, and in many cases is the only income he has enjoyed. The cream check is practically all profit and the byproducts have a value which is difficult to compute in dollars and cents, but any practical farmer will say that they are indispensable on the diversified farm. Let's give the milk cow her just due and credit to her account the major share of the praise she deserves."

The city of Omaha is not only anxious but willing to promote the dairy industry in Nebraska, and its business men are heartily committed to furthering the present campaign for the promotion of the industry. All who are interested—and every worthwhile citizen is interested—would do well to secure from The Acorn Press a copy of The Acorn dedicated to agriculture and dairying. Handsome enough, artistic enough, in fact, to be worthy of preservation among art treasures, this issue of The Acorn is doubly valuable because of its timely contribution to the campaign.

Mothers!

Give the Children
WRIGLEY'S after every meal

The following is from a recent work on teeth and health:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth. . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

You know how hard it is to get the children to clean their teeth. By giving them WRIGLEY'S you not only reward them for cleaning their teeth, but the reward is actually the means of performing this important service!

WRIGLEY'S is a benefit and a pleasure combined. It serves two purposes—and its cost is very small.

Aids digestion, too, and acts as an antiseptic wash for the mouth and throat.

Choice of several flavors—all of WRIGLEY'S quality, standard of the world.

The Flavor Lasts.
