

Commissioner to Rule on Cream Rates to Omaha

Examiner Money Here Investigating Through Tariff Cancellations—Means 5,000 Cans a Year to Omaha.

Hearing to determine whether the Northwestern railroad is justified in canceling through rates on cans of cream shipped from points in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota to Omaha and destinations west was opened yesterday in the federal building here.

ADVERTISMENT. COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germs. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

fore Examiner Money, interstate commerce commission. The cream is being shipped by way of the American Railway Express company. Instructions were issued last fall by the railroad to the express company that through rates were discontinued. Tariff was suspended at the protest of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, through its traffic bureau. If the railroad ruling is held justifiable, Omaha's receipt of cream will be cut by more than 5,000 cans a year, according to C. E. Child, head of the Omaha bureau. The express company, through its attorney, A. M. Hartung, declared itself willing to bring cream into Omaha, but its contract with the railroad gives the latter the right to refuse to carry this kind of material. W. Y. Wildman, attorney for the railroad, declared that the road was not making enough revenue from the shipment of cream and would rather see the commodity shipped to local points on originating lines than to Omaha.

Western Nebraska Is Goods Roads Advocate

Chadron, Neb., March 10.—That the Blue Pole highway will prove an asset to both ranchers and business men in the northwest portion of the state was emphasized at a meeting held here at which prominent road men of the state were present. Arthur J. Bowering, Cherry county commissioner and president of the Blue Pole Highway association, was the principal speaker. Mr. Bowering pointed out that the difficulties encountered in building a road through the sand hill region are not as formidable as depicted and cited specific instances of successful road construction. He stated that Cherry county successfully constructed roads at an expense of slightly more than $100 a mile, while roads constructed a few years ago by private contractors cost $1,600 a mile.

Sleuth Slain by Woman.

Los Angeles, March 10.—Detective Lieutenant F. L. Pratt, 45, of the Los Angeles police department, was shot and killed here late last night by Mrs. Mildred Pearl Lloyd, 32, divorced wife of L. P. Schutz, who then ended her life by drinking poison, according to the police.

Strong Opposition Faces Underwood in His Home State

Primaries in Southern States Will Be More Decisive This Year, Declares Sullivan.

By MARK SULLIVAN. Washington, March 10.—We have now reached the beginning of the presidential primaries. The unusual fact this year is that democratic primaries and ones in southern states are more decisive and important than the early ones in northern states. The first of these southern democratic primaries is in Alabama, March 11. Alabama is Senator Underwood's home state. If by any chance Underwood should fail to carry the primaries of his home state, it would be at least a serious handicap, and possibly a fatal one. Apparently the Underwood organization realizes this, and while they have plans all ready to go forward on a large scale throughout the country, they have refrained from putting these plans into effect until after they see Tuesday's results in Alabama.

Situation Is Unusual. Ordinarily it is most unusual for a man to be opposed in his own state and by his own people. But in the case of Alabama and Underwood, several circumstances have combined to bring about this unusual kind of opposition. Some months ago, Senator Underwood's friends in the Alabama legislature passed an act designed to make it difficult for any candidate from outside the state to make a fight for the state's delegates. The most extraordinary feature of this statute was a provision that if a native of Alabama should win the primary he would have the right to name the delegates to the national convention by his personal dictate. Apparently some persons in Alabama felt that this was rather overzealous on the part of Underwood's friends. At that time it was regarded partly as a means of protecting Underwood from the then possible opposition of Henry Ford, for whom there was some sentiment in Alabama. This taking away from the people and from the ordinary local party committees and conventions, of the right to select delegates to the national convention caused much resentment and is the prime cause of the arising of local opposition to Underwood. Labor Is Unfriendly. The other sources of the opposition to Underwood in his home state are based on the fact that organized labor in the state is unfriendly to him; and on the senator's opposition some years ago to woman suffrage and to prohibition.

Victory Predicted. In spite of all this, the judgment of those best informed in Washington is that Underwood should win on Tuesday. The chief factor in this assumption lies in the fact that the only opponents of Underwood in these primaries are local Alabama men, and their opposition must necessarily be for the sake of opposition only. It is assumed in Washington that the people of Alabama must know what the national political leaders realize, namely, that these local men running against Underwood are not really presidential candidates in this sense. If they should defeat Underwood they would not thereafter figure in the national race, and the only result of their success would be the negative one of removing Senator Underwood from the race, or at least handicapping him severely. Under these circumstances, it is assumed that the local Alabama leaders and the people of Alabama will be moved by state pride not to take the action which would eliminate the only person in Alabama who has any real chance. Georgia Is Next. After Alabama, the next democratic primary will come in Georgia on Wednesday of next week. In Georgia there will be a hard fight between Underwood and McAdoo. In this case, as throughout the country, Underwood's friends seem to be disposed to wait until after the Alabama result is known. If the results in Alabama on Tuesday are favorable to Underwood, the latter's friends will then put in a week of the hardest kind of work in Georgia. McAdoo's friends will be equally energetic. McAdoo is expected to arrive in the state in person from California on Friday morning of this week, and put in four days of hard campaigning. McAdoo's friends in Washington, and the national leaders devoted to his cause, attach importance to this Georgia primary. If McAdoo carries it, that result will be interpreted as giving great momentum to the restoration of McAdoo to his former momentum in the race.

McAdoo's friends received the results of Saturday's Missouri primaries as a favorable sign for McAdoo, Senator Reed, a native of the state, and his friends, made an extraordinary effort. The fight was composed largely of bitter attacks by Reed on McAdoo. That Reed failed is held to forecast his retirement from the race throughout the country, and to give corresponding encouragement to the nation-wide fight in behalf of McAdoo.

Warmer on Tuesday, With Fair Weather, Is Forecast Rising temperature Tuesday was the official weather forecast predicted by M. V. Robins, government meteorologist. The weather will remain fair for an indefinite period of time, according to Mr. Robins. In Omaha it was 21 above at 7 Monday morning, with 29 above at the coldest during Sunday night. North Platte was the coldest point in the state, with 2 above at 7. The Local Lat Editor has nothing else to do but read his mail. Send your jokes to him and perhaps you'll be one of the prize winners.

Democrats Try to Block Omaha Bank

Howell and Sears Meet Objection to Building Appropriation for Building Here.

By P. C. POWELL. Washington Correspondent The Omaha Bee. Washington, March 10.—Senator R. B. Howell and Congressman Willis G. Sears today met democratic opposition to the plan for a new federal reserve building at Omaha directly across the street from the Omaha postoffice. The opposition was centered around Congressman Stevenson of Virginia, a member of the house banking and currency committee. Senator Howell and Congressman Sears appeared before that committee today to urge a favorable report on the $550,000 authorization bill for a new building passed by the senate last week. Stevenson asserted it was bad policy to spend any great amount of money for branch banks, saying many other cities which didn't have banks were demanding them and in time location of certain banks might be changed. Senator Howell showed the immense amount of business done by the Omaha bank to disprove that at any time a change would be made in location of the bank serving the Omaha territory.

Congressman Ayres, democrat, of Wichita, reopened the old Wichita Kansas City reserve bank fight and pointed out the claim of Wichita that it needed a branch bank. He refused to fight the claim of the Omaha and Denver interests who desired new bank buildings, merely pointing out that the federal reserve board was much more generous with Omaha and Denver than with Wichita. The committee deferred action on the authorization resolution until a complete outline of business done by the Omaha and Denver banks was obtained.

Council to Consider Changes in Charter

City council will meet in special session next Thursday morning at 10 to consider four proposed city charter amendments submitted by the United Improvement clubs through R. J. Sutton, president. One amendment provides that candidates for city commissioner shall submit their names to the voters for the respective department superintendencies, two nominees for each department being in the final choice of seven of 14 nominees. Another amendment covers a recall feature when a commissioner fails to measure up to requirements. The other amendments refer to limiting the powers of the city council to issue bonds without a vote of the people. It is proposed to permit council to sell intersection, renewal, comfort station, engine house and park bonds without submitting to voters, and to increase yearly amount of park bonds from $100,000 to $150,000.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured before lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 748-K, Marcellus Avenue, Manassas, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.
