

Politics Barred in Land Banks

Omaha Farm Loan Institution Directors Oppose Efforts to Check Appointments.

Board of directors of the Federal Land bank of Omaha at its monthly meeting yesterday criticized the bill introduced in the United States senate by Senator Borah, which, if it becomes a law, according to the board members, would require the senate to confirm the appointment of all executive officers of the federal farm loan system. The opinion was unanimous that Senator Borah's bill would throw the farm loan system into politics.

A remarkable record. The bank has made gross loans exceeding a total of $100,000,000. These loans have been made to more than 20,000 individual farmers in the states of Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming. Directors of the Omaha bank are of the opinion that a complete investigation of the operation of the farm loan system, accompanied by full publicity, would be beneficial to the system by attracting actual farmers who are prospective borrowers to join the system. The federal land banks have been successful under the guidance of the federal farm loan board in Washington, and especially since the federal land banks have operated profitably to their farmer stockholders, the sentiment was expressed that unfriendly criticism of the system is not justified. Tom Allen, Kin of Bryan Boys, Says Norris May Win and McAdoo Lose

Tom Allen, brother-in-law of the Bryan brothers, admits that the republicans are going to "win something" in Nebraska this fall.

Allen, well trained through his kinship to Nebraska's well known political leaders, admitted that the candidacy of William G. McAdoo is "down up."

"Do you think Senator Norris will be re-elected?" Allen was asked. "Well, it wouldn't surprise me," he answered.

"McAdoo may get a few votes, but not enough to put him into the running." Allen also expressed his opinion that Coolidge would sweep Nebraska and he believes Charles Bryan will be re-elected as governor.

Allen appeared at the federal building with his framed picture that will adorn the walls with other district attorneys who have served in Nebraska. He was district attorney during the Wilson administration.

"Future Life Merely Illusion," Professor Tells Congregation

Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 12.—Dr. John B. Morgan, director of the psychological clinic of the University of Iowa, today wrought consternation among his audience in the People's church when he declared "there is no after-life in the orthodox sense of the word."

"When a man dies," said Dr. Morgan, "there is the same result as when any other living thing dies. It is the end as far as the dead man's 'ego' is concerned."

"The only way, in my estimation, to achieve immortality is to pass your life on through reproduction or through the effect you leave on the younger generation."

"In that sense of the word, and only in that sense, was the great teacher, Christ, immortal."

Dr. Morgan said he could not see "how anyone can make a comprehensive study of psychology and the nervous system and retain his belief in the hereafter."

"William Jennings Bryan's belief that students cannot delve deeply into some of the studies taught at the great universities and retain their belief in immortality is correct," said Dr. Morgan. "Future life is an illusion."

method of fire-fighting was invoked to save the town of Palo from destruction, when a blaze broke out in the barber shop of Lewis Roycroft. When the work of the bucket brigade proved ineffective, several husky men managed to fasten a wire cable to the building and, giving a mighty tug, yanked the flaming wooden structure off the foundation and into the street, thus isolating the fire. When the Falls City fire department arrived, the fire was already extinguished with the loss confined to the little barber shop building. Damage was estimated at $700.

It's a Good Place to Stay

The more you investigate Omaha the more strongly you will be impressed with the fact that Omaha is a good place to stay. Its growth from the days of the old wagon trail to the advent of the air mail station has been built upon a remarkably fine business location, backed by common sense community boosters, who realized the value of Omaha in the rough. Omaha is yet in its youth---you had better stay.
