Seven-Inch Snow Falls in Omaha

Heaviest Storm of Year Reported in Southern Nebraska—Trains From West Running Late.

Mercury Fails to Drop

Despite the seven-inch blanket of snow that covered Omaha streets yesterday, traffic operated in its usual manner. Fair Tuesday was the official weather forecast predicted by M. V. Robins, government meteorologist.

Temperature hovered about the 27-degree above zero mark from Sunday night until early Monday morning in Omaha. At 7 Monday morning the government thermometer registered 30 above.

The heaviest snow of the year was reported in southern Nebraska and northern Kansas territories traversed by the Rock Island railroad, with the result that Rock Island trains from the south and west were reported from 30 minutes to an hour late.

Trains Kept Clear. With the help of sweepers Omaha and Council Bluffs street cars were kept running on their regular schedule.

More persons boarded street cars Monday than on any other day in several weeks, car company officials reported.

Late Sunday night the Union Pacific Railroad company reported that practically all of its trains were running on schedule time.

Near Columbus, Neb., country roads were blocked and trains were running behind schedule following a heavy snowfall which reached blizzard intensity, accompanied by a gale from the northwest Sunday night and Monday morning.

Temperatures Higher. The weather conditions of the past week show generally higher temperatures than in the several weeks previous, and during the last seven days, for the first time in a month, the thermometer has failed to drop to or below the zero mark.

No decrease has been noted in the amount of hogs and cattle shipped from Columbus (Neb.) territory. Very little grain of any kind is moving. There has been a westward movement of hay for the western ranges. A large bulk of the passenger traffic last week has been eastward, mostly composed of tourists returning home after a few months or weeks spent in the Pacific coast.

The heaviest highway traffic was over the Lincoln and Meridian highways.

Eight inches of snow fell yesterday at Broken Bow, Neb. Roads were partly blocked at all stations.

We Have With Us Today

John North Willys, Manufacturer of Automobiles.

Stopping at Hotel Fontenelle.

Mr. Willys was born in Cannan, N. Y., Oct. 2, 1873.

He received his education in the public schools there. During his early life he studied with the intention of becoming a lawyer, but circumstances prevented his taking a law course.

His first business venture proved a success. While still attending school he and two or three chums bought out a laundry, ran it for awhile, and sold it at a profit.

On quitting school Mr. Willys went to Elmira, N. Y., where he engaged in the then thriving bicycle business as a dealer. A few years later he became aware of the growing possibilities of the automobile, and became an agent for Overland cars in Elmira.

It was during the money stringency of 1907 that an opportunity presented itself to Mr. Willys. He seized it. As an Overland dealer, he had money on deposit for cars at the plant which was then located in Indianapolis.

Hearing that the company was on the verge of receivership Mr. Willys went to Indianapolis, used the money he had on deposit with the company and what more he was able to raise and aided the company over the dangerous period. He was then able to get control of it for a few hundred dollars.

The Willys-Overland concern is now a $100,000,000 corporation. During 1924 the plant, now located at Toledo, is prepared to build 300,000 automobiles. Last year it produced more than 200,000 cars. To Mr. Willys is given the credit for having brought the company from 14th to second place in the rank of motor car builders.

Mr. Willys is on his annual trip, visiting Overland dealers. He was guest of honor at a luncheon attended by Omaha automobile dealers yesterday noon. Mrs. Willys is accompanying him on his trip. Asked to name the things outside of business which interested him most, Mr. Willys held a merry consultation with Mrs. Willys, and they finally decided that he liked tennis, and yachting, and reading best of all.

In the shed I had conferred with the Mexican and told him everything was all right. The Mexican followed me up the stairs leading into our part of the house and I went on into another room. I waited in another room for the Mexican to kill her. "I knew I had to kill her. She threatened to kill me. If I didn't have her killed she would have killed me. I don't know where it was. He looked like he might do the job. I said to myself: There is a man that will do it for me."

Denver Man Paid to Have Wife Killed

Fred Jansen, Captured at Pueblo, Colo., Admits He Hired Mexican to Do Bloody Deed.

Victim Kneled in Prayer

Pueblo, Colo., March 17.—Mrs. Bella Jansen, whose body was found in a trunk at Ogdan, Utah, Saturday, was slain as she knelt in prayer. Fred Jansen, her husband, told the Pueblo police here today. Jansen admitted he hired a Mexican to kill her. Jansen was arrested at Eden, Colo., near here, early this afternoon. He was riding toward Pueblo in a taxicab he had hired in Colorado Springs this morning.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Jansen was Bella Stelzer of Pittsburgh. Her foster mother lives at 5100 Kincaid street, Pittsburgh.

Feared for His Life.
Mrs. Jansen was killed last Thursday night, Jansen said. Jansen declared to the police, they said, that he had hired his wife killed because "she planned to kill me."

Jansen had in his possession his wife's wedding ring and the rosary she was using at her prayers when she was slain. He also had $1,300 in currency in his pockets.

In his cell in the city jail Jansen calmly and without any display of emotion related the details of his plans to reporters and police. Although denying any personal responsibility in the actual killing and packing of the body in the trunk, Jansen confessed making all of the preparations for the slaying even to the paying of an unidentified Mexican $150 "to do the job."

"Bella was kneeling in the kitchen in prayer when the Mexican killed her," Jansen declared.

"She was undressed, wearing only her night clothing, a kimono and a pair of house slippers. She knelt beside a chair and said her prayers every night before she went to bed."

"She was kneeling beside a chair in the kitchen when I entered the room and passed her, after going out to a nearby shed and getting some coal."

Washington, March 17.—Attorney General Daugherty notified the senate committee investigating him tonight that he expected to prove that Roxie Stinson, one of the star witnesses in the inquiry, had shown a willingness "to sell" documentary evidence in her possession "and her silence" for $150,000.

Witnesses whose appearance he has requested, Daugherty said, would testify that such negotiations were entered into in Cleveland on February 21, last, by Miss Stinson and a companion, A. L. Fink of Buffalo. They would testify further, he said, that later the price was reduced to $50,000, but that the friends of the attorney general who were approached on the subject refused to pay her "anything for the alleged evidence."

Clover Field, Santa Monica, Cal., March 17.—Airmen of the United States army started around the world from here today to chart the first globe encircling airway. Eyes of 23 nations will be upon the skies between now and August as the American aviators wing their way on the 20,000-mile voyage in an effort to accomplish that in which recent attempts of the French and British air men failed.

The flight started at 9:32 this morning, amidst acclamations of thousands, Maj. Frederick L. Martin of Chanute field, Ranoul, Ill., left the ground. His takeoff was followed immediately by that of Lieut. Lowell H. Smith of Los Angeles and Lieut. Leigh Wade of Cosmopolis, Mich. A score of army and civilian airplanes followed as an escort and soon disappeared in to the clouds to the northward, which for more than two hours had raised doubts in the minds of the intrepid airmen will be called on to solve in their journey.

Light rains fell here and a wall of clouds settled down upon the Tehachas. But the weather broke favorably and the aviators were able to get over the mountains under the clouds.

Primary Law Change to Be Discussed Today

By Associated Press. Des Moines, March 17.—The move in the house of representatives to eliminate from Iowa's primary law the 35 per cent clause, except when only three candidates seek nomination to the same office, probably will come up for consideration in the lower body tomorrow. Comment on the amendment, offered by Scott of Appanoose, which would reduce the percentage of the vote required to nominate when there are six candidates from 35 to 20 per cent was guarded today, but there, apparently are numerous friends of the suggestion.

Representative Scott does not plan to offer a publication clause under the amendment carry, but several other members of the house declared this afternoon they would favor that method of making the proposed change applicable to the coming primary.

Supporters of the amendment cite the coming gubernatorial primary as illustrating what they feel is a need for such a law. With six men seeking the republican gubernatorial nomination, they believe, it will be impossible for any one of them to poll 35 per cent of the votes, but with the requirement only 20 per cent, they hold, a nomination would be virtually assured.
