

Big Sugar Beet Crop Expected

New Contract Calls for Increased Prices—Prospects Were Never Brighter.

Scottsbluff, Neb., March 20.—Prospects for the growth of the beet sugar industry in the irrigated sections of western Nebraska were never brighter. For years there has been an annual wrangle between the Great Western Sugar company and the beet growers about the price to be paid for beets. That annual wrangle is a thing of the past. The best contract for 1924 is satisfactory to company and beet growers alike and is the most advantageous ever obtained by the growers. It is better than the 1923 contract, under which the beet growers have already received $6.50 a ton, with another $1 per ton to be paid April 1.

It is not unlikely that the beet growers will receive $9 a ton for their 1923 crop before the life of the contract expires, October 1. The contract for the 1924 crop is for $5.50 a ton on delivery and a sliding scale for additional payments per ton, conditional upon the market price of sugar made from the beets. It is called a "50-50" contract, the farmers raising the beets, the sugar company making the sugar, and the two dividing the money equally when the sugar is sold.

The Nebraska beet acreage this year promises to be the largest in the history of the industry. A heavy blanket of snow covers northwestern Nebraska, which means that the soil will be in excellent condition for spring plowing. It is especially welcome in the sand hills sections, where it means excellent grass for spring and summer grazing.

Testimonial Sent Dr. Eliot by Nebraska University

Lincoln, March 20.—On the 90th birthday today of Charles William Eliot, president-emeritus of Harvard university, the University of Nebraska sent a three-page testimonial composed by heads of the English department. The testimonial read: "The senate and the board of regents of the University of Nebraska offer their felicitations on the occasion of his birthday. They would also make avowal of their obligation to the leader, through whose insight and courage higher education has been liberalized, and through whose indoctrination and example the cause of democracy has been strengthened throughout the academic world."

Coolidge Gives Advice to Boy Visitors

Washington, March 20.—President Coolidge interrupted his work today to give fatherly advice to boys who called to ask him to head a committee arranging for the nation-wide celebration April 27 to May 3 of "boys' week."

"I have two boys," the president said. "I tell them there are only two things necessary for boys—work hard and behave themselves. Do that, and there won't be any doubt about the future of this country."

"Remember that when you grow up you will be about the same kind of a man as you are a boy. You don't need to rob yourself of your boyhood, but you can take your pleasure in a manly way. You will find when you grow up that the things you learn now will be the things you must know then. You will have to obey the laws, and it is important for you to learn the lessons of obedience now."

"Remember that this is your country and the country will be what you make it. A good boy now will make a good citizen later."

Convicted Slayer Who Loses Arm Near Death

Yankton, S. D., March 20.—George Cooley of Tabor, convicted on a charge of murder and now at liberty on bond while the supreme court of South Dakota is reviewing the case, is at death's door in a hospital here following the amputation of an arm. The convicted man's arm was mangled when his hand was caught in an engine belt.

Cooley first came into the limelight about a year ago, shortly after the murder of an aged woman at Tyndall, this state. He made his way into Iowa following the crime, and later was captured near Des Moines. Officers from South Dakota, haled for a long while in their efforts to return him to South Dakota, finally spirited him under cover of darkness across the line.
