Life Sentence Holds Charms for Guzwesc

"Cell Is Small, But Grave Is Smaller," He Tells Interviewer. "And Then, Too, I'm Young.

Joe Guzwesc, facing death at 27, leaned forward anxiously as taking of testimony in his trial for the murder of City Detective Frank Aughe Judge Fitzgerald's court.

Twelve men had been obtained after a day and a half of questioning of 88 veniremen, 12 men who declared that, if the evidence warrants, they will decree that Joe Guzwesc pay extreme penalty in the electric chair. The best the young man hopes for is life imprisonment.

"Do you think they will send you to the electric chair?" someone asked the defendant.

A shudder went through his body. "I don't deserve it. I don't see how they can give me death," he

America Only Hope for World

Rev. Mr. Ferguson Tells Masons United States Must Give Europe Help.

"America is the hope of the world today," said Rev. David James Ferguson, pastor of the First Presby-terian church of Alliance, Neb., to a huge assemblage of Scottish Rite Masons at the cathedral Thursday. Not even Anglo-Saxon civilization of England will be able to save Europe, if America stays out. Therefore, whether we will or not, for the good of humanity, America must take her full part in the reorganiza-tion of the world. The issue can not be evaded. Whatever president is elected this year, he must be prepared to lead his people along the path of righteousness to the end that justice shall prevail, and justice can not prevail until order is re stored in Europe. Mr. Ferguson also said that our country will not be safe until every vestige of illiteracy is wiped out, and until every child born in America is assured of education and train ing in the public schools of the land.

A dinner for Scottish Rite Masons of the 32d degree closed the 67th reunion of the bodies of the Valley of Omaha at the cathedral last night. During the day the work of the 31st and 32d degrees were exemplified in full form by teams under the direc-tion of James Robert Cain, jr., 33d, master of Kadosh of Nebraska consistory. The ceremonies were attended by many visiting dignitaries and brethren of rite. Frank Cargill Patton, 33d, sovereign grand inspector general in Nebraska, closed the ritualistic work of the reunion by anointing a class of 74 at the end of the 32d degree, The dinner was served by the Scotish Rite Women's club; music was provided by the Scottish Rite orhestra, under leadership of Clarence Dean White, and by the Scottish Rite quartet, directed by Elisha D. Bellis. Rev.
