What a sublime doctrine it is, that goodness, checked now, is eternal life, already entered upon.—William Ellery Channing.

Filts Loom in Probe on Daugherty

Defense to Get First Chance for Direct Attack on Damaging Testimony of Roxie Stinson. Expect Bank Book Clash

Washington, March 23.—Spectacular clashes between prosecuting attorneys and counsel for Attorney General Daugherty are in prospect this week when the select investigating committee resumes its hearings tomorrow.

Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of the late Jesse Smith, and the attorney general's principal accuser, is to be subjected to cross examination by former Senator Chamberlain, democrat of Washington, and Paul Howard, representing Daugherty.

It will be the defense's first opportunity to make a direct attack upon the damaging testimony Miss Stinson has given during her two days on the witness stand before the committee. The cross-examination is certain to provoke Senator Wheeler of Montana and Senator Ashurst of Arizona, democratic prosecutors of the investigation.

Another clash, and one which will call into question the authority of the senate investigating committee, will occur when the committee is advised that M. S. Daugherty, brother of the attorney general, has defied its subpoena directing him to produce the books and papers of his Midland National bank at Washington Court-house, D. C.

The committee insists that M. S. Daugherty submit all the records of his bank for examination, while the bank head is willing to allow the study of only those records which pertain to the accounts of his brother, Jesse Smith, and others connected with the committee's investigation.

A committee document, sent to Washington Court-house, to go over the books, has been denied access to them on ground that the senate has no right to delve into the private affairs of the bank's various customers. The subpoena directing M. S. Daugherty to produce the books and records in Washington was the committee's revenue and the bank headquarters' defiance was his final retort.

Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, is a central figure in the row between M. S. Daugherty and the committee. The defense maintains that the committee's accountant was selected by Vanderlip and is reporting to him, and has asked that the financier be subpoenaed to explain his connection with the investigation. This belief was strengthened yesterday when Vanderlip handed Wheeler a telegram he had received from Washington courthouse with reference to Jesse Smith's estate, and Wheeler read the message into the record of the hearing.

Appeal Expected.

The fight over the books of the Midland National bank, it is expected, will be carried direct to the courts unless the prosecution decides to drop its demand for the right to go over all the records. M. S. Daugherty's defiance opens the way for the senate to hold him in contempt and direct that he be placed in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms until he accepts the demands of the committee.

The banker, however, is expected to appeal at once to the courts for a writ which will release him from custody. The battle in the courts, particularly when taken in connection with the fight being made by Harry F. Sinclair on the oil investigating committee, will challenge the power of congressional bodies to conduct judicial inquiries.

Marriage Ends Contract for Fairbury School Ma'am.

Fairbury, Neb., March 23.—The Fairbury school board met Friday night to elect teachers for next year. The new superintendent, A. M. Nelson from Auburn, met with the board.

That the work of the teachers was satisfactory for last year was shown by electing all the present force for another year.

By a rule of the board all teachers who have not had summer school work for four years will be required to attend the coming vacation and a school woman who marries during her term of school will voluntarily end her contract with the district on the date of her marriage. The board may at its option, however, rehire the lady under her new name.

While all the old teachers were re-elected the assignment of places will be left to the new superintendent. Wages for the coming year will remain about the same as this year.

Atonement of Christ Is Subject of Sermon

Rev. Titus Lang of the Cross Lutheran church, in a Lenten sermon yesterday stated his belief in substitutional atonement of Christ. He said:

"There are many people, even among those who call themselves Christians, who claim that a sinful man could, and should, work out his own salvation. But what would the Jewish people have said to Barabbas, if he should have made the claim that he himself had worked out his pardon and liberation?"

"God can pardon and liberate a sinner only for the sake of His son, Jesus Christ, who suffered and died for all sinful men. Had Jesus Christ not suffered and died for the sinful world, not one sinner ever could be saved. He is the Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world. The blood of Jesus Christ, the son of God, cleanse us from all sin."

"Whether or not Barabbas was grateful to Jesus, we do not know. But we surely have all reasons to be grateful. Realizing the awful condition from which Christ has redeemed us, let us rejoice over His substitutional atonement and thank Him with all our hearts."
