State Politics Need Spotlight, Says Mathers

Speaker in Last Legislature Accuses Bryan of Disorganization of Administration.

Nebraska and its people are all right, but the condition of Nebraska politics needs the spotlight, in the opinion of A. N. Mathers of Gering, candidate for the republican nomination for governor.

"I am proud of Nebraska, where I have always lived," said Mr. Mathers in a statement, "and I feel the deceit now practiced in Nebraska politics must be corrected."

"Two years ago we heard much about 'turn the rascals out.' Don't make a king of the governor," look at your tax receipts," "repeal the code the place affairs of state in the hands of the elected constitutional officers."

"Before the legislature had barely convened, the 'postcard shower' and every influence, scheme and trickery was resorted to in order to usurp the powers of the legislature, a constitutional department of our state government."

"Hiding behind a majority that blushes today, the chief executive exploited the good name of Nebraska, blocked and harassed the legislative body, slandered a former administration, turned his back to his own campaign promises, and from then until now has brought disorganization throughout the departments of state.

Men Who Are Making Omaha

Arthur A. Bowman

Night operator at Wahoo, Neb., in 1892. Vice president and general manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company in 1919. That is the record of Arthur A. Bowman, who still fills the responsible place he won by dint of service.

After his start at Wahoo, he was pretty much all over southwestern Iowa, at Clarinda, Shenandoah and other towns, getting more and more experience in each.

He finally came to Council Bluffs, as chief inspector, and in 1903 was in charge of the erection of the new buildings of the company in that city. He did such a good job that he was transferred to Omaha in 1906, and put in charge of the building operations of the company on this side of the river. He aided in forming the system into a completely modern plant.

His next promotion made him superintendent of the construction and maintenance work in Nebraska, and four years later he went to Minneapolis to look after the duties of a similar position in Minnesota. He returned to Omaha in 1914, and took over the work of general superintendent for the five states.

The next step was to the position of vice president and general manager, a position won by careful attention to business and the exercise of his natural ability, developed along the highly specialized lines so essential to telephone success.

Mr. Bowman is not wholly engaged in the telephone line, for he has been at all times active in matters that concern the entire community. He is a member of the Omaha and the University clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben. He is married and has two children.

Little Interest in 1924 Primary, Says Gustafson

Republican Candidate for Governor Declares Apparent Apathy of Voters.

There is a great lack of interest in the present campaign, according to C. H. Gustafson, candidate for governor on the republican ticket.

"It may be that the voters are doing a lot of thinking and quiet investigation, but little of this is evident where I have visited during the past two months," he continues in a statement issued Tuesday afternoon.

"Why this condition should obtain, I cannot say, but I hope it forebodes good. It would be disastrous to good government and a deplorable condition if the voters have decided to leave the entire campaign to the candidates. Every candidate should be investigated by every voter. The best government will not be brought about until the voters select men for office who have been investigated and found to be satisfactory."

"If the voters are to rely on merely what the candidates say, and the voters can easily be misled, and the candidate who has the most money at his disposal, sends the most literature and advertises the widest, will have the greatest advantage. This kind of a system would handicap the candidate of moderate means, and still he might be the most desirable."

"Even though I am a candidate for office at present, I am still more interested in placing honest, capable and practical men in office than I am in how I fare in this campaign."

"Pre-election promises are very unreliable and often attract voters to candidates who have little intention of fulfilling their pledges. The best guide to where a candidate stands on various questions, to what he will do in office and to his reliability is his past record."

"I want to urge the voters to make the most searching investigations of the past records and achievements of the various candidates before they go to the polls on April 8."

Why Pay the Penalty of Lying Awake?

MANY people spend hours at night, restlessly tossing from side to side, waiting for sleep. All because they drink coffee with their evening meal.

If the caffeine in coffee irritates your nervous system and keeps you awake when you should be asleep, recuperating your energies, why not stop coffee and drink Postum?

Postum is a pure cereal beverage, absolutely free from caffeine or anything that can disturb health and comfort. Many prefer Postum for its delightful aroma and flavor.

If you want to know the truth, change to Postum for a month or so, and see how much better you will sleep and feel.

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.
