Why Schlaifer Didn't Fight. LA BLE RAY ALVIS, hustling little manager of Warnie Smith, welterweight fighter, has written several of his friends in Omaha trying to explain to them the reason why Morrie Schlaifer wouldn't fight his man in the main event of a show scheduled for last Friday night at Memphis, Tenn.

Schlaifer and his manager, Pat Boyle, if one is to believe what Alvis writes, refused to fight Smith because they couldn't select their own referee.

"Boyle knew Schlaifer was out of condition," writes Alvis, "and for this reason wanted to name the referee. The club promoter was not willing to let Boyle run his show, so canceled the entire card."

One familiar with Alvis might have believed the above if he had not added the following to his letter: "Warnie Smith can beat Schlaifer and the latter knows this. That is why he 'ran' out of the match. Smith will meet Schlaifer any place, any time on a winner-take-all basis."

Schlaifer has beat Smith once and probably doesn't fear the Oklahoma City welter. Alvis is a shrewd fight manager and it stands a rival manager in good stead to have something to say in the naming of a referee if he wants to protect the interests of his own fighter.

THERE isn't much belly-aching going on about the Omaha Buffaloes and their chances for the 1924 Western league pennant. The Herd is busy ironing the kinks out of their arms down at Shreveport, La., and occasionally engage the Shreveport team in an exhibition game.

In these exhibition contests the Buffaloes have shown the southern fans that they can hit the ball. The pitching has been good, judging from the box scores, for early season games. One of the most pleasing of all is the news that Art Griggs, Buffalo manager and first baseman, bids fair to swat the horsehide at a clip well over the 300 mark this coming season.

Many baseball fans who are familiar with the records of this guy and that guy, nodded their heads when the announcement was made that Griggs would manage the Omaha club. These fans believed Griggs to be too old to cut much of a figure in the hitting column of the Western league this coming season.

It must be quite a surprise to these fans to pick up the morning newspaper and read where Griggs slammed out home run, double and single out of four times to bat. Of course, the pitching might not be the same brand of hurling that Griggs will face in the middle of the season, but a home run's a home run and you can't get away from the fact that Mr. Griggs still swings a mean bludgeon.

Another Buffalo we expect to see hit the ball at a merry clip this season is George Hale, catcher. Hale recently joined the Herd after being termed a holdout. We believe Hale to be a solid hitter, although a lot of fans seem to think different. Hale, in our opinion, will be a different Hale this season. He didn't train properly last year and no one knows it any better than George. Hale says he has made up his mind to show a few of the human "woolies" that he can catch and bat.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist. The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up. A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

Coffey to Play With Bluejays

Francis Coffey, captain of the state championship Creighton high basketball team, who was unable to accompany the Preparators to Chicago Tuesday night, will join the team Friday, it was announced Wednesday morning.

The young Bluejays left Tuesday night to compete in the annual national Catholic scholastic tournament at Loyola university. Creighton is scheduled to play St. Cyril of Chicago Thursday.

Gordon Dising, Johnny Moylan, O'Brien, Monaghan, O'Leary, Porter and Gould make up the squad which is in charge of Coach Drennan.

McTigue Works Hard for "Strib"

New York, March 26.—Fifteen rounds of boxing a day is the menu set before Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, and his youthful challenger, Young Stribling, Macon, Ga. In preparation for their 15-round title bout in Newark next Monday night.

McTigue is finishing his training in Madison Square Garden, while Stribling is polishing up in the Newark A. C. gymnasium.

McTigue's boxing weight now is 167½ pounds, but he expects to be down to 162 when he steps into the ring, while the challenger weighs 165, but may possibly increase his weight to 166, due to his present good condition.

"Paddy" Mullins, McTigue's manager, said his protegee was in the best condition of his career. McTigue is confident.

"BIG" MUNN BEATS JOE ZONGALEWICZ

Wayne (Big) Munn, Nebraska heavyweight wrestler, who recently started on a mat career, easily pinned the shoulders of the husky Joe Zongalewicz to the canvas in a preliminary match to the Lewis Zbyszko bout in Chicago Tuesday night. Munn won the one fall match in two minutes and 30 seconds with a headlock.

AT THE THEATERS

Al Jolson and his supporting company in the big New York Garden musical extravaganza, "Bombo," will be seen at the Brandeis theater for four days, starting Monday, March 21, with matinee Wednesday. Mr. Jolson is supported by the same company that appeared with him in "Bombo" in New York and Chicago and which includes Franklyn A. Batts, Forrest Huff, Fritz Von Busing, Janet Adair, Vera Kingston, Arline Gardner, Harry Turpin, Harold Crane, Frank Holmes, Frank Bernard, Joyce White, Jeanne Kay, the Wainright sisters and Harry Sievers, together with many others. There is also a chorus which is characterized as a paradise of perfect thirty-sixes.

Harold Arteridge is the author of the book and lyrics, Sigmund Romberg composed the music and the dances were arranged by Allen K. Foster. J. C. Huffman staged the production and the entire production was produced under the personal direction of Mr. J. J. Shubert.

Some of the possibilities of the human brain are demonstrated by Harry Kahne, the "incomparable mentalist," who is at the Orpheum this week. This unusual brain master engages in six different activities simultaneously in full view of his audience and during this amazing performance he is continually urging his audience to "talk to me," whereupon he answers

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet, swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more pain in corns, callouses or bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz."

"Tiz" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet: "Tiz" is magical; "Tiz" is grand; "Tiz" will cure your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen or tired. -Get a box at any drug or department store, and get relief for a few cents.

The old boys of Omaha will remember a particular style of dance known as a "pedestal clog," done with hard shoes on a marble slab hardly more than 18 inches square. Every tap of heels or toe resounded with a rattle that vibrated like the strident sound of a snare drummer. To the best of current knowledge and belief, only one duo of dancers still represent the ancient art of pedestal clogging. That pair is at the Gaiety, George Niblo and Helen Spencer, pedestal cloggers perfect. If any "old boy" wants to revive his memories of variety days let him go to the Gaiety and see "Step On It," the Columbia burlesque that is starring Niblo and Spencer. And the younger generation will see
