Prizes for Club Leaders Will Be Offered in 1924

Omaha Bank to Duplicate Christ." 1923 Gift of $700 to Aid in Training Teachers of Boys and Girls.

Agricultural College, Lincoln March 30 .- Local leaders of boys and girls clubs of the agricultural extension service and the state champion dairy judging team of club work will receive the same encouragement of $700 in prize trips for 1924 work of-fered by the Omaha National bank through Walter W. Head, its president, as they received in 1923, it has een announced here.

Three hundred dollars of this money will be offered to the state champion dairy judging team at the Nebraska state fair to help defray their expenses to the national judging contest at the National Dairy show. This award was won by the Adams county team last year and was used by them on their trip to the national show at Syracuse, N. Y.,

Prize trips worth $25 each to the annual club week at Lincoln are offered again to the local leaders who train the state champion demonstration teams in each of the four divisions of club work, the animal, crops, ome economics, and rope and farm accounts divisions.

Two hundred dollars more will be divided among the highest 10 local leaders in the state to pay their expenses to the club week at Lincoln A prize trip worth $75 to the annual club congress at Chicago in Decem ber is offered to the best local leader in Douglas county and another prize trip of $25 is offered to the second best leader and one member of this club in Douglas county.

Good Leader a Problem

Mr. Head feels that the problem of obtaining a good local leader is the greatest one confronting the club work with the boys and girls of the state. His encouragement with these trips will make it possible for the state extension agents to gather enough of these local leaders together in Lincoln at the time of the annual club week to make it worth while to offer a short course in club leader-

The 11 winners of the 1923 prizes will attend the coming club week in June of this year and the first of these local leaders short courses ever given. Miss Mary Way of Dakota City receives the trip for training the best demonstration team in the home economics division. Mrs. J. J. Donahuof Inland comes to club week for training the best animal demonstra tion team. G. A. Speidel of Waverly gets the trip for the best crops demon-stration and Earl Nelson of Weston comes in for winning the farm accounts and rope division of the state central western states. Mrs. Donahue's boys, 10 to 12 years old, won third at the same contest among the livestock and crops demonstrations where 13 other states competed.

To Select Dairy Heads.

The seven other local leaders of dairy calf clubs that are entitled to the trip to club week for their 1923 work have not been chosen as yet but they will all be at the training school. Dairy calf club leadership may be a three-year job with the same club since this project is so planned that the boys or girls take a calf and through the first freshening period. One of the conditions under which a leader may win the trip is that he or she be a local leader again the succeeding year. In this way, it is hoped that the local leadership of boys and
