

Asphalt Plant Held Nuisance in Community

Factory on North Side to Be Ordered to Move; Property Owners Say It Is Menace.

Taking exception to the city zoning ordinance, the city council meeting on a committee of the whole Monday morning unanimously voted the Hugh Murphy construction company asphalt plant, between Laird and Pratt streets, on Sixteenth street, a nuisance.

The zoning ordinance leaves the district in which the plant is located an unrestricted area.

The hearing this morning followed the petition of 500 residents last week.

One hundred petitioners appeared in the council chamber this morning. They were mostly housewives. Mrs. Elmer N. Stone, 3902 North Seventeenth street; Mrs. T. P. Reynolds, 3822 North Sixteenth street, and Mrs. George C. Cogswell, 3809 North Seventh street, acted as spokesmen for the petitioners.

Soot, Dust Menace.

They told the councilmen that the smoke and fumes from the plant streaked their clothes with soot on wash days; that the dust, when the plant ground stone for its product, sifted into their homes; that the smoke and dust injured the paint on their homes, and that it depreciated their property.

Mayor Dahlgren moved that the plant be declared a nuisance and the vote was unanimous.

Hopkins Says Disgrace.

Commissioner John Hopkins said: "The plant is most unsightly, unkept and disorderly. It is a disgrace to Omaha. A tornado could not have strewn things about any more than they are already strewn about that plant."

R. E. Edgecomb, chief engineer of the city building department, told the council that if they respected the city zoning ordinance they could not vote for the removal of the plant.

Formal resolution for removal of the plant, which has been situated at the present location for 30 years, will be introduced in the council meeting Tuesday.

REVENUE, BONUS, BILLS HASTENED

Washington, March 31.—The senate finance committee today began the final steps of its work on both the revenue and bonus bills, centering attention on the cost of the bonus measure and the amount of revenue the tax bill must raise. Committee leaders plan to get both bills before the senate this week.

Disease Puts 10 Packing Plants Under Quarantine

Los Angeles, March 30.—Another Los Angeles packing plant went under rigid quarantine tonight, when inspectors of the state agriculture department found two animals in the establishment infected with foot and mouth disease.

A feeding yard near the Union stockyards was quarantined today when its pens were found to contain 12 infected head of cattle. With tonight's action, this brought the number of establishments under quarantine here to 10 packing plants, two stockyards and one feeding plant, all in the industrial district of Los Angeles.

Need for Soil Protection Shown at Mock Trial in Johnson County

Tecumseh, Neb., March 31.—In a demonstration to emphasize the need of protecting the soil in Johnson county, George Gottula, one of the most progressive local farmers, was arrested and tried on the charge of "robbing the soil." The "trial" was held at the Twin Oak schoolhouse, southeast of Tecumseh, a crowd attending. The personnel of the court and jury and jurywomen was under fictitious names. Col. W. A. Kelly, auctioneer, acted as judge. Jay C. Moore and L. C. Westwood, Tecumseh attorneys, took the case, one for the prosecution and one for the defense.

"Prof. Well U. Knowit," County Agricultural Agent H. E. Huston, was a witness for the prosecution, and with charts outlined in detail the great need of caring for the soil, putting something back each year. He also showed the advisability of legumes, prevention of soil erosion, and necessary things to do to preserve the soil.

The defendant was found guilty of robbing the soil and was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary, but was paroled to the sheriff, promising to comply with 10 stipulations in regard to caring for his land. At the close of the "trial" the Willing Workers, a woman's club of the school community, served refreshments. Other trials of similar nature are to be held in the county, all under the direction of the county farm bureau, of which Mr. Gottula is a foremost member.

Committee Seeks Means of Procuring Books of Ex-Attorney-General's Brother.

Washington, March 31.—A decision to continue its work was reached today by the Daugherty investigating committee. Disregarding the resignation of the former attorney general, the committee in two executive sessions laid out a tentative program which will, Chairman Brookhart announced, keep it in operation in open session for taking testimony until the end of this week.

Notwithstanding the indicated purpose of the committee's members to seek new light in the further proceedings on the Department of Justice record of war fraud and anti-trust prosecutions, its closed sessions today were given over largely to consideration of problems arising out of its earlier sifting of charges against Mr. Daugherty.

Comptroller of the Currency Dawes was called to discuss ways and means of bringing under examination the books of the Midland National bank at Washington Courthouse, O., of which M. S. Daugherty, the former attorney general's brother, is president.

Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor, also interviewed Acting Attorney General Beck today, and arranged tentatively to have Gaston B. Means, a former government investigator, left temporarily in the committee's service.

Horses in Training for Hunters and Polo Mounts

Grand Island, Neb., March 31.—Horsemen are engaged in the training of 30 head of hunters and polo mounts at the horse barns in this city in preparation for shipment to New York where they will be sold at auction to sportsmen. The mounts are the property of Jack Torrey, who will accompany them to New York, leaving Grand Island next Friday. The stock comprises an entire carload and will be shipped by express.

Only preliminary training is given the mounts here, but after purchase they will be started in upon a course of finishing which will continue several months. Polo clubs and balls form a part of the equipment used in preliminary training. In all, Mr. Torrey has about 70 head of fancy horses in training for the eastern market. A second shipment to New York is expected to be made within a few weeks.

Loans Available for South Dakota Farmers

Pierre, S. D., March 31.—Loans to farmers under the last $2,000,000 bond issue have been going steadily out over the state at the rate of $5,000 to $10,000 a day, according to C. M. Henry, rural credit commissioner. Loans range from $500 to $10,000, he said. The monthly average should run close to $300,000, according to the commissioner.

Omaha Is Ideal for Conventions

Lions Head Praises City as Place for National Meetings.

There is no better convention city in the country than Omaha, is the assertion of John S. Noel of Grand Rapids, Mich., international president of the Lions club, who is spending Monday here.

President Noel is in conference today with Dean Ringer, president of the Omaha Lions club; Frank Bullta and Frank Myers, making arrangements for the international convention of the club, which meets here in June.

"Omaha is not a 'professional' convention city like Atlantic City, Chicago or New York," said President Noel. "For that reason the city takes notice when it has a convention and offers hospitality. Some cities never know you are their guests. The Lions club has chosen Omaha for its convention because it is centrally located and the growth of the Lions club has been through the middle west."

Special trains will arrive from the west, south and north with Lions club members in June. Wood from each state in the union and from Canada is being sent to Omaha from which a gavel six feet long will be made for President Noel.

Educators to Convene

Pierre, S. D., March 31.—An innovation in the educational program of this state will take place at Huron Friday and Saturday of this week when superintendents, principals and boards of education of city schools will convene in a first annual state-wide meeting, prepared by Fred L. Nebraska Plans Big Potato Crop

Fifteen Hundred Carloads to Be Raised for Table Export.

Kearney, Neb., March 31.—Fifteen hundred carloads of potatoes, for table export will be raised in western Nebraska this year, according to Julius Rosmer, manager of the Central Nebraska Co-operative Potato Growers' association who has just returned from the western district, where he is assisted in perfecting an association of growers. He states that the acreage may possibly be reduced a trifle and efforts concentrated on a larger yield per acre and better quality.

It is expected that the bulk of the western Nebraska district spuds will be marketed through the co-operative organization, with headquarters at Kearney.

Last year, according to Mr. Rosmer, growers who marketed their potatoes through the co-operative agency averaged $1.67 per hundred for their crop, as compared to $1.45 per hundred averaged on spuds handled by independent.

Army Mule Gains Class; to Be Vacuum Cleaned, Not Carried, Henceforth

Washington, March 31.—The cavalry board of the army today recommended a vacuum cleaner for the grooming of horses and mules, an innovation which is expected to have widespread effect in civilian life and among foreign armies as well.

It now takes 24 minutes to groom a horse with brush and comb, and this time will be cut down to 10 minutes by the vacuum cleaner.

Note, Madam

No mere "olive oil" soap has ever done what Palmolive Soap is doing

This is published in your interest, for the good of all concerned. To protect beauty lovers from some grave mistakes.

Palmolive Soap signifies far more than a soap with cosmetic oils. Palm and olive oils have been used for ages. But they scarcely began to bring such complexion results as women get from Palmolive Soap.

Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study. Its results are due to modern science, seeking ways to beauty, above all.

It costs only 10 cents. But that is due to enormous production. Palmolive is now the leading toilet soap of the world. The only two soaps that compare with it cost 25 cents a cake.

Millions now employ Palmolive because of what it does for complexions. It is made in five countries, to supply the world-wide demand. It is made in France—the home of fine cosmetics—because French women prize it above other soaps made there.

Skins soft and velvety, rosy and smooth, are very common now. But that is not due to mere olive oil, nor to palm oil. They have been used for ages without bringing Palmolive effects. These new results are due to modern science—to methods never before employed. Don't, for your own sake, expect crude methods to bring you like results.

There are now many "olive oil" soaps. Some are very crude soaps, with artificial color—based largely on animal fats. If you seek mere cleansers, they will cleanse. But if you wish to keep a schoolgirl complexion, you want the soap which does that. Let no one substitute for Palmolive an ordinary "olive oil" soap.
