

Archduke Who Slapped Ruler Dies in Bronx

Johann Salvator, Nobleman Who Lived Under Assumed Name, Admits Identity on Deathbed.

New York, April 1.—A man who said he was Archduke Johann Salvator, who disappeared from the Austrian court in 1859 and was supposed to have died in a steamship wreck a year later, died in a Bronx hospital Monday.

New York City's official records show him to have been the former Austrian archduke, in spite of the fact that he had been reported to have died on many occasions, each time in a different part of the world, during the past 34 years.

Convinces Doctor.
Dr. John Grimley, who attended the distinguished looking old gentleman, said he was convinced his patient was the former nobleman because of his apparent intimate knowledge of European courts. Death certificate signed by Dr. Grimley carries the name of Johann Salvator, and not that of O. N. Orlov, as he was known here for 25 years.

Mrs. Charles H. Fairchild, a society photographer, said she had "discovered" the one-time archduke a year ago. She said he had "admitted" his identity to her, telling her that the real reason for his flight from Vienna was that he had blackened the eyes of Emperor Franz Joseph for applying a vile name to his mother. Having broken his sword and thrown the pieces at the feet of his emperor, he told his hearers, he stalked from the palace, refused his soldiers' proffer to place him on an Austrian throne, and left country for ever.

Spread "Shipwreck" Story.
He explained, Mrs. Fairchild said, that he was responsible for the shipwreck story. This was to end forever any attempt to have him returned to Vienna, she said he told her.

The Archduke Johann Salvator has been a source of journalistic disturbances for many years. In 1909 a Jean Orth of Painesville, O., machinist was "identified" as the missing prince. Three months later the "identification" was withdrawn. The supreme court at Vienna officially decreed in 1911 he had died July 21, 1890.

Probe of Denver Police Alleged Kidnaping Plot

Mystery Surrounds Identity of Man Who Asked That Children of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes Be Pointed Out.

Denver, Colo., April 1.—Mystery today surrounded an alleged attempt to kidnap Muriel, 8, and Jimmie, 9, the two children of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes of this city, who recently won a separation suit from her wealthy husband, W. E. D. Stokes, following a sensational airing of the couple's marital differences in a New York court.

According to reports to police, a stranger appeared at the school where the Stokes children are pupils and asked that Muriel and Jimmie be identified for him. He then suddenly disappeared.

Police are said to have questioned a man who came here recently from New York, but he was released.

Both Muriel and Jimmie, it was learned, are accompanied to and from school by an armed guard and it is believed the presence of this guard prevented the children being taken away.

Under the terms of the separation suit, Mrs. Stokes was granted the custody of the children with the provision that Stokes would be privileged to come to Denver at any time to visit them. He was denied the privilege of taking them away from their Denver home, however.

Police today are investigating the suspected plot in an attempt to learn whether the stranger was an agent sent here to report on the welfare of the two children.

CHAIRMAN PERRY'S LOYAL TO COOLIDGE

Lincoln, April 1.—Judge E. B. Perry, chairman of the republican state central committee, and one of the seven delegates-at-large named by the Coolidge committee, today denied the published statement that he had seen a significant change in Nebraska favorable to Senator Hiram Johnson's candidacy.

"I am unqualifiedly for Coolidge," said Chairman Perry in his statement. "The assertion that I will vote for the candidate for whom the republican voters express a preference at the coming primary is correct. So will every other candidate for delegate. The state law imposes that duty on the delegates."

Judge Perry added that it was not a question of willingness, but a matter of law and obligation.

Mexican Rebel Chief Reported Hiding in U. S.

Adolfo de la Huerta, Leader of Lost Cause, Disappears After Landing at Key West.

By Associated Press.
El Paso, Tex., April 1.—Adolfo de la Huerta, leader of the lost revolutionary cause in Mexico, has landed at Key West, Fla., and has gone into the interior of the United States, Mexican Consul General Enrique D. Ruiz today was advised by Mexico City. Mr. Ruiz also was advised that he was continuing against rebel units in the south. Gen. Jesus M. Aguirre, with 1,000 Yaqui Indians, has gone into the state of Oaxaca to co-operate with Gen. Juan Andrew Almazan in his offensive on the capital of the state. Rebel Generals Mayotte, Garcia Vigil, Octaviano Solio and Higinio Aguilar are still active in that region.

Captain Sidar, head of the federal aviation service, fell in his plane near Chihuahua, in Vera Cruz, and was captured by rebels, according to reports received by Mr. Ruiz. Sidar convinced the rebels that they should surrender, however, and delivered the entire force of 200 rebels over to the federal authorities. Mr. Ruiz was advised.

Gen. Eugenio Martinez, hero of the Vera Cruz campaign, today planned to leave Juarez for Yucatan, where he will direct an offensive against rebel elements.

"Rebels still are to be found in southern territories, but will not long be there, due to federal activity," General Martinez said. "I will have several thousand troops at my disposal in the offensive and I am looking toward an early return of peace over the entire republic, as rebel contingents are daily surrendering."

Son Finds Mother Dead on Return From the Orient
Shenandoah, Ia., April 1.—Walter Williams, who has been in the orient for the last three years in the interest of the American Express company, returned to this city Monday. He landed in New York March 21 and there learned of the death of his mother, Mrs. J. R. Williams, which occurred three weeks ago. No arrangements have been made yet for the funeral of Mrs. Williams, the body having been placed in a vault to await Mr. Williams' arrival.

AT THE THEATERS
Al Jolson in "Bombo."
Al Jolson came back to the Grand in a new musical extravaganza, entitled "Bombo," which ran for a year in New York and five months in Chicago. Harold Atteridge and Sigmund Romberg are the authors of this piece and also authors of "Sinbad." The action goes back to the time of Christopher Columbus. It deals with the events concerning the discovery of America. We find Jolson, "Bombo," the servant of the discoverer, and it is said in New York and Chicago, where the piece has had a long run, that it is Jolson's best work. The same company that appeared with Mr. Jolson in New York will be seen here. A few of the principals are Franklin A. Batte, Forrest Huff, Fritz Von Busing, Janet Adair, Vera Kingston, Arline Gardiner, Harry Turpin, Harold Crane, Frank Holmes, Frank Bernard, Florence Gast, Joyce White, Jeanne Kay, the Wainwright Sisters and Harry Sievers — not forgetting a rare collection of new American beauties. The engagement closes Thursday night. A matinee performance will be given this afternoon.

Vaughn Comfort, the American tenor, at the Orpheum this week, is called the "vaudeville John McCormack." He is making a great hit at the Orpheum with his recital and Irish songs. Mr. Comfort formerly was a member of the team of Comfort and King, blackface comedians, who traveled with some of the best-known minstrel companies a decade ago.

The versatile performance of the Rigoletto Brothers, who have the assistance of the Swanson Sisters in song and dance, is one of the features of the excellent exact bill at the World theater this week. The laughing success of the show is scored by Howard and Lewis, comedians with a keen sense of funmaking. Four of the six acts next Saturday are of headline quality and include the Haney revue, Du Barry sextet, Bluch

Snyder and company and Murray and Maddox.

Telling a romance in song and dialogue, "Lovers and Liars," the current musical comedy being offered by the Bert Smith Players at the Em press, is meeting with a flattering reception. "September Morn," a musical play said to be a riot of girls, comedy, spectacular stage settings and beautiful costumes is the attraction announced for the week beginning Saturday.

Many burlesque comedians whose forte is to "make 'em laugh" through the medium of the merry quip and robust slapstick are not adept at doing other things in an entertainment line—but there are exceptions and two of them are at the Gayety as featured players in the "Happy-Go-Lucky." Harry and Joe Kelso are funny as comedians of the general burlesque type. Score that much for them. Then add slight of hand performance, magical mystifications, dancing in many styles, singing better than the average and an ability to step into straight dramatic roles and make good—that's the Kelso Brothers. She gets relief from
DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN
And so do the children

Some Families Are Never Ill
FORTUNATE are the children whose parents fully realize the seriousness of constipation. Hospital records prove that 75 per cent of all disease originates in bowel obstruction, or constipation. Young children cry because of it; school children are hampered in their studies; grown people are made 25 per cent less efficient; elderly people's blood pressure increases 28 per cent. Realizing this Mrs. Carrie Moss of 1714 Church st., Lynchburg Va., Mr. Louis C. Grahl of 1569 Winton ave., Lakewood, Ohio, and innumerable others, give a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first sign of constipation, and have no sickness among their children.

Largest Selling Laxative
Every up-to-date family medicine chest should contain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and palatable aromatics, a prescription written 30 years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine 47 years. You can buy a bottle in any store where medicines are sold, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. We guarantee that if you will give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a child or for a few nights to an adult it will relieve any case of constipation no matter how chronic, or your money will be refunded.

10 Million Bottles a Year
Use it once and you will never again take coal-tar drugs in candy form, calomel or salts. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable laxative free from opiates and narcotics. It can be safely given to infants, yet it effectively moves the bowels of adults. It acts gently; does not cramp or gripe. Keep it in the house and use it for any indication of bowel obstruction such as constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, pimples and like skin eruptions. Give it early and it will break up a fever or a cold overnight. A spoonful prevents.

WOMEN WHO LOOK OLD
In many cases they are not old in years, but because they are overworked, over-tired, nervous and run-down, ailments have developed peculiar to their sex and this condition makes them look years older than they actually are. Such women should consider the remarkable record held by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a recent canvass among over one hundred and twenty-one thousand women who had used it, ninety-eight out of every one hundred women reported benefit from its use.
