Piano Teacher Shot in Head on Park Road

Youth of 22, Instructor in Oregon University Conservatory, Believed to Be Suicide.

Eugene, Ore., April 4 .- Ronald B Reid, 22, instructor of piano in the school of music at the University of Oregon was found in an automobile in park here late Thursday shot through the head. He died soon after being taken to a hospital.

Reid had been missing from the campus at the university for 24 hours. A party of his fraternity brothers was conducting a search for him, when two of them came upon his car in an unfrequented road of Reid was in the car unconscious but still breathing. He was rushed to a hospital but died after an operation had been performed in an effort to save his life.

The coroner after an investigation expressed the opinion that Reid had shot himself. Friends of the instruc tor said he had recently been de spondent because of ill health. Rev. W. W. Reid of Tacoma, the father of the young man, was noti-fied by wire of his death.

The purpose of the meeting was to devise means to speed the transportation of stock to the South Omaha stockyards after it has been brought into Omaha on the Minneapolis & Omaha road.

The railroad has no line to the South Side and its freight is carried down by the Missouri Pacific. Shippers and commission men testified that there is a delay of from eight to 10 hours, that the stock often arrives too late for the day's market, and that a loss of hundreds of dollars is occasioned by the delay.

W. S. Stryker, secretary of the Livestock exchange, declared that unless something is done shippers will GR, Buffalo (319), 6, recital; 6:30, soon divert their shipments from the WMAQ, Chicago Dally News (447.5), 8, Omaha market. It was so like the out saying a word. It was useless to deny that any one with a voice like hat was related to him. No one but Jay could scream like that.

Whisky Jack had followed Farmer Brown's boy over to the sugar house. The door stood open. Whisky Jack flew to the table inside. His bright eyes sparkled as he satisfied his curisity about all the strange things in there. Farmer Brown's boy began to fry some bacon for his dinner. Whisky Jack's eyes sparkled more than ever. Farmer Brown's boy finished frying the bacon and put it on a plate on the table. Then he turned to get something else he needed.
