Eve Garb Stops Show.

Vienna, April 4 .- Eve may have worn only a figleaf, but on the stage she must wear more than that. That at least is the opinion of Director von Weingartner, of the Vienna, Folk Opera company. Director von Weingartner was directing "Adam, and Eve," a new pantomime show. As the curtain rose he saw on the stage a paradise and in it an Eve that was embodied by Frau

But Eve's costume was too much for him. "Curtain down," he shouted, and the performance ended then and there, and for good.

Frau Lanik protested and resented especially the imputation that she hadn't been dressed enough.

"I can't play Eve in an evening gown, can I?" she exclaimed indignantly.

War Clouds Pass.

Sofia, April 4.-Another Balkan war cloud has been dissipated by the recent success of negotiations be tween the countries on several irritat ing issues, the dominant one of which was the attack on the naval attache of the Serbian embassy at Sofia. Ser-bla demanded 500,000,000 levs indemnity, and a compromise of 300,000,000 levs was agreed on, to be paid f three yearly installments. Other mat ters, including extradition and indem nifications for war damage were aml cably settled. The two delegations feted and congratulated each other on their success in "aiding the peace of southwestern Europe."

Still Found in Movies.

Columbus, O., April 4 .-- Officer Ed Hall, custodian of the city dog pound and right arm of the law here, got a mysterious tip that he could get information concerning a still by appearing in front of a motion picture ouse at a certain time. He went. He saw but he did not conquer. The still was in operation but it was part of the movie.
