

McMullen and Sloan Favorites for Nomination

Will M. Maupin, in Swing Over State, Sees Them as Outstanding Candidates.

without partisan motive, are beginning to consider war records of public servants, and they are mindful of the fact that not only is Sloan's record one they can commend, but that he gave three sons to serve with them, one of whom paid the supreme sacrifice in France.
Norris Fights Losing Battle.
Six months ago Norris was admittedly unbeatable; today his supporters are fighting a losing battle. This is the honest and unbiased opinion of one who has tried to get at the facts. Influential republican newspapers throughout the state have departed from the traditional attitude of dealing impartially with all candidates before the primaries, and have announced themselves openly for Sloan for senator. When newspapers like the Norfolk Daily News, the Fremont Tribune, the Central City Republican, the Geneva Signal, the Fairmont Chronicle, the Clay Center Sun, the Fairbury News, the Scottsbluff Republican, and scores of others do this, it may be taken as an index of the trend of political thought.
One hears but little of the gubernatorial contest. It is generally admitted that Governor Bryan will be nominated. Mathers and McMullen each have great strength, and the outcome seems to depend upon which one Gustafson draws the most votes from. But on this long trip, now covering the better part of two weeks, your correspondent has not heard one single word said about any candidate on either state ticket below the office of governor. This shows the apathy of the people.
Thomas a Favorite.
It seems to be pretty generally conceded that Thomas will be the democratic nominee for senator, but it is only when one talks with lawyers that either he or McDonald is heard mentioned.
The outcome of the primary is the sheerest guesswork. One man's guess is as good as any other man's. Because this is true the following guess is submitted.
Coolidge will get the Nebraska delegation hands down. Sloan will be the nominee for senator, and McMullen will be the nominee for governor. The democratic delegation to the national convention will be the personal appendage of Governor Bryan, who will be renominated, and John J. Thomas will be the senatorial nominee.
Further than that deponent sayeth not.

Men Who Are Making Omaha

We are now going to make public a carefully guarded secret. His full name is Benjamin Stanton Baker, but to the multitude he is just "Ben." Iowa is his native state, and he was graduated from the university at Iowa City in 1871.

His first activity after leaving school was as a teacher, but later he returned to the university and took a course in law. In 1874 he began the practice of law, and in 1878 he found that Fairbury, Neb., was a far more inviting field than any Iowa could offer.
Of course he went in for politics, of the republican variety, and in 1888, he was a delegate to the convention that nominated Benjamin Harrison for president, also was elected a member of the Nebraska legislature.
The president, knowing that a lawyer named Benjamin was a good man to be to, made Mr. Baker United States district attorney for Nebraska, and thus he came to Omaha in 1890 to make one of the best officials who ever filled the important job. Next he was elected district judge by the voters of Omaha.
He presided over the trial of Pat Crowe, when that worthy finally was brought to face the court on a charge of kidnaping Eddie Cudahy. No jury ever got such a scathing rebuke than the 12 men who brought in the verdict of "not guilty" in that case.

In 1902 Judge Baker was appointed judge of the supreme court of New Mexico, a position he resigned after a few months' residence in the then territory, to return to Omaha and resume the practice of law. He has since served as corporation counsel for the city.
In all worthy public enterprises Judge Baker has an active part. He is especially well known because of his genial qualities, his capacity as a story teller, and is highly respected by all who are opposite him in a law suit.

Electric Repair Man Receives Fatal Shock
Strang, Neb., April 5.—Neal Rakestraw, 33, electric repairman for the Lincoln Telegraph & Telephone company, was shocked to death Tuesday afternoon while working on a building at Polk and was buried at Friend Friday. He was killed when his head accidentally touched a live wire as he straightened up on a roof.

Fiery Cross Displayed on Street in Barneston
Barneston, Neb., April 5.—A fiery cross was seen by citizens burning at an intersection on the main street of the town Thursday night. No one saw it placed there, and none saw it lighted. It burned for several moments.

COUNTY LAWYERS ENDORSE HASTINGS

Thirty lawyers, members of the Hastings for District Judge club, at luncheon Friday in the Brandels restaurant, passed a resolution urging the public to vote for Judge Hastings "for his outstanding abilities and service."
A. C. Swenson presided. Speakers were Frank Weaver, M. L. Sugarman and Harvey Johnson.

Judge Hastings is one of the most able lawyers of the state, with a long list of accomplishments to his credit, said the speakers. He has practiced law in Nebraska since 1877, was judge of the district court in the Seventh district for eight years, and on the supreme court commission for three years. He was dean of the state university law school and acting chancellor.
He speaks French, Russian, Bohemian and German besides his native English.
He has the unanimous endorsement of the bar of Washington and Burd counties.

Among those who have unqualifiedly endorsed Judge Hastings are the following persons: J. J. Sullivan, Charles W. Haller, Joseph T. Votava, Frank S. Howell, Elmer E. Thomas, Arthur F. Mullen, Halleck Rose, Martin L. Sugarman, John L. Kennedy, W. F. Gurley, Henry Mousky, J. A. C. Kennedy, Francis P. Matthews, W. C. Fraser, Joseph P. Frobenburg, H. M. Baldrige, Senator Norris Brown, Matthew A. Hall and Frank Weaver.

Farmer's Daughter Attacked by Wounded Chicken Hawk
Nebraska City, April 5.—Ellen Johnson, 4, daughter of a farmer residing south of the city, was attacked by a wounded chicken hawk and one hand was badly lacerated by the talons of the bird of prey. The hawk had been shot and was lying in the yard when the child picked up a stick and attempted to strike it and it attacked her. The hawk had to be killed to extricate the child's hand from its claws.

"Good News About Jesus"
Personal testimony, when it is honest, is often more indicative and assuring than all theoretical arguments.
Thousands who have seen Jesus in the light of super-naturalism and who now see him in the light of the sublimely human testify from experience that they find the latter to be spiritually the more satisfying view.
Out of such a personal experience will come the sermon, "Good News About Jesus," to be given at the First Unitarian Church, 3114 Harney street, Sunday at 11:00 a. m., by the Minister, Rev. Ralph E. Bailey.
This message will be the fourth of a series of discussions of the timely subject, "The Good News of Liberal Christianity."

WOMAN MOTORIST AGAIN ARRESTED

Mrs. Ed Ryan, who with her husband was arrested a month ago charged with driving a stolen automobile from St. Louis to Omaha, was rearrested Friday by Detectives Franks and Wade, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

After her release on bond in Omaha, she is alleged to have gone to St. Louis and borrowed $100 on a car. Her husband says he will return the money.

Orchardists of Three States Meet at Nebraska City
Nebraska City, April 5.—The Central Fruit Growers' association held its annual meeting in this city Thursday. Spraying of orchards and the materials to be used were discussed.

"Reincarnation or Special Creation"
Theological Society Lectures
By CLAUD L. WATSON
National Lecturer for the American Section Theological Society
Sunday, April 6, 8 P. M.
New Theological Hall, 201 S. 18th St.
There is no passage in the Christian Scriptures which justify the belief that the spirit in man is especially created at birth.
Christ taught the doctrine of spiritual progress, towards a goal of Divine perfection.
The Doctrine of Reincarnation makes this possible and is the only view of life that does.
Mr. Watson compares the erroneous view of special creation with that of spiritual progression and will show that Reincarnation is the true Christian Doctrine.
