Whisky Deals Revealed

Washington, April 15 .- "An inside story" of illicit whisky deals in Ohio, participated in by close friends of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, was revealed to the Wheeler-Brookhart committee today by Cecil H. Kerns of Toledo, paroled from the Atlanta penitentiary on a sentence for violating the dry law. Kerns charged the prohibition act was openly violated in Ohio in "return for campaign contributions. He cited as one instance, a contribution of $50,000 by Abe Ungerleider of Cleveland "who had an understanding that he could get his money back Interior Decorator. Mr. Watson is firmly convinced that by beautifying homes he is making life happier for the people who inhabit them. He is devoting his life to this work, and although the city he has chosen for his permanent home boasts only 20,000 residents, he says his field is sufficiently large.

Born in Illinois $6 years ago, Mr. Watson has lived in that state most of his life. He was educated in the public schools of Carthage, Ill., and went to college there. The spirit which still prompts most young men to go still further west caused Mr. Watson to make a trip throughout the west, but he returned to Illinois without having discovered the place in which he wished to settle. About two years ago he happened into Appleton, and although he was advised by friends that the little city might not afford him the best of livings he opened a shop there, and found that there were no end of homes to be decorated.

Mr. Watson's visit in Omaha marks the consummation of a romance of rural school days. He was married to Ethel M. Thickett of Albion, Neb., on Tuesday. They are spending a part of their honeymoon in Omaha.
