Many Chances Left.
The Japanese Flurry.
Don't Let It Worry You.
Gamblers Are Frightened.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

There are plenty of chances, young and old gentlemen, if you care to take them and work at them.

Twenty-two years ago, Hugo Stinnes, just dead in Germany, went to work with a capital of $10,000. He leaves at least $100,000,000. And what is more interesting by far than the amount of money is the fact that his enterprises cover the world—great factories, newspapers, mills, mines, steamships, gigantic forests in Russia, oil wells in America, ranches in South America, rubber, copper, gold, iron.

Chances to get ahead are not all gone. There's one on every corner; one at every desk.

If you like figures, work out how much Hugo Stinnes was worth in marks. You can buy 1,000,000,000,000 for 22 cents, divide $100,000,000 by 22 cent and multiply the result by 1,000,000,000,000 and you have Stinnes' fortune in marks.

There is a little complication between the United States and Japan. It won't amount to anything.

Our Japanese friends, through their ambassador, allowed themselves to be carried away by their admirable confidence in their own military genius. And Japan sent to this country a rather rough intimation to the effect that it might be dangerous for us if we decided to exclude Asiatics in earnest—as little Australia does, for instance.

Naturally, the senate by an overwhelming vote passed the bill that the people want. And it doesn't seem likely that Secretary Hughes will now urge President Coolidge to veto the action of both houses, and by majorities overwhelming.

Such a veto would look as though the president, alone among the people of the United States, shares the belief of Japan that this nation requires Japan's permission to decide who shall be admitted to United States territory.

Japanese bonds fell in all markets yesterday, and that is regrettable. While we do not intend to have Asiatic colonization in the United States, we have great admiration for the Japanese, and deeply sympathize with them in the misfortune that recently overtook them. Japanese credit is good. Japan has never repudiated a dollar of indebtedness and will not.

And those Japanese bonds that fell in price yesterday give a good deal of safety to some European bonds that American citizens are accumulating.

American stocks are a little discouraged also. Let's hope patriotic brokers, investors and gamblers of the United States are not seriously frightened by the little Japanese flurry.

No flower that blooms, no bird that flies, is more sensitive than your Wall street gambler, but he would hardly be foolish enough to let such a small matter interfere with his business.

Various things have been interfering with American stock market prices. And while these prices are not important in themselves—only the values represented being important—fluctuations in the stock market affect business men.

Ryde's Starrite Chick Food
With Buttermilk

Nothing is too good for Baby Chicks at the start. They eat a little that for the difference of a few cents it pays to buy the best.

Ryde's "Starrite" Chick Food is an absolute safe and complete food on which to start baby chicks. Composed only of the choicest ingredients: wheat, sweet grain, containing both animal and vegetable proteins in the correct proportions. It promotes rapid and healthy growth. It contains a liberal quantity of buttermilk, which acts as a natural laxative for baby chicks and is the one food on which you take no chance.

by discouraging investment and enterprise.

One trouble with the stock market is the solemn announcement of one very able young gambler to the effect that stocks were surely going down. This meant, of course, that he had sold a long line of stocks for himself, and that the bigger men for whom he worked were also "short" and determined to put stocks down.

Many, thinking it easier to run than to fight, let their stocks go. That helped the drop. Then there is always the pouring of hundreds of millions into securities that pay no income tax, and that, of course, injure prices of legitimate securities from which income is taxed to maintain the government.

American have $1,200,000,000 invested in Cuba, in addition to $110,000,000 of Cuban government bonds. Canada also has large investments in Cuba.

These are good, sound investments. Cubans are intelligent and industrious, their standard of living rises steadily, their island about as big as the state of Pennsylvania, is one of the richest spots on all the earth, rich in its fertile soil, its iron, copper and other metals.

If you have money to invest, try Cuba. Some of the ablest American financiers are investing heavily there. You might be the Cuban-American Billionaire. But don't go without money.

The learned M. G. Kyle, on behalf of the Xenia Theological seminary of Missouri, has carefully and scientifically explored that part of Palestine around the lower Dead sea and announces discovery of the location of Sodom and Gomorrah.

This is most interesting to those anxious to believe, and troubled by doubt. It would be doubly interesting if it should prove, also, scientifically, the miracle of Lot's wife changed into a pillar of salt, while looking back over her shoulder, when she shouldn't have done it.

Until recently there were travelers ready to swear that they had seen the statue of salt, a wonderful likeness. But the statue hasn't been seen recently—due perhaps to the action of the rain, which melts salt, and Lot lived almost 4,000 years ago.

First it's the jawbone of the missing link. You're told the gorilla is your cousin. Then comes proof of Sodom and Gomorrah, and you're comforted, and so is the gorilla.
