

Limit Terms for Killing Hank McArdle

Slayers Stunned at Heavy Sentences, Having Expected More Leniency; All Neatly Clad.

"Ten years in the state penitentiary for each of you." These words were pronounced Saturday morning by District Judge Fitzgerald to James Griffin, 43; William Walter, 23, and Jacey Banker, 20, as they stood before the bar, guarded by deputy sheriffs.

much trouble before you met this country fellow," he said to Griffin, who gave his ready smile and responded, "I didn't know them very long."

"I think you were largely responsible for getting this fellow," the judge remarked to Banker. "Why didn't you stay in your own country?"

Banker looked down, but did not smile. There was silence for a moment. Then the voice of the judge in the formal words: "The sentence of the court is that you be taken hence to the county jail and from there, within 30 days, to the state penitentiary, there to be confined for 10 years, sentence to date in each case from the time of conviction."

D. A. R. APPROVES JAP EXCLUSION

Washington, April 19.—Daughters of the American Revolution, rather tired after strenuous night sessions lasting until well after midnight on three nights of the week's 33d continental congress, welcomed a light program today for the two sessions closing the convention. Action on several resolutions, including two endorsing the immigration bill, and installation of newly elected officers this afternoon, provided their principal tasks today.

Four Reasons Why Omaha Poet Sings of Home Are His Boys

There are five reasons why O. Lawrence Hawthorne, 4820 Capitol avenue, is poet. Four of the reasons are boys—his own boys. He avers that a man can never be a full-fledged poet until he has a family circle. "I wonder how many men tonight will smile in secret satisfaction in answer to the eager cry, 'Is daddy home?'" he asks. And he writes: "I hear Bob shout a block away, 'Is Daddy home?' When Mother calls them in from play, Oh, what a blessed thing to hear, 'Is Daddy home?' From voices so intent and dear, 'Is Daddy home?' (Copyrighted.)

This Omaha poet tunes in for the music that lies in friendships, happiness, the home ties, the prattle of the children, and in the everyday commonplace things. Occasionally he sings in prose: "It seems to me there is so much in life, so much in history, in memory, from which we can gain inspiration. We are speeding along at such a frantic pace, our eyes are held so steadily on the prosaic road ahead, that we fail to enjoy the wonders and the beauties of life and our memories of happiness are clouded in the dust of daily cares."

EMBARGO WILL BE DISCUSSED TODAY

Washington, April 19.—Frankly alarmed over the situation which has arisen in the far west as a result of neighboring states' embargoes against California, where the foot and mouth disease has reached menacing proportions, the federal government today sat in conference to consider means of preventing possible serious consequences.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Secretary of Commerce Hoover were called to the White House soon after the receipt this morning of scores of telegrams protesting against the embargoes and following the replies of three state governors to the message of President Coolidge which virtually demanded that "other states should not interfere" with the government's efforts to meet the California situation.

Y., April 19.—The Brobdingnagian baseball being rolled from Chicago to Washington in the interests of the citizens' military training camps, will forego its rolling propensities for floating here today when it is pushed into the Hudson river and started for Hudson, Poughkeepsie and New York City.

TOURISTS AWAIT WORD TO ENTER

Yuma, Ariz., April 19.—The first automobile load of the more than 600 tourists en route to various eastern points held at the state line here because of the hoof and mouth disease blockade laid down closing roads into Arizona, was to pass over the Colorado river into this state shortly after noon today after a thorough fumigation, according to an announcement made by Dr. Edward L. Stam, state quarantine officer, here.

The tourists are camped 14 miles out on the desert from here and immediately started into Yuma when it was learned that Governor Hunt of Arizona had issued a provision allowing the motorists to cross the state line, provided they underwent the fumigation process.
