Today Who Will Get the Ships? Gussie and Her Baby Bidding Against Ford. Money Mysterious Force By ARTHUR BRISBANE

After the great German war fleet surrendered to the British the Ger-man crews sank them all. Beven-ty four fighting ships lie at the bot-tom, in Scapa Flow. That would seem the best place for them, with all the talk of reduc-ing armaments. But England will raise the fleet, spending nine years and using a great German sub-marine dock on the job.

What will become of the flect, after it is raised? Will it be di-vided among European nations that helped win the war? Uncle Sam won't have anything to say about it. He is told, by his European debtors and mentors, that he should not increase the elevation of guns to his own flect, or change coal burners to oil burners.

Joe Libasci killed a man, who had once been Gussie Humann's intimate friend. They put Libasci in jail for 20 years. Gussie Hu-mann swore falsely, to save Li-basci. She was sentenced to jail for "seven to 15 years."

Her false swearing was explained by the birth of her baby three months later. It was Libasci's

We are a sentimental people Gussie was sent from prison to a hospital, for a few days, that a baby might not be born in jail. And when her mother died of grief she was sent, with a new dress, a prison guard on one side, a prison matron, for chaperon, on the other ide, to attend her mother's fu-

That mysterious, necessary prod-ut of human ingenuity and cupid-ity, called money, has played many parts in war. Men fight to get money belonging to other nations, and collect after they win. Men for centuries have sold their hed is to be used in war. We had a sample of the Hessians. Kings have refrained from making war in return for sums of money paid at intervals. The American colonies fought to get money in a wrong way through a tax on tea.

Doughnuts that reward your efforts

"GOOD doughnuts are one of the trickiest things in the world to make." Every woman says so. And yet good doughnuts, big, crispy, tasty doughnuts, a deep crusty brown outside and light as a feather inside, can be made every time with har Wonder Flour.

Omar Wonder Flour is made of selected spring and winter wheats, especially rich in gluten. To assure uniformity every run of our mills is tested in bread and cakes and pastry in our own ovens before a sack is sold.

Omar makes bread that your folks will rave over. For pies and cakes it is simply perfect. Waffles, biscuits, rolls, hot cakes of Omar have a goodness all their own. And gravy! What a smack of wholesomeness Omar gives to gravy and cream sauces.

Order a sack of Omar from your grocer to-day. You'll say you never before used so satisfactory a flour.
