. the fault of the girls.

Two of the many interesting fea ures of the parade which wended its way through downtown streets Satur day afternoon were girls bands from Central and Technical High schools, those from Central quite gorgeous in their purple capes and those from Tech equally gorgeous in marcon capes

The parade was the windup of week devoted to acquainting residents of Omaha with the advantage offered by the citizens' military training camp. So successful were the various programs that other similar programs are to be held in other cities.

The camp, which will be attended by a larger number of Omahans this summer than ever before, will be located at Fort Des Moines, from August 1 to 31. Organizations which took part in the parade were: federal as committee, 17th infantry and band. Central high girls' band American Legion's drum corps and color squad, Boy Scouts, Tech high band, reserve officers, Central high hand and cadets, Creighton R. O. T. C. units and band, Tech high girls band, grade school drum corps, and the girl reserves.
