

Jobbers to Aid City Candidates

Wholesale Men Unite With Grocers to Boost Rosenthal and Courtney.

The Omaha retail grocers will cooperate with their wholesale counterparts in the election of Rosenthal and Courtney as city commissioners Thursday evening, when they will meet 400 jobbers and manufacturers' salesmen at Hotel Omaha.

The jobbers and manufacturers of Omaha who sell to the grocery trade have thrown their strength with the grocers and will work to elect both Rosenthal and Courtney.

The grocers are confident they will elect both of their candidates. They point to the following figures:

600 Grocers Help.

There are 600 grocers behind the Rosenthal and Courtney candidates. These stores have an average of five employees each, three of them are registered voters. With the women in the homes of the grocery employes, this means a vote of nearly 4,000. Besides it means influence upon friends and neighbors.

The 600 store owners believe they can influence an average of 25 customers through each store. This will make 15,000 votes. In addition, they point to the influence that will come through the activity of jobbers and manufacturers.

Close for Election.

They were active in securing additional registrations and feel that of the 6,000 pre-election registrations they are responsible for half of it.

All grocery stores will close at noon on election day, so that all their employees can go to the polls and help get out the vote. They are counting particularly on the women voters.

To Whiten Skin with Lemon

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you will have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

SICK WOMAN MADE HAPPY

Entirely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mart, Texas.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to build me up as was ill, nervous and sick. I ached and hurt all over so that I was often compelled to go to bed, and I had to have most of my work done. No medicine seemed to help me until one of my neighbors who was talking the Vegetable Compound insisted on my trying a bottle of it. The medicine helped me from the first, and the best of all is that I can even see again without that awful, nervous feeling I was used to having. And I used to take crying spells, with such a blue feeling that I cannot explain. Now all that has left me. I feel so cheerful, and I have gained in weight, sleep well and eat hearty. Oh, I wish I had words to express what this medicine has done for me! I am a housekeeper and do every thing from the sewing to the washing now and it doesn't hurt me. You may use my letter in any way you wish. I will be glad to help any suffering woman to the road of health and happiness."—Mrs. B. F. BRANNON, 404 Travis Ave., Mart, Texas.

Fleet Deficient, Admiral Reports

Battleships in Poor Repair Due to Lack of Funds, Navy Department Told.

Washington, April 30.—Serious deficiencies in the United States fighting fleet, mobilized in southern waters last winter, were reported by Admiral Robert E. Coontz, commander-in-chief, in his official account to the Navy department of what was demonstrated during the maneuvers.

Admiral Coontz said in his report, extracts from which were obtained today at the Navy department, that the fleet was seriously embarrassed by low speed of the auxiliary ships; that ships generally had not been kept "properly repaired" because of lack of appropriations; that 13 of the older battleships needed modernization of machinery, elevation of turret guns and equipped with anti-aircraft defenses; and that "submarine operations were the worse of all combat ships taking part" in the maneuvers.

"All submarines are so deficient in speed as to be of small use to the fleet work except by accident of position," Admiral Coontz reported. "Considering the poor material, the work of the personnel aboard these submarines is in many cases most admirable and even heroic."

Liquor Prolongs Life Span, Claim

Steady Drinkers Have Greater Expectancy, National Science Meet Told.

Washington, April 30.—Papers relating chiefly to the medical sciences and including one by Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins university, presenting "expectation of life" tables on users of alcohol calculated in the same manner as life insurance mortality tables, were read today at the concluding sessions of the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

"Steady drinkers," Dr. Pearl said, "have a better expectation of life at all ages from 20 on to the end of the life span than do total abstainers." His tables, he explained, were based on data including "exact records as to the drinking habits of thousands of persons throughout their lives" and covering more than 150,000 persons' "exposure to risk."

"The differences in the life-span expectations of steady drinkers and total abstainers," he said, "are not very great, but there is a distinct and well-marked advantage in favor of the moderate steady drinkers."

"Heavy drinkers," he continued, "have the poorest expectation of life at all ages after 30 in the case of females, and at all ages after 20 and up to about 45 in the case of males. From about 45 on the heavy drinking males end the total abstaining males have about the same expectation."

One Girl in a Thousand!

ONE girl in a thousand crosses the fine, subtle border-line that separates "mere prettiness" from that indefinable radiance that constitutes exquisite beauty. Every "merely pretty" girl stands on its outer fringe. She can bridge that delicate shadow-line by knowing the subtleties—the fine points of distinction that will carry her into the enchanted realm of the beautiful.

Lip-Pencil and Cosmétique Indien for eyebrows and lashes—are all blended in coloring and in scent. Used together, the combined effect blends as "all color in nature does." There is no jarring discord, no clash of hue—and the Bouquet Evolutive throughout, completes the perfect harmony!

Away from your boudoir, the harmony is maintained with the clever Saint-Ange Dupacte, containing a five-to-one proportion of poudre and rouge, and made so that either poudre or rouge can be refilled separately.
