

Jury Mixup May Cause Trouble

New Trials for Convicted to Be Asked After Jurors Served Illegally.

Des Moines, May 4.—New trials in several important criminal cases disclosed in Polk county courts may be asked as a result of the investigation of the manner in which jury panels were drawn, it was said here today.

The inquiry has developed evidence that a number of indictments have served on recent juries. Three persons whose names have been connected with reported irregularities in the drawing of jury panels served on the jury that convicted Russell J. Cockburn of payroll padding while in the employ of the city. Cockburn's attorney said a new trial would be asked next week.

Other cases involved include the conviction of Dr. Ada Fuller of an attempted illegal operation and the murder trial of Jack Gaskill and Cecil Mickle, both of whom are now serving life sentences.

Leaders in Benefit Pageant

Mrs. Evelyn Kohler

Mrs. Evelyn Kohler in her costume of "Victory," and Mrs. Jennie M. Little of Toledo, O., director of the pageant. In the pageant 150 little tots between the ages of 3 and 6 sing a song of victory to her.

Plainview—Edwin Curtis Cass, who built the first hardware store here, and who of late has lived with his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Pestel, at Valentine, was buried here Thursday. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis.

Cold Facts About Herrick Refrigerators

The perfect dry air system of refrigeration peculiar to all Herrick refrigerators prevents the mixing of flavors or odors and at the same time keeps such things as salt, sugar or flour in a powdered or granulated state.

The HERRICK processes of manufacture insure you a refrigerator that will last for many years without repair or any upkeep cost except the ice. The following Herricks are made of solid oak and lined with ten coats of white enamel:
