Ak-Sar-Ben Field Breakfast Given by Mrs. Doorly

Mrs. Henry Doorly set a new social fashion Tuesday and established race track breakfasts as an entertaining certainty. Her guests included 17 members of the Women's Press club, who met at 6:30 at Ak-Sar-Ben field, where Mrs. Doorly mounted on her horse awaited them. For an hour and a half the guests watched the jockeys and trainers, with their temperamental charges at their morning breeze around the track. Local color was there in plenty to joy the journalistic heart.

Old veterans of the paddock, sunning themselves against the stables, horses stepping daintily around workout rings, riders in nondescript sweaters, faded and torn, gay blankets, in the colors of the different stables and a three-course breakfast in the camp cafe, where such signs as, "Don't bring your dog in here," gave the last realistic touch.

Men, Dressed as Women, Will Stage a Baseball Battle

It isn't often one can go to a ball game and root for him, or herself. But members of Altrusa club and the woman's division of the Chamber of Commerce may do so if they like on May 24 when the Omaha Chamber of Commerce has its annual field day.

Men, dressed as women, will trot out on the stroke of 4 that day to battle for the honor of these women's organizations. Across the shoulders of each will be name of the member he represents. Great will be the joy in Altrusa's camp if Belle Hatch flings a mean one to first and puts Dr. Emelia Brandt out. And if Ione Duffy catches a fly when Belle Ryan is at bat, the opposition will have opportunity to try its lung power.

Altrusians represented on the "nine", or rather the "12" three substitutes being allowed, will be Mrs. Sophie Matthews, Corinne Paulson Thorsen, Mary Kinsey, Perle Hingate, Margaret Montgomery, Ethel Sachra, Lee Bellman, Mary Goerne, Belle Ryan, Belle Hatch and Ella Peterson.

Men upholding the athletic prowess of the business and professional women of the Chamber of Commerce will be cast in the roles of Dr. Emelia Brandt, Fay Watts, Grace Rowland, Esther Johnson, Beulah Hall, Phebe Fullaway, Margaret Knight, Elizabeth Kauffman, Mary Doyle, Ione Duffy, Dora Alexander Talley and Mrs. L. M. Sweetman.

This whirlwind battle will take place at Elmwood park and will be but one of many stunts planned for the outing.

The Johnsons Entertain Week-End Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shaffer of Beatrice will arrive on Saturday to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson. Mrs. Johnson will give a luncheon Saturday for Mrs. Shaffer, when Mrs. Leonard Hutz, who has just returned from a Mediterranean trip, will share honors.

Two Waitresses at First Presbyterian Tea Room

Miss Audrey Gorrell and Miss Marian Funk

Since these attractive girls are just a sample of those who aided the women of the First Presbyterian church as waitresses Tuesday it can be easily seen that culinary attractions were not the only ones offered.

Wistaria hung balconies, on which gay luncheon parties sat in booths, gave the effect of a huge studio, which for the moment, had a distinctly bohemian air. Lilies nodding on the tables repeated the lavender and purple color scheme.

The Rotarians, 125 of them, will eat luncheon at the church, Wednesday, and capacity crowds are expected for the two days thereafter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sinclair will give a bridge Wednesday for Mrs. Charles D. Palmer of New York, the guest of Mrs. T. H. Fell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Levings, who have been guests for several weeks at the home of their son, Mark Levings, leave today for their summer home in Estes park.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McConnell have given up their apartments at the Blackstone and are at the Richard Cod home during the absence of the Codds in California. Mrs. Codd will arrive the latter part of June for a short visit.

Miss Ardath Conklin will give a luncheon Wednesday at the Brandeis for Mrs. Stephen Brown (Maude Miller), whose marriage last August was recently announced.

Your Problems

By Martha Allen

Dear Miss Allen: I'm not very good looking and I'm 28. I dress rather well, some say smartly, so that often I have a chance to go with men because they think I'd be attractive to know. However, Martha Allen, and this is the horrible part, they never go long. I'm shy. I know I'm not clever and I haven't a bit of a line, so I'm worried all the time I'm with the men whether they'll like me or not, then they don't. Is it because I'm not flashy, and don't use rouge, and the things that make people seem up to date? Can't you give me the recipe of an attractive girl, who will tell you what ingredients go into her charm?

I asked a girl whom I shall call Hulda your rather difficult question. Hulda is a little brown wren of a girl, who dresses very simply and whose complexion is a natural thing of pale pink lips and clear amber skin. Hulda is neither smart, beautiful, conspicuous, brilliant nor dashing. But she always has one or two fine men showing her devoted attention and acting as if they wouldn't mind winning her love instead of her friendship. "Why do men like me?" she asked thoughtfully and without any attempt to evade or claim that she didn't think she was particularly popular. "I guess it must be because I am so much interested in them. I like them, and I'm flattered at their liking me, and I feel that they are too clever to be bluffing by anything that isn't the real me, and so I just do my best to give my interest and sympathy."

"I'm not a prude, and yet I won't listen to risque stories. I make a lot of allowances for moods, but I won't put up with rudeness. I try to give a square deal and I expect to get it. Oh—but I haven't told you a thing. I can't make a single useful suggestion."

Of course she had, though, and in her first sentence, too. Try her recipe. P. S., and I'm sure that you will find success.

A Reader: Write to the Department of Education, Washington, D. C. They will tell you the necessary process for obtaining a teaching position in the Hawaiian islands.

Erwin Elder and X. Y. Z.: No harm done in the letters you wrote to me. They probably gave you a pleasant half hour. But please don't think I

"Coffee gives comfort and inspiration"

"IT MAY be stated that, after weighing the evidence, a dispassionate evaluation of the data so comprehensively surveyed has led to no alarming conclusions that Coffee is an injurious beverage for the great majority of adults, but, on the contrary, that the history of human experience, as well as the results of scientific experimentation, point to the fact that Coffee is a beverage which, properly prepared and rightly used, gives comfort and inspiration, augments mental and physical activity and may be regarded as the servant rather than the destroyer of civilization."

This strong indorsement of Coffee was made by Professor Samuel C. Prescott, Director of the Department of Biology and Public Health of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

This statement was not made on the spur of the moment, but was one of the conclusions reached by Professor Prescott after the most thorough investigation of Coffee ever made. For more than three years he worked and experimented in his laboratory. His research was scientific and exhaustive and his findings, therefore, establish the fact that Coffee is a safe and desirable drink for the great majority of adults.

For Better Coffee Every Day, Follow These Rules

- 1—See that the Coffee is not ground too coarse.
- 2—Allow at least a tablespoonful of ground Coffee to a cup of water.
- 3—Be sure the water boils. Then pour it over the freshly ground Coffee.
- 4—Serve at once.
- 5—Never use ground Coffee a second time.
- 6—Scour the Coffee pot.

Ask your dealer or write direct to us for a copy of the NEW booklet, "For Better Coffee," which explains these rules in detail. Joint Coffee Trade Publicity Committee, 64 Water Street, New York.

The planters of Sao Paulo, Brazil, who produce more than half of all the Coffee used in the United States, are conducting this educational work in cooperation with the leading Coffee merchants of the United States.

Beauty

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Danderine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears.
