

SPRINGTIME IN HAARLEM. Only this Harlem is spelled with two A's and it is somewhere in Holland. The photo shows a great field all abloom with thousands upon thousands of fragrant hyacinths in red, palest yellow, mauve, cerise, crimson and white. Bulbs are grown in Holland as wheat is in America, by the acre. The blossoming fields stretch away in every direction as far as the eye can see. Peterffy.

Left — WILLIE HOPPE who has been billiard champion as long as the present day generation of sport fans can remember is still at the top of his form defeating Edouard Horémans, the Belgian expert, in a recent 1500 point match held in New York by an overwhelming score.

Right—FREE JAZZ. Congressman Arthur M. Free of California, his eldest son, and two pair of twins, pictured entertaining Mrs. Free with some after-dinner music in their home at Washington. The violin is the Congressman's specialty. Entirewood.

A FRENCH WAR WIDOW who smiled happily when a Yankee photographer, camera-scouting through Chartres recently pointed to the O. D. blouse she wore. It was given her by a passing doughboy in the big July rush up past Chateau Thierry six years ago. Wide World.

Left—BUFFALO BILL'S DOUBLE. Hugh A. D'Arcy, of New York, veteran actor, and old-time friend of late Colonel Cody, who although 81, speaks of making trip to Cody, Wyo., to attend unveiling of bronze equestrian statue of Buffalo Bill, July 4th. The statue, by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney (Gertrude Vanderbilt), will grace the Wyoming entrance to Yellowstone Park.

This Book Tells About Vacations in SEATTLE and the "Charmed Land"

In pictures and text it acquaints you with what is a new world to those who seek a scenic region blessed with cool and invigorating summers and mild, green winters, a climate which invites you out of doors the year 'round.

It describes the lure and diversity of the beauty here—fir and cedar forests and greenery, surf of the Pacific, inland seas, the lovely San Juan Island archipelago, majestic snow-clad and glacier-girt mountains, rushing streams, tumbling waterfalls and lakes, and the wonders of Mount Rainier, with glaciers surpassing the glacial system of Switzerland.

Our Hospitality Bureau will help plan your outings and amusements on your arrival, whether you stay a few days or the entire summer. There is something different to see and enjoy every day.

Your ticket agent will quote the low round-trip fares to Seattle, effective May 15—a choice of routes returning. Travelers going to any part of the Pacific Coast should route their tickets via Seattle and take advantage of the new stopover privilege. If you go to the Orient, Honolulu or Alaska, sail from Seattle.
