

The men who are busy as H. B. P. E. That opportunity is being lost. For with wide open I. I. I. They now wonder. And speed their old age in great E. E. E. —Exchange.

CARPENTIER SHOWING PITIFUL FRANKS SLAYERS CONFESS

Two Youths Tell Details of Kidnaping

Plan for Crime Had Inception Last Fall—Victim Was Hit With Chisel, Strangled.

Both Sons of Millionaires

Chicago, May 31.—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, after announcing today that Nathan E. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, sons of millionaires, had confessed the kidnaping and slaying of Robert Franks, 14-year-old son of another millionaire, declared they said they had once considered kidnaping a son of Julius Young Loeb collapsed in a faint when identified today by Mrs. Gertrude Barish, owner of a cigar store on Wabash avenue near Fourteenth street, as having come there with Leopold on May 22—the day after the killing—and used the telephone. He was rushed to a hospital.

Leopold, however, showed no discomposure when he and Loeb were taken to the cigar store, which also has a luncheon counter. "Let's eat," he said, and ordered a sandwich, pie and coffee.

Rosenwald, internationally known philanthropist.

Mr. Crowe declared the case would be presented to the new June grand jury, the first case to be placed in the jurors' hands.

The stenographic notes of the alleged confessions, he said, were locked up, and although he said they might be made public today, he was taking every precaution to make the case complete.

It was Leopold's spectacles—the principal clue in the case—found on the prairie near the culvert where the Franks boy's body was thrust into a railroad culvert, that led to the arrest of Leopold and Loeb, Mr. Crowe explained.

Today he took the two youths from the criminal courts building on a search for the clothing of the boy. The clothing had been concealed in one place and the shoes in another, it was said.

It was a spirit of adventure and a desire to obtain ransom that prompted them to plan a crime months ago, the prosecutor said they admitted.

Young Loeb is a son of Albert H. Loeb, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., of which Mr. Rosenwald is the head.

Leopold has admitted typing the letter demanding $10,000 ransom from Jacob Franks, father of the victim, Mr. Crowe said. Loeb, he added, first telephoned to the Franks home the night of May 21 after the boy was dead, and told the lad's mother that Robert had been kidnaped but was safe.

Both prisoners have been studying law and told apparently frank stories until confronted with discrepancies in their stories after 26 hours of grilling. They finally yielded and began making admissions but even after making the confessions, Mr. Crowe declared, remained unrepentant.

Leopold, he said, was entirely nonchalant about it. They admitted they had taken young Franks in an automobile, struck him with a chisel and then (Turn to Page Two, Column Three.)

Blind Lawyer Seeks Supreme Court Bench

PAUL FARTHING

WHERE TO FIND THE BIG FEATURES OF THE SUNDAY BEE

PART ONE.
Page 1. Gibbons' victory over Carpentier in 10-round fight.
Page 2. Two Chicago youths confess kidnaping and slaying of Robert Franks. Bishop Brown convicted on heresy charge.
Page 3. Dairymen to get charter from state for milk producers' association.
Page 4. Conventions for coming week to bring 12,000 here.
Page 5. War mothers of state to meet here Thursday.
Page 6. Masonic grand lodge to open here on Monday.
Page 7. Technical high school will be formally opened with ceremonies this week.
Page 8. H. C. Wells writes in advocacy of prohibition.
Page 9. "How About a Little Home Art?" by Abe Martin "On the Circus."
Page 10. Omaha schools to close Friday, June 13.
Page 11. Inspector Paganowski and Captain Tully, who are accompanied by friends to be Omaha chief of police.
PART TWO.
Page 12 and 13. New record made on local track at Ak-Sar-Ben race meeting.
Page 14. Baseball, racing and other sports.
Page 15. Automobile section.
Page 16. May Handicaps features trading on grain market.
Page 17. Business quiet on New York stock exchange.
PART THREE.
Page 18. Classified advertising.
Page 19. Book reviews.
Page 20. Week's radio programs.
Page 21. Council Bluffs Harmon society.
Page 22. Features on stage and screen in Omaha.
Page 23. Editorials.
Page 24. Sunny Side Up. Will M. Maunin's column.
Page 25. Happilyland talks.
Page 26. Shooting with F. P. Kelly.
PART FOUR.
Page 27. Four pages of most popular comics.
ALCOHOLIC SECTION.
Four pages of pictures.

Accused Bishop Found Guilty on Heresy Charge

Ecclesiastical Court Rules Aged Divine Violated the Articles of Doctrine.

By International News Service, Cleveland, O., May 31.—William Montgomery Brown, bishop in the Protestant Episcopal church, was found guilty of the ancient crime of heresy today by an ecclesiastical court which for a week has been trying him for "errors of doctrine."

Jap Kills Self Over Exclusion

Letter Found on Body Condemns U. S. in Bitter Terms.

Tokyo, May 31.—An unidentified Japanese committed suicide in the street near the ruins of the American embassy, destroyed in the earthquake and fire of last September today as a protest against the enactment of the American immigration law excluding Japanese from the United States.

Fisheries Pact Ratified

Washington, May 31.—The treaty with Great Britain for the preservation of the halibut fisheries of the north Pacific ocean, including the Bering sea, which was approved by the senate March 4, 1923, with a reservation, was reconsidered tonight and ratified without reservations.

West Point Store Robbed

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee, West Point, Neb., May 31.—The store of Baumann & Co., was broken into Friday evening. The thieves escaped with $26 in cash and merchandise. The only clue found was blood on the floor.

American and Italian in Saddle Romance

MISS HELEN T. MARVE

Despite the opposition of her father, the former United States ambassador to Russia, Miss Helen T. Marve, Philadelphia society girl, has announced her engagement to Count Arnolfini of Italy, a dashing cavalry officer.

AMATEUR FLOWER SHOW JUNE 6, 7

The first amateur flower show in Omaha is to be held in the Flint automobile showrooms, Twenty-sixth and Farnam streets, June 6 and 7. There will be 10 exhibition classes of peonies and 12 of iris, with prizes for all classes. Entries are open to all whether they are members of the Garden club or not.

Biggest Coffee Crop Expected in Hawaii

Honolulu, May 31.—Hawaii's coffee crop for 1924, which will come into harvest about October 1, promises to be the largest in nearly 20 years. All of the coffee in the islands is grown in the Kona, or leeward section of the big island, Hawaii. What is needed to make a big crop of coffee is a dry winter, followed by heavy rains, which has been the condition this year.

Girls Decorate Graves

Winside, Neb., May 30.—After memorial services today at Pleasant view cemetery, 12 little girls placed flowers upon the soldiers' graves. W. C. Lowry, A. T. Chapin, J. Wagner and A. H. Carter are the living civil war veterans in Winside.

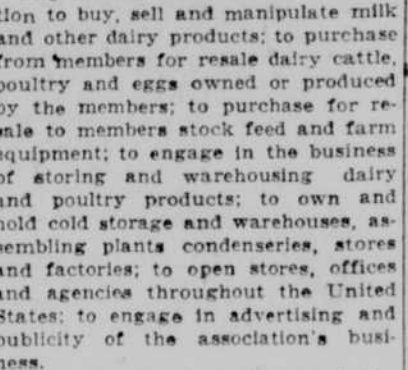

Dairymen to Get Charter From State

Corporation of Producers to Seek Better Market for Milk—Co-Operation Is Planned.

Starts Business July 1

Articles of incorporation of the "Interstate Milk Producers, Incorporated," were signed at a meeting in the courthouse Saturday afternoon, following a talk by W. F. Shilling of Northfield, Minn., president of the Twin Cities Milk Producers' association.

Men and Women in News of the Day

CURTIS D. WILBUR

In a report to congress, Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur admits the American navy has fallen below the terms of the naval disarmament treaty, until the ratio, which should be 5-3, is now: England, 5; America, 4; Japan, 3.

Senators Confirm Hunt Nomination

Washington, May 31.—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Charles W. Hunt of Des Moines, Ia., to a member of the federal trade commission. He succeeds Victor Murock, resigned.

Formation of Third Party to Be Sought in California

San Francisco, May 30.—Formation of a third party in California which, it is hoped by leaders in the movement, will endorse United States Senator Robert M. La Follette for president, and aid in "bringing about a new deal in national politics," will be attempted at a convention here tomorrow and Sunday of a group of farmers, labor and co-operative organizations throughout the state. Between 300 and 400 delegates are expected to attend.

NEW PROSECUTOR WINS FIRST CASE

A. F. BRUNGARDT

A. F. Brungardt assumed his duties as city prosecutor Saturday, succeeding D. E. O'Brien.

FLIERS HOP OFF FOR KUSHIMOTO

Kasumigaura, Japan, June 1.—The American around the world fliers left here at 6:57 this morning for Kushimoto.

GRAU TEMPORARY PRESIDENT

Harry Keefe of Walkhill, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau federation, assisted the committee in preparation of the articles. Edward Parsons of Valley served as chairman of the special committee. Charles Grau is temporary president of the association.

THE WEATHER

Table with weather forecast data for 24 hours ending 7 p. m. May 31, including temperature, wind, and precipitation.

Each of 10 Rounds Won by Gibbons

Idol of France Is Completely Outclassed and Fans Yowl Disapproval Toward the End.

Tom Fights Too Cautious

By DAVIS J. WALSH, I. N. S. Sports Editor.

Michigan City, Ind., May 31.—Once upon a time there was a French doll of a man, with China blue eyes, a sweet smile, flaxen hair and the general reputation of being a first-class fighter. But he made the mistake of playing a return engagement before a critical American assemblage and what the multitude saw was something disheartening.

Tom Fights Too Cautious

But Georges, having been in violent reverse from the first moment to the last, declined to respond, claiming that he had injured a careless ankle in slipping to the floor in the ninth round. He did not have the lead in a single round of the 10 and only Tom Gibbons' compassion, or perhaps super-caution, permitted the proceedings to continue to their noxious end.

ONE BURST OF SPEED

The lone exception came in the fourth round, here Carpentier scored with a left to the jaw and followed with a flashing right to the same spot. But Gibbons merely stepped back, lifted his right arm and came on to the attack again. He forced the pace always. That fourth round punch was just a flash in the skillet. Merely a shot in the dark and then a hasty run for cover.

SENATE CONFIRMS HUNT NOMINATION

Washington, May 31.—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Charles W. Hunt of Des Moines, Ia., to a member of the federal trade commission. He succeeds Victor Murock, resigned.

THE WEATHER

Table with weather forecast data for 24 hours ending 7 p. m. May 31, including temperature, wind, and precipitation.

Davis J. Walsh's Story of Gibbons-Carpentier Fight Round by Round

By DAVIS J. WALSH, First Round.

The bell rang at 4:20 p. m. Carp led with a light left. Gibbons replaced with right and left to the body. Carpentier danced away and was short with a left. Gibbons took a right on his shoulder and came back with a left to the body. They sparred for an opening. Carpentier led with a right at Gibbons' nose going away. Tom landed a left hook to the jaw and dodged under a right-swing. He hit the Frenchman's body with a right and left and rocked his head with a right uppercut. Tom dodged under a straight left and poked a left to Carpentier's nose. Carpentier shot with a right to the jaw. Tom hooked a left to the body. Tom again went down under Carpentier's right, the Frenchman being out of position after missing. Tom drove him back with a left to the head. Carpentier was backing away constantly. Another right flew harmlessly over Tom's head. Gibbons' round.

Tom slipped away from a left lead and scored with a straight left. Carpentier missed with a right and Tom countered with a left to the head. Tom got in close and hammered him unmercifully to the body. Carpentier again missed a right. Tom drove Ma overhead with a long straight left and scored with an overhead right and poked his left to Carpentier's face. A long hook caught Carpentier on the jaw and sent him against the ropes. Tom followed with a right but was wild. Carpentier backed away and was short with a left jab and at close missed a terrific right to the jaw. They exchanged rights to the body at the bell. Gibbons' round.

They exchanged rights to the head. Gibbons socked Carpentier in the back. Carpentier missed two horrible lefts and rights to the head. They exchanged jabs. Carpentier missed with a left lead and Gibbons countered to the body. Georges was staggered with a right to the jaw. Carpentier climbed on his bicycle and started going away. He hit Tom with a right to the head but Gibbons replied with a left to the same spot. Gibbons' round.

Carpentier's substituted a slight cut over his left eye and the wound was cauterized between rounds. Fourth Round. Carpentier run into a clinch immediately and Tom rocked him with four lefts to the body and chin. Georges looked worried. Both were short with left leads. Carpentier again led with a right that grazed Tom's head. Carpentier hit Tom with a left and right to the jaw driving him back. Tom backed away and then ran into a clinch. Carpentier again missed a left and right to the head. Tom scored with a left and right. Both muddled around in close without doing any damage. Carpentier's right grazed Gibbons' face again. He scored with a straight left to the face and Gibbons came back with a left to the head and a right to the body. Carpentier missed with a right place while Georges held. Gibbons ducked under Carpentier's left and beat a tattoo on his body. Georges attempted another right uppercut with the usual result. He was wide with a left lead and put two more rights to the body. Tom scored with a left hook to the face and a right uppercut to the jaw. Carpentier landed a right to the body and repeated. Carpentier brought over two right uppercuts to the head. Tom worked away at the body with lefts and rights. They exchanged lefts and rights in close. Carpentier again missed a right uppercut and was short with an overhead right. Tom hooked right and left to the jaw and Georges missed with a right uppercut. Georges did not hear the bell and was still attempting to box when the referee sent him to his corner. Gibbons' round.

Seventh Round. Georges came out shaking his head in a dazed manner. Tom was wide with a left lead and they clinched. Carpentier landed a light left and right with two left leads. Georges missed another. Tom picked off a left and they fell into a fond embrace. Georges brought a left up to the body. Carpentier again missed a right and clipped Tom under the chin with a right. Gibbons countering with two rights to the body. Carpentier clipped Gibbons with two rights and a left to the body. Tom caught him behind the ear with a right and took another to the body in return. Tom missed a right to the head and Carpentier almost slipped to the floor. A right and left staggered Georges. A moment later Gibbons expected a Georges, badly dazed, hung on desperately. A right to the jaw drove Carpentier's head back at the bell and he dragged himself to his corner, a very weary man. Gibbons' round.

Tom came out with a towel clinging to him and had to throw it away. He landed three rights to the body and another to the head. Tom ran into a straight left but flailed Carpentier's body with three rights. Gibbons missed with a left lead but came back with a right to the head. Carpentier countered with a right. Carpentier landed a right to the head and absorbed a left and right to the body. Tom countered in close. Georges let fly another right but was short. Georges' right lead landed on Gibbons' shoulder and they cuffed each other in close. Tom measured his man and crossed with a right to the head. Three right uppercuts drove the Frenchman's head back no attempt to massage the injured ankle. Tenth Round. Georges again stopped with a limp, backing away. Tom chased him all the way around the ring and landed a right to the body. They exchanged lefts. Carpentier was running a wonderful race. He stopped long enough to miss another right to the head. Tom missed a left hook and so did Georges. Gibbons' round. Carpentier was wide with a left lead. Tom pummeled his body. A left hook to the head drove Carpentier back. So did a right uppercut to the jaw. Carpentier staggered along against the ropes but Gibbons was taking no chances. Carpentier landed with a right. They muddled around in clinch. Gibbons landed three lefts to the head. Carpentier scored with a left and right and Tom replied with two lefts to the body and a right to the head. Two right uppercuts to the jaw hurt Georges and his face was covered with blood at the bell. Gibbons' round. North Platte—Bud Steele, young man of this city, was instantly killed Thursday night when a car which he was driving turned turtle north-west of this city. Three other occupants of the car were not injured.