

Swimming Classes Being Organized at Park

Expert Women Instructors to Conduct Course

Owing to Big Staff of Teachers, Individual Instructions Can Be Given Every Pupil—Special Rates.

Krug Park has engaged four expert women swimmers to teach its patrons the finer points of swimming and will be on hand at the pool throughout the day.

Classes are being organized at which special rates will be made for bathing privileges and the instructions. Enrollment in these classes may be made at Krug Park business office, Walnut 5580.

Owing to the large staff of instructors, members of the swimming classes will receive individual instructions, which is impossible for one instructor to do with a large class.

More instructors probably will be employed as the classes increase in number.

Krug Park is conducting the classes as a public service and not as a money making proposition.

Nuns Play Like Girls at Park

Pope's Dispensation Permits Staid Sisters to Give One Day in Year to Childish Enjoyments.

With black veils flying in the breeze, laughing merrily and struggling to keep their stiffly-starched gumpes in position of perfect decorum, nuns from all over the United States frolic annually at Krug Park and have the time of their lives. The occasion is the picnic for sisters and children of St. James' orphanage, given for them by the management of Krug Park and the Knights of Columbus.

Every nun of St. James' orphanage is given a string of free rides, and from noon until dark they give themselves over to enjoyment. Through special dispensation of the Pope, the Sisters are at Liberty for the only time of the year to play in a worldly fashion.

Women Throng to Pool for Morning's Dip

Every morning, long before 8 o'clock, you can see scores of women and children waiting eagerly for the bathhouse to open so they may enjoy the pleasures of the pool and beach.

The mornings, excepting Saturdays and Sundays, are reserved exclusively for women and children, with free admission to the beach.

Every morning from 8 to 12 finds the pool crowded.

How often do they inspect the roller coaster and other amusement devices? Never less than once a day—on busy days never less than three times.

A Spacious Ballroom, Polite Dancing and the Best Music.

Dancing, one of the most popular amusements of the many park attractions of today, means the construction of an outdoor floor that must compare favorably with the finest enclosed ballrooms of the city.

Krug park built and constructed an outdoor floor for its patrons that one seems to be able to float on. It is made in the manner that is known as "full floating construction," and is topped with the finest selected stock of hardwood that gleams like a polished mirror as the lights are flashed on each evening.

Thousands of Sq. Ft. of Mirror Like Dance Floor in Krug Park Ballroom

Dancing nightly in the spacious ballroom, with its 150 by 250 feet of mirror-like floor, is one of the most popular diversions at the park, and its large patronage each night is traceable to the fact that it appeals to a large clientele that demands a recreational place that is properly supervised.

Krug Park ballroom is more than an ordinary amusement place, for it is a ballroom for the public into which has been incorporated an ideal, financed and managed by men of prominence—conceived as a place where every facility would be offered for clean, wholesome amusement.

Omaha's dancing public has welcomed such a policy. The approval is evidenced by its select patronage.

Around the spacious ballroom is a large veranda, with ample space to accommodate over flowing crowds.

And in constructing its magnificent ballroom, Krug Park has not forgotten those who enjoy watching the dancing and listening to the refreshing music, and has provided comfortable chairs and seats.

Ballroom Decorated in Mah Jong Designs

Visitors to the ballroom will be struck by the beauty and artistry of the new decorations, into which has crept Mah Jong designs, which seem to dominate many things this season. The ballroom will vie with any dancing pavilion for beauty in the country.

Electric Driers Relieve Women Bathers of Wet Hair Worries

The women's department comprises the entire east wing of the bathing pavilion. The ladies dressing room is supplied with electric hair driers, combs and brushes, together with many other conveniences that add to its completeness.
