157-Pound Holstein Baby. Odds on Coolidge Too Low. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

More interesting to 20,000 farmers than anything else is the birth in Canada of a calf weighing 157 pounds at birth. The mother of course, is a Holstein. The average weight of a newborn calf is between 80 and 90 pounds.

If "artificial selection" could raise the average weight of calves to the Canadian maximum, it would mean tens of millions increased profit to the farmers.

The bettings is 9 to 5 on Coolidge. Until democrats stop fighting and decide to nominate somebody that the people at least know by name, the Coolidge odds ought to be higher.

New York city says that McAdoo won't be nominated anyhow. Thomas F. Ryan who controls Tammany Hall, through Al Smith, will attend to that. McAdoo's friends say "that's a good deal of power for one man to have, especially when he isn't in public life, and if McAdoo should get it the things that John Skelton Williams did to that bank in Washington might seem like feeble child's play."

Our friends in Asia say "sooner or later there must come the struggle between East and West." It isn't to be "sooner or later." It came long ago, and it is on now. It will be on 1,000 years from now, perhaps.

Read Marcepolo account of his voyage to the court of the Grand Khan Kublai, read the history of Attila's raids into western Europe. Read of the Turks defeat by the fighting monk and other courageous Hungarians at Pest. The fight between east and west has been on for many centuries.

The west wins because it knows more, and because east against west has been absolute autocracy and tyranny against democracy.

These are days of money. Dollars hold the power, once exercised by pagan priests. They have the force that once resided in the fist of the military ruler.

Dollars have now the determination that once went with the witch hunter. Dollars in fact, have all the power.

Ask Dr. Guthrie, head of St. Mark Protestant Episcopal church, in New York.

Trying to do something new in religion, to interest people, he had charming young ladies dancing in his church to express highest, most beautiful religious sentiments.

His bishop told him he mustn't do it, but he kept right on. Other clergymen criticized him, but he went right on.

But money, represented by the extremely wealthy men in his vestry, says "we have had enough of that dancing now, stop," and the dancing stops.

Dollars are the modern soldiers. The pen that signs the check is the scepter and sword combined. The economical safe deposit vault and bank account take the place of the great standing army.

Prohibitionists of New York through their spokesmen say they "sent a plot to nominate a wet" in the democratic convention.

What of it? It is no crime in the United States to say what you think. If the democrats want to nominate a "wet" let them. Then let the people decide whether they want a "wet" or a "dry."

It would be an interesting fight, and incidentally, it would bring out some William Jennings Bryan oratorical fireworks worth hearing.

Congregationalists Hold Meetings in Tourist Park. Geneva, Neb., June 16.—Nearly a thousand Congregationalists met at Sutton Sunday for religious services and conferences. Speakers were Rev. Dr. John Andrew Holmes, W. A. Tyler and C. G. Murphy of Lincoln. Meetings were held in the pavilion of the tourist park and the church members partook of basket lunches in the park.

The idea of the gathering originated with Rev. Noel Breeds of Hastings, who presided at the sessions. A committee of seven was appointed to arrange for future meetings. A lay member of the committee is E. J. Dempster of Geneva.

Bond Claimants Intervene in Bank Receivership Suit. Atlantic, Ia., June 16.—Alleging that the defunct Marine (la.) Savings bank, through its officers, misappropriated Liberty bonds left in care of the bank for safekeeping, and asking that their claims for the amounts represented by the bonds be made preferred claims against the bank's assets, Jesse M. Thomson, Gus H. Walter and Fred Walter, residents of Marine, Ia., have filed a petition of intervention in the receivership proceedings. Thomson asks for $100 and the other two plainiffs for $500 and $750, respectively.

DEBOW TO ATTEND THIRD PARTY MEET

Don E. Debow, secretary of the National Liberty league, will leave Wednesday for St. Paul, Minn., where he will attend the convention of the third party.

A letter sent by Debow to William Mahoney, chairman of the convention, reads:

The members of our organization will expect the adoption of light wines and beer plank. We believe that 70 per cent of the people are in favor of light wines and beer with a revenue to reduce taxes, and against the present tax enforcement, graft, hypocrisy, poison booze, a growing disregard for most all other laws and making of police courts out of our federal courts."

Reds Read Out of Third Party

St. Paul Convention Spans Communist Delegates to Meet.

By International News Service. St. Paul, Minn., June 16.—The communist party was virtually read out of the former-labor progressive convention here today.

Taking their lead from Senator Robert M. LaFollette, republican of Wisconsin, who said he would have nothing whatever to do with the convention because communists were given places of importance in the meeting, leaders of the new third party movement, in framing the organization and personnel for the session which starts tomorrow, relegated the radical delegates to minor assignments and roles.

Property Owner Attacks Aurora Paving Assessment

Aurora, Neb., June 16.—Mrs. Cora W. Jones, administratrix of the estate of Isaac Newton Jones, has brought suit in the district court to set aside paving assessments amounting to more than $5,000 assessed against vacant property in the south part of Aurora. The property was valued by the council at $2,500 and it levied an assessment of $7,727. Mrs. Jones alleges that this is so grossly unjust as to amount to confiscation.

Farmer Attacked by Bull.

Beatrice, Neb., June 16.—Elmer Hendrix, farmer living near Filley, was attacked by an enraged bull at his farm home and badly hurt. The bull tore off a four-board gate in lifting Mr. Hendrix from the ground. Royce Hendrix saved his father's life by clubbing the animal away.

State Chamber Men in Session

Secretaries of Commercial Associations Meet at McCook Today.

McCook, Neb., June 17.—Home town advertising, good roads work, employment bureaus free to employer and employe, industrial expansion in all Nebraska towns and cities augmented by an insistence in more up-to-date methods characterized the annual meeting of the Nebraska Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries of the state which opened this morning here.

Chamber of commerce secretaries from more than 50 organizations are at the meeting. Chief among the subjects was that of manufacturing and industry, emphasized in an address by George F. Wols, secretary of the Fremont (Neb.) Chamber of Commerce, who spoke of the need of greater industrial development in Nebraska cities and towns.

In connection with the Nebraska advertising campaign being put on by the daily papers of the state, special literature, illustrated books, general publicity and a program for town advertising for each city throughout the state was urged by M. A. Tancock, publicity bureau manager at Omaha.

Individual Member Drives. All Nebraska commercial organizations are launching drives to change their annual memberships from firm memberships to individual memberships. Alvin A. Burger, secretary of the Falls City chamber, spoke on the success which the organization had in doubling its yearly budget and membership there by that plan. Herbert Hahn, secretary of the Columbus chamber, spoke of the same thing in connection with his address on the Columbus chamber's free employment bureau, which handles 1,000 men and women annually who are out of work.

The travel through the state necessitates permanent road signs, posting them at short intervals and providing for detours in emergency, declared Lloyd Thomas, secretary of the Hastings (Neb.) chamber.

Western Nebraska's growing importance in agricultural lines was stressed by Miss Hester Ruckman, secretary of the chamber of Scottsbluff.

Powell on Program. Clarke G. Powell, Omaha, spoke of the relationship of the Chamber of Commerce and its secretary to common sense and business methods in enhancing community building, through co-operation with county and city officials in obtaining a better city, industrially and commercially.

Other talks were made by R. A. Freeman, York, Neb., and C. L. Kelley, Nebraska City, Neb., and George P. Wols, Fremont chamber secretary.

Storm Is Hard on Phone Poles

Winds Damage Service in Nebraska, Iowa and Dakota.

An incomplete review of damage to Northwestern Bell Telephone company lines by the storm Saturday night and Sunday shows over 400 poles down in South Dakota around Sioux Falls, causing a damage of over $5,000 to $7,000.

About 825 telephones were put out of order in that section. In northeastern Nebraska, 70 poles are down, and it is possible the total will reach 200 when all damage reports have been received. Trouble in Nebraska is being rapidly cleared up.

In Iowa, 548 poles are reported down, with the heaviest damage between Lemars and Hawarden. In western Iowa, there were 182 cases of trouble on long distance lines, but most of this was cleared by Sunday night. About 500 telephones were put out of order in Western Iowa, with most of the trouble at Council Bluffs, Atlantic and Hamburg.

Lutherans Plan Mass Meeting

Over 4,000 People Expected to Gather in Hastings Park on June 22.

Blue Hill, Neb., June 16.—Sunday, June 22, a mass meeting will be held by Lutherans of the Missouri synod in Prospect park at Hastings, with services at 10:30, 3 and 8. Every family will bring their luncheon and spend the day at the park. Congregations participating are those in and about Hastings, Lowell, Kenesaw, Juniata, Prosser, Minden, Ayr, Blue Hill, Rosemond, Lawrence, Holstein, Doniphan, Red Cloud, Campbell and Upland. Besides there will be some representatives from more distant points. It is estimated that over 4,000 people will be at the park, roads and weather being favorable.

The purpose of this mass meeting is to encourage a greater interest in missionary enterprises. Congregations participating in this movement are now doing mission work in every continent but Africa.

Rev. Prof. W. H. T. Dau, D. D., of Concordia Theological seminary, St. Louis, will speak in the morning and in the evening. Rev. Prof. H. A. Koenig of the Lutheran seminary, Seward, Neb., will be the speaker for the afternoon. Both speakers are known far beyond the borders of the church, which they represent. The former is prominent as the author of numerous theological, historical and other works and as editor of the Theological Monthly, an official organ of the Missouri synod. After the world war he represented his church in Europe in a successful endeavor to bring about a closer cooperation between Lutheranism here and there. The latter, besides being introduced to radio fans as a widely known as an educator, has accomplished baritone.

Lemons Bleach the Skin White

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orubard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whiter, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.
