

C. of C. Commends Retired Fire Chief

Statement Praises 51 Years of Service Rendered by Charles A. Salter.

In appreciation of the long and faithful service of Fire Chief Charles A. Salter, whose resignation from the department became effective last Tuesday, the Chamber of Commerce issued the following statement praising the former head of the fire fighters:

"The retirement on July 1 of Fire Chief Charles A. Salter from the Omaha fire department after 51 years of faithful service calls the attention of all Omaha to the loyalty and devotion of Omaha's public servants.

"It is fitting that the people of Omaha should pause a this time to consider the service that is rendered by Omaha's firemen, policemen and others in public employ who are vigilant day and night, year in and year out in the cause of public safety.

"Fire Chief Salter has devoted his life to fire protection in Omaha since 1872, when he joined the Omaha volunteer fire department. Four years later, when the regular department was organized he joined it, and he has grown old in the service.

"The Omaha Chamber of Commerce takes this opportunity to congratulate Chief Salter and to express its admiration and appreciation of his record and of the record of the Omaha fire department.

"We understand a reception and presentation ceremony is to be held at the city hall in honor of Fire Chief Salter Monday morning, and we hope Omaha people will take this occasion to show their appreciation of his long service."

"Pyros" is a perfect antiseptic, astringent, non-alcoholic, non-poisonous, colorless and stainless. In spite of its sterility, it contains nothing to retard healing. And "Pyros" also possesses the marvelous power of PENETRATING through the gums to the alveolar infection. Its imitations do not penetrate, and they contain such irritants as creosote and carbolic acid. So be sure to use "Pyros." Ask your druggist for "Pyros." If he does not have it send this ad and 25 cents in stamps to the Rhea Chemical Co., 1271 Curtis St., Denver, Colo., for a large trial size.

An Important Court Decision

All buyers and sellers of real estate should be familiar with a ruling made on June 16, 1924, by the circuit court of Virginia, in Norfolk, Va.

This was a case brought by the Norfolk real estate board to prohibit a non-realtor from advertising himself as a "realtor".

The court upheld the contention of the Norfolk real estate board and ordered the non-realtor to quit advertising himself as a realtor.

The court in its opinion said that the use of the word realtor by the non-realtor was "of such a character as to mislead and deceive the public," "and so deprived them of the protection afforded by actual membership in such a board and consequent liability to discipline for improper conduct."

The court's reference was to the fact that the non-realtor was NOT a member of the Norfolk real estate board.

Realtors in Norfolk are governed by the same regulations and ethics that govern Omaha realtors.
