

McAdoo Will Support Davis in Campaign

Third Party Leader Says to Accept Commoner's Brother Would Be "Playing Politics."

By International News Service.
Washington, July 12.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, republican of Wisconsin has refused definitely to accept the suggestion that he select Charles W. Bryan, democratic vice presidential nominee, as running mate in his independent race for the White House, it was learned today. La Follette was said to feel that the selection of Bryan would lead to the belief that his campaign was a political movement, and that he was playing into the hands of the democratic party in the hope that should the election be thrown into congress, Bryan might be elected to the White House.

By International News Service.
New York, July 12.—William Gibbs McAdoo today broke his silence on political matters, styled John W. Davis as a "progressive" and urged his followers to support him in the coming presidential election. Admitting that there had been some doubt as to Davis' progressivism because of his association with "big banking houses and corporate interests," McAdoo said that such doubts were unjustified. A lawyer, he declared, is to be no more judged by his clients than a physician by his patients.

Sails for Europe.
McAdoo's statement was given out by him at the dock just before he sailed for Europe.

"Mr. Davis and I have been friends for 12 years, and I had the pleasure of discussing the political situation with him yesterday," McAdoo said. "The great body of progressive democrats who supported me so strongly in the convention have been anxious to know what my attitude was toward Mr. Davis' candidacy, and my visit was for the purpose of learning from Mr. Davis direct, his views on important issues before the country."

Satisfied.
"I am satisfied he is in full accord with the progressive program outlined in the democratic platform.

"The influence and power of these progressive forces must not be dissipated by dissension between various political movements. They must rather be consolidated and used like an irresistible battering ram on that party which offers the best instrumentality of service to the people. Clearly, there is no progress in the republican party; clearly, there is progress in the democratic party.

"I shall therefore, give the Davis-Bryan ticket my cordial support and shall take part in the campaign on my return early in September."

Third Night Pilot Downed in Storm

Biffle Takes Refuge on Des Moines Emergency Landing Field.

The night air mail, westbound, flew into Omaha 6 hours and 20 minutes late at 6:10 Saturday morning. It was due at 11:50 Friday night.

Pilot Ira O. Biffle with 250 pounds of mail flew out of Iowa City Friday night in threatening weather conditions. He had not passed many miles beyond Des Moines when he turned and scurried back to the emergency field and landed just before the storm broke.

Ten minutes later he had notified Superintendent D. B. Colyer at the Fort Crook all mail field of his whereabouts.

He left Des Moines at 4:30 Saturday morning.

The mail proceeded westward from Omaha at 6:20 piloted by E. M. Allison.

He is the third pilot forced down in the night flight of the air mail since it was inaugurated July 1. The others were Frank Yager at Chapel, Neb., and Clarence Lange at Benedict, Neb.

The eastbound mail left the Omaha field at Fort Crook an hour and 22 minutes late at 3:27 Saturday morning. The storm delayed this plane at Grand Island. The time will be made up between here and New York, officials said.

Youths Accused of Posing as Sleuths

Disturbing Couples in Parked Autos

Three youths reported posing as officers and disturbing couples in parked automobiles in the suburbs came into the hands of police Saturday morning.

They gave their names as George and Francis Vaughn, 603 North Forty-eighth street and Claude Spier, 4112 South Twenty-third street.

A man called police Friday night and said he and his girl were interrupted by men with a flashlight who ordered them out of the car after displaying a deputy sheriff's badge, held the girl and demanded his money for letting them go. The man refused to give his name but gave police the car license number.

Chief of Detectives Van Deusen said the three confessed to four "spies" of the kind. He said a deputy sheriff's badge was found in possession of Spier.

"I beg your pardon," he exclaimed. "I'm sorry I bumped into you."

"Oh, that's all right. No harm done, neighbor," said Rice, and pondered upon the politeness of the city folks.

A little later he found that his billfold, containing $5 in cash, 25 cents worth of postage stamps and a Missouri hunting license, was gone.

"Durn them fellows," said Rice in reporting the pocket-picking to police.

BONDED DEBTS ARE NEAR 87 MILLION

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Arguments Over New Movements

Federated Churches and D. A. R. Disagree on Methods to End All Warfare.

By H. K. REYNOLDS.
International News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, July 13.—Warfare has broken out here between the federal council of churches and the Daughters of the American Revolution over the methods adopted by the former in its campaign to outlaw war and establish lasting peace throughout the world.

The seed of the trouble originated in Europe. It is the so-called "Youth Movement," which has taken a strong grip in many European countries and is said to be spreading in the United States.

This "youth movement," according to Dr. Chauncey W. Goodrich, American representative of the central bureau for the relief of the evangelical churches of Europe, is "filled with the ferment of a new age, demanding inspiring Christian leadership," and with "multitudes saddened and disillusioned by war, wistful as never before for the things which only religion can give."

The movement offers, says Dr. Goodrich, a "strategic point at which to help strengthen the threatened forces of Protestantism in these days of the remaking of Europe for American churches."

Concerning this same "youth movement," Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president of the Daughters of the American Revolution, declares:

"Old World Evil."

"It is the most dastardly of all the old world evils that has been brought to our shores. It aims, so it is declared, at the very heart of our most sacred social and moral foundations and will, if promulgated in our secondary schools and colleges, aim to destroy the moral fiber of our girls and boys."

Mrs. Cook classifies the backers of the "youth movement" with the "Facists," and she has sent a warning to all the state regents of the Daughters of the American Revolution against the so-called "peace societies," which, she says, "in very many instances are being dominated by those who are knowingly and deliberately disloyal to our government and political institutions."

As the head of the largest "patriotic body of women in America," Mrs. Cook says that she believes it her duty to "fully acquaint the organization's entire membership with the menace of our most sacred obligations to home and country which is being promulgated in the seditious teachings of the organized groups that are endeavoring to have their members take the 'slackers' oath,' or the 'disloyalty oath,' never to assist in any war; never to knit a sock, roll a bandage, nurse a wounded soldier, or buy a bond to help win the war."

"His Pacificists."

"Pacificist groups in America have waxed strong because of their sentimental appeals to women and women's organization," says Mrs. Cook. "Far-reaching propaganda societies, with salaried executives of persuasive oratory but twisted vision, have endeavored to introduce their specious arguments by letter, pamphlet and word of mouth throughout the length

SOUTH OMAHA HAS OWN "GAS" WAR

The gasoline controversy which has attracted attention throughout the state for the last month is at pitch heat between two filling stations in South Omaha.

The erection of a new filling station at Twenty-fourth and F streets, next to a garage which had been doing a large business in gas sales, instigated a "gas war" between the two.

While the filling station was under construction the garage announced a reduction of gas to 15 cents. Extra help was necessary.

Friday, the new station announced gas at 12 cents. Saturday prices were again the same at both stations.

Spring Lake Pool Opened.

Rangers Arrest Forest Fire Bugs

Men Held Responsible for California Timber Blaze Held Under Bond.

San Francisco, July 12.—Two men were under arrest at Newhall, near Los Angeles, and two others were being sought on charges of having started a forest fire which since Wednesday has swept thousands of acres of brush and timber in the Santa Barbara national forest.

According to advices from the ranger station at Newhall, those arrested were Mack Lewis and Joe Englebrecht, teamsters employed at Radium Hot Springs, a resort near which the fire broke out.

Lewis was released last night under

$1,000 bond, but Englebrecht was being held in the Newhall jail in default of $2,000 bond.

Continued improvement in the forest fire situation was reported from western Washington points. Although there are several large blazes in southwest Washington, all are under control.
