Religious War?
Coolidge and Wheat.
Both Going Up.
Will Workmen Pay?

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The first sign of religious war in the next election comes in Louis Seibold's statement that Tammany Hall, the big power in New York, believes that prejudice against Governor Bryan will injure John W. Davis.

According to Seibold, Governor Bryan is accused of a leaning toward the klan. This means that he will be unwelcome to Jewish and Catholic voters.

If the religious fight is to be carried from the convention into the election, the democratic prospects will be slim.

Apart from that, our watchful friend, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, announces that the rising price of wheat is cutting deeply into La Follette's vote, bringing the farmers back to Coolidge.

December wheat closed at $1.29 last night, September made a new "high," and probably all grains are going higher, as you were told here some time ago when they were much cheaper.

A religious fight inside the democratic party and high prices for grain will enable President Coolidge and his managers to sleep sweetly.

La Follette won't be bothered with any official notification. He knows he is nominated and is at work. His friends call upon workmen's unions to supply money for the campaign.

Will they do it? The answer is doubtful.

Workmen know that La Follette cannot be elected. That is out of the question. If they choose to give him a big vote, it may throw the election into the house and perhaps thence into the senate.

La Follette could not be elected in any case. How much money will the unions vote for the sake of a "fine gesture," knowing that they can't win?

Battles ahead for the Ku Klux Klan. Mayor Schwab of Buffalo, N. Y., supreme general of the Catholic order of the Knights of St. John, urges the knights to "strengthen their military organizations for their fight against the klan."

It ought to be possible to rely only on the military organizations of the United States and on the police. But, asks Mayor Schwab, "What can you do if you are attacked?"

The mayor lists our six national greatest evils as follows: Divorce, race suicide, public dance halls, the drug habit, the hip pocket whisky flask and immorality made easy by the automobile.

For the Ku Klux he has a department all to itself.

Four men were put to death by electricity within 40 minutes in the state prison of Trenton, N. J.

One of the four to be killed said: "I wouldn't be here if I hadn't spent 10 of my 23 years of life in public institutions. He probably told the truth."

The Jewish system that sends children to be brought up in individual homes, or that, better still, supplies money for them to be kept with their own mothers whenever that is possible instead of herding them in institutions, has shown our "civilization" what it ought to do.

"Courage" has a thousand definitions. The French says it is possessed by Miss Uminkia. She was in love with Zeysmowski, Polish writer, in a Paris hospital. When he suffered intense pain, she gave her blood to be transfused to his body. That was brave. But as he continued in agony and the doctors said his case was hopeless, the young woman got a revolver, and when he was not looking, shot and killed her lover.

French enthusiasts say that is the height of courage.

Motor Strikes Horse.

Rulo, Neb., July 17.—Burlington passenger train which started from Atchison for Rulo yesterday was delayed over an hour and narrowly escaped being derailed near the Doniphan (Kan.) station. The motor was running at a good rate of speed, along the railway, when a horse in a pasture became frightened and jumped over the right-of-way fence and darted in front of the motor. The animal was badly injured and the motor car considerably damaged.

Milk Fund Saves Four-Pound Child

Comes to Rescue of Tiny Mite Whose Father Is Out of Work.

Carl, two months and four days old and weighs 4½ pounds.

Two other little children in the family.

Father out of work for many months. He is a cement finisher. The odd jobs he has been able to find and do in his poor health and the poorly-paid toll of the mother over the wash tub haven't been sufficient to cope with the cost of milk which the children, especially tiny Carl, need.

The Free Milk and Ice fund has come to the rescue and there is hope of pulling the little mite through if there is enough support to the fund, for there are dozens of other emaciated infants who must have milk daily in hot weather.

Mrs. Marie Anderson is the visiting nurse, holding Carl.

Every cent contributed goes to such cases and no one gets any pay for distributing the milk except the milkman. Your charity is 100 per cent effective here.

Give if you possibly can. Yours may be the privilege of saving some little "Carl" to a life of joy and usefulness. Address and make out checks to "Free Milk and Ice fund," care of The Omaha Bee.
