A Three-Word Speech.
A Divorce for $1.50.
How to This Ghost.
Solid Brooklyn Eagle.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

John W. Davis means to hold the short speech record, a wise, almost pious resolution. He will "accept" his nomination in only 4,000 words of talk.

Great moderation and self-control, you say. Yet in 31 verses of the first, and two verses of the second chapters of Genesis, the Bible describes the creation of the earth and everything on it. And the whole thing, including the rest of the seventh day, is told in about 1,000 words.

For brevity and beauty, candidates, editors, and especially advertisement writers, should study the Bible, especially Genesis, Job, Isaiah, and the sermon on the mount. Any presidential candidate might make an acceptance speech, to 99 in 100, in three words, as follows:

Specialists in Paris divorces may move to Moscow. There you get a divorce for $1.50 in five minutes if both parties agree—as they usually do in Paris.

You don't have to prove infidelity or cruelty. Simply to agree is enough. Bolshevism gives you a divorce if you prove that your life partner is "exceedingly religious" or "too much addicted to religious superstition." You can even get a divorce if your wife or husband is opposed to your politics. That is all new in divorce.

Bolshevism, however, won't go too far in making light of holy matrimony.

No individual can get more than three divorces in one year, which recalls the department store advertisement, "Only one to a customer."

Mrs. Jack Gardiner of Boston, intelligent and rich, spent her life collecting fine works of art, stored in her "Venetian palace" in New England. Now, dying, she leaves all to the public "to be maintained as a public museum forever."

For that purpose she provides an income of $1,200,000. If her seven trustees disobey her wishes, everything is to be sold and the money given to Harvard university to increase professors' salaries and maintain scholarships.

Make a polite bow to the ghost of Mrs. Jack Gardiner, as it sails upward. She lived usefully and died intelligently.

The old, solid and able Brooklyn Eagle is a good investment for anybody's money. Five hundred shares of Brooklyn Eagle stock, (more later) can be bought at $180 a share.

Why on earth Gunnison of the Eagle allows anybody else to get that stock with all the money he has, nobody knows. He's unselfish, that may explain it.

Brooklyn, third city in the United States now, with more than 2,000,000 inhabitants, will have 5,000,000 persons within 20 years and will reach eventually from the East river to Montauk Point.

And while Brooklyn stands, the solid old Eagle will stand. It is a good chance for a conservative investment. Apply to Mr. Gunnison, Brooklyn Eagle, Brooklyn, N. Y., for information.

"A strong 1,000,000-share market," was yesterday's Wall street day of investing, speculating and gambling. You invest when you buy to keep, you speculate when you think you know what you are doing, you gamble when you play the fool.

It was better than a 1,000,000-share market—actual sales, 1,200,000 shares. Things are booming on the stock market and on the farms. Whether because it "just happened," or because powerful insiders are at work, things are going up.

Farmers say it costs $1.15 to raise wheat. It sold yesterday at $1.28 for December. Corn sells well above a dollar a bushel. Men, not old, remember when farmers used corn for fuel because it was cheaper than coal—10 cents a bushel.

If prices on farms and the stock exchange can be kept booming it will be a good thing for conservative candidates. The man making money isn't much interested in complaints.

In the case against bootlegging waiters at the Ritz Carlton, New York, the "gentleman" that drank the stuff is fined $250. The waiter that sold it will be sent to prison, they say. Why? Which is more criminal, the rich man tempting the waiter with money or the waiter yielding to temptation.

In the famous Garden of Eden case, everybody was punished. Adam, who was tempted, or said he was, left the Garden with Eve. And the snake, which played the part of "waiter," was condemned to walk on his stomach in the dust, whereas he had previously gone along proudly on the tip of his tail.

"Upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat, all the days of thy life," was the severe sentence. In addition, it was said that Eve's children "shall bruise thy head." And the snake could not hire alienists to prove that he was not responsible.

TRAFFIC DELAYED BY DERAILMENT

Peru, Neb., July 23.—Traffic was tied up all day and night Tuesday owing to derailment of several cars in a Burlington freight train south-bound from Nebraska City to Beatrice.

The train had just started out on its run from Nebraska City when a steel tank car, loaded with 10,000 gallons of gasoline jumped the tracks, turned, crossed over the following cars and rails, derailing the following cars in the train. The damage will amount to several thousand dollars.

Trains for the Beatrice and Falls City lines were held in Nebraska City and Peru until the tracks were cleared and rebuilt.

First Bank Floor Leased by Dime Store at $70,000

Woolworth - U. S. National Deal Said to Involve Highest Rental Ever Paid in Omaha.

At the rental price of $70,000 a year, the F. W. Woolworth chain of 5 and 10-cent stores has leased the ground floor of the United States National Bank building at Sixteenth and Farnam streets.

The lease, which will run for 50 years, is said to establish a new high mark for downtown rentals in Omaha.

To make room for the new store, remodeling that will cost $300,000 must be done.

As a result of the new lease the Northrup-Jones Company and the New York Waist Shop must find new locations. In addition, the space of the C. E. Brown jewelry company will be reduced to 15 feet.

Included in the remodeling which will be required, is the removal of the huge vaults of the United States National Bank.

The bank, it is said, will acquire the Reed building, located between the United States National and the Omaha National bank buildings. With this arrangement, the entrances of the United States bank will be in the Reed building.

The huge rental price was offered by Woolworth, it is reported, when the Woolworth people discovered a rival chain was negotiating for the location.

A deal was pending between the bank and the Kresge company, which operates a chain of stores in competition to Woolworth, when the latter concern learned of the negotiations and immediately came forward with a higher bid.

In addition to the store location, the Woolworth company is leasing storage space in the basement of the Omaha National Bank.

According to J. N. Monlan, manager of the Woolworth store at Sixteenth and Douglas streets, the Woolworth company will continue in the present location and operate the second store as well.

The new Woolworth store will be almost next door to the McCrory 5 and 10-cent store, which is said to pay $50,000 a year as rental. McCrory subleases part of its space, however.

Cub Mountain Lions Are Pets of This Girl of Rocky Mountains

Washington, D. C., July 23.—Cornelia Bakker is the daughter of Bob Bakker, champion "live lion" catcher of the Rocky mountains. They live on the western boundary of Glacier National park where Bakker has captured 500 mountain lions in the last 20 years, thus earning the record of having done more than an army of big game hunters in protecting the deer of this vast game preserve, according to the Bureau of National Parks.

Cornelia makes pets of the cub mountain lions that are some times included in her father's catches. He tames and ropes the old lions with a lariat.

The tragedy of it all is that Cornelia has to part with her pets when they grow up and become ferocious. Her father then sells them to circuses and Cornelia cries at the parting. Then it is up to dad to bring in another litter of lion cubs for Cornelia to raise on the bottle.
