

Open Drives Ellen to Victory in Feature of Thursday's Ak Harness Race

Final Heat of 2:12 Pace Proves Thriller to Fans

Several Minutes Required by Judges to Decide Four Horses That Ran in Money.

ELLEN R., 2-year-old trotter by Bingen Silk from the Ed Peterson stable and driven by Roy Owen, Omaha reinsman, won the Nebraska Racing Commission 2-year-old trot, the feature race at Ak-Sar-Ben field yesterday afternoon, finishing first in the first two heats and second in the third heat.

A small crowd of fans and fanettes turned out to witness the second day's program of harness events and again were treated to thrilling finishes. Especially was this true in the third and final heat of the 2:12 pace when the finish was so close that the judges required several minutes to decide on the four horses that came in the money, and when they did decide on Eva Rose as winner of the heat, the pari-mutuels paid the longest price of the meeting, $59.40 on the five $2 tickets that were purchased on Eva's bezer.

Newsey Sportlets

Bludge of Washington were a better batsman he would be using with Joe Dugan of New York for the honor of being the best third sacker in the American league. He is every bit as good a fielder.

Harvard has gone to the West coast to secure a rowing coach, for the appointment of Fred Spurr, a member of this year's Washington University crew, as an assistant coach for next year has been announced.

Spurr, who rowed at seven, was awarded a yearly cup for the person on the rowing crew that proved the most inspiration to that group. He will probably have charge of the 150-pound class at Harvard.

National league umpires say that if pitcher Tony Kaufmann had a good disposition he would be twice as good a pitcher. According to the umpires, Kaufmann labors under the delusion that he throws nothing but strikes.

The newest "iron man" of baseball is "Pea Ridge" Day, the big twirler of the Muskegon Western association team. Recently Day pitched a double-header victory against Joplin, allowing only one hit in the second game.

Leading all of the amateurs in the recent Pacific Northwest golf championship, Dr. O. C. Willing of Portland proved his medicine for the rest of the competitive field. Last year the good doctor was runner-up in the Oregon state championship. He is to be remembered nationally for his fine play with the American cup team abroad last year.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington baseball club, has offered the use of his baseball park for the Marines-Third corps football game which is to be played in December. Baltimore and Philadelphia also want the big game.

The impending transfer of the Salt Lake City franchise may enable Spokane to realize her long standing ambition to get into the Pacific Coast league.

Detroit Free Press: The Athletics of Brooklyn, winners of the baseball championship in 1864 and 1865, went through two seasons without sustaining a defeat.

The speedy Maurice Archdeacon has been going so well of late that he will probably continue as a fixture in the Chicago White Sox outfield.

Mary K. Browne, former national singles champion, will play in the Eastern tennis tournament and titular play this fall.

Chief Moses Yellowhorse, formerly of the Pittsburgh National league club, is now without a place to play baseball. He was sent to Fort Worth of the Texas league a couple of weeks ago, but could not play. He was released. Yellowhorse attracted the attention of National league scouts a few years ago while with Little Rock. Since then he has been shipped all over the country, after having failed with Pittsburgh.

Omaha Bee Selections

First race: 2:12 trot, Noble Aubrey, Teviston, Eleanor K., Tip T. E. Second race: 2:12 trot, Marla Dale, Marvin Dale, Trille, Dr. T. E. Third race: 2:20 pace, Teddy, J., Larkspur, Little Bonnie, Russia Silk.

Newell-Davis Win City Net Doubles Title

LOSING the 25th annual city tennis tournament, the most successful ever held, David Davis, singles champion, and Ralph Newell, runner-up in countless tournaments, but who has never won a championship before, defeated Art Scribner, former champ, and T. T. "Spikes" Kennedy, the "daddy" of them all, in gripping three-set affair for the doubles championship yesterday, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

The match was far superior from point of form displayed, and slashing fighting powers, exhibited than any match in the tourney.

The teams were battling for every point. Their stroking was awesome, while the masterful net play of the winners left the small gallery gasping time and again.

Scribner and Kennedy attempted to play the job game against the champions. This game had won for them against Powell and Koch, but before the slashing drives of the champions yesterday they were forced to abandon this style.

The work of Newell and Davis at the net was by far the best display of net work seen in the tournament, while their backcourt work was on a par with that of Scribner and Kennedy.

Knights, Wows Play Tie Game

One of those ball games that a person often reads about in books, was staged at Fontenelle park last night when the Woodmen of the World and Knights of Columbus battled to a nine-inning tie, 1 to 1. For eight innings Krupek, of the Woodmen, and Tommy Shanahan of the Knights, pitched shutout ball.

The contest was originally carded to go seven innings, but with the score tied, 0 to 0 at the end of the seventh, Umpire Knapp allowed the teams to battle until darkness made it necessary to quit.

After the Knights had scored a marker in the last round on Nick's long tripled to right field and J. F. Mirsky's sacrifice, Manager Kudack of the Woodmen tied the count when he socked the old apple a mighty whop and sent it on its way to deep center field and scored a moment later on Donahue's wild throw to third base.

As a result of last night's game the question of who will be the fourth team in the first division of the Metropolitan league still remains unsolved. Manager Greene of the Knights wants to play a coin to decide the winner of yesterday's twilight contest while Gus Kudack, boss of the Woodmen crew, is in favor of playing the same out.

The managers of the two teams will come to a decision by 9 this morning. Should the teams play the contest out it will be staged tonight at Fontenelle park.

Jack Bernstein Wins Over Zivic

New York, July 23.—Jack Bernstein, former world's junior lightweight champion, received the judges' decision over Jack Zivic of Pittsburgh in their 12-round bout tonight at Henderson's bowl, Brooklyn.

The bout was one of a series of elimination affairs to produce a contender for the lightweight title, held by Benny Leonard. It was a fast and furious encounter all the way.

The victories of these three teams is attributable to the physical condition of the competitors and their loyalty to their country, with their never-say-die spirit.

The Argentinians were in such splendid physical and mental trim that as individuals they finished stronger than their rivals in practically every bout. Such condition and capable handling of the men at the ringside speaks volumes of praise for the Argentine coach, manager and officials.

The United States and British boxers must beware unless Argentina, Chile or Uruguay capture the laurels in the next Olympic.

New York, July 24.—Jack Bernstein of New York won a judges' decision over Jack Zivic of Pittsburgh in a 12-round bout in Brooklyn. Bernstein weighed 135½ and Zivic 136.

New York.—Late Angelo Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, conferred with Ted Richards, promoter, but no date was set for the forthcoming Firpo-Harry Wells bout.

Argentina lost several verdicts after the men apparently had won all the way, yet they finished third in the official scoring with six points although they brought a team of only 11 men, while we and the British each had 12.

Ladies Admitted Free to Ak Race Meet Today

Charlie Trimble, secretary of the Ak-Sar-Ben harness races which opened a four day meeting at Ak field yesterday, announced this morning that ladies will be admitted free of charge to the races Friday afternoon, third day of the meeting.

Two trot and a pace will feature Ladies' day with the 2:12 trot for the opening event and the 2:20 pace for the Nebraska Racing Commission purse the closing race on the program.

Large fields are entered in each race and close finishes are bound to crop up in each event.

The first day's racing Wednesday brought out a small crowd, but mightily close and interesting finishes. The pari-mutuels didn't click so rapidly as when the runners are pounding the mile Ak oval, but when they did some good prices were paid on the harness horse winners.

The second day's program will be raced this afternoon.

NURMI'S PAL WILL WRITE

Special Series of Five Articles Instructing Athletes How to Run a Winning Last.

Nurmi, the ankle jogger, is the man who gave America the gasping gaspers.

He is the first athlete to carry an alarm clock with him to wake him up in case any competitor gets dangerous.

He could make Zev look like a grazing cow.

Nurmi could make Barney Oldfield pull in his neck and steer for a lake of smelling salts.

The great Finn will come over here and against our best. He will have them dizzy with a color blind engineer trying to catch fireflies in the daytime.

All Finns are great runners. They live on bread and cheese.

That may sound like a laugh in the stovepipe. But did you ever consider that antelope eat nothing but hay?

Although Nurmi is a wonderful toe jockey, his best friend on his uncle's side is a greater runner than he is. He also eats nothing but bread and cheese.

Nurmi's uncle is a man by the name of Nurmi. His friend is named Nurmi too. He will instruct young Americans how to run marathons any time they are needed.

Anybody can run a marathon. But the important thing is to have one in your shoes when you need it.

We have secured the exclusive ferryboat rights to Nurmi's friend's articles. If you can't run a marathon read these articles your eyes examined by a different laundry.

OMAHA SPORTS DEFEAT SAM ELLAS

The Omaha Sporting Goods company grasped a tighter hold on second place in the American league by defeating the Sam Ellas last night at Mundy beach by the score of 5 to 0.

On the mound for the Sporting Goods men, allowed the Ames avenue barbers had two safe blows.

The sportsped hurler for the Sporting Goods men had his slow ball working to perfection and at no time did Pascal's men look dangerous.

"Chick" Black, with three safe blows out of three times at bat, carried off the hitting honors for the winners.

Samland, third-sacker for the winners, handled 19 chances for the club and the sportsped hurler for the Sporting Goods men, allowed the Ames avenue barbers had two safe blows.

Amateur Federation Eliminates Three Events From Future Olympics

ARIS, July 24.—The 10,000-meter walk, the cross-country run of the same distance, the pentathlon and the 2,000-meter meter track race were eliminated from future Olympic track and field meets by the congress of the International Federation of Amateur Athletes in session here.

The Illinois relay team of Crogh, Baker, Watson and Ray was officially recorded as doing 17 minutes 21.5 seconds for four miles in America on June 23, 1923. The mark of 3 minutes 16 seconds for the 1,500-meter mile by the American team of Cook, Hehrich, Donald and Stevenson, in the Olympic games on July 13, and Harold Osborne's decathlon record of 770-75 points, made on July 10 and 11 in the Olympics, were also approved as world's figures.

Lack of interest in the walk and the cross-country races, and the opinion that the pentathlon was not a real all-around test and that the 2,000-meter race made the distance events too heavy, led to the conclusion.

Several world's records were confirmed by the federation as official.

Robert Lefevre, formerly of Georgetown, now of the Newark Athletic club, was credited with leaping 7 meters 76½ centimeters, (25 feet 3½ inches) for the running broad jump in the pentathlon at the recent Olympiad.

The time of 41 seconds for the Olympic 400-meter relay, made by the American array of Louis Clark, Francis Hensley, Loren Murchison and Alfred McConey, was approved. They did this on July 13.

The federation also confirmed as a world's record the mark made by Charley Brookins of Iowa, of 23:15 seconds for the 220-yard hurdles on July 6, 1923, in America, and the time of 7 minutes 47.5 seconds, made by the American team of McKillop, MacInerney, Cayanaugh and Welch, in America, on April 26 last.

In the 2:12 pace it became necessary under the two-heat plan for Dan Finch and the Great Chance to go an extra mile to decide the winner, the former winning in a drive.

Francis J. won the first heat, but was distant in the second.

Another large crowd was present to witness the sport. Thursday "Pop" Geers will drive Peter Manning against the world's trotting record.

Rigoulet Finishes First in Olympic Weight Lifting

PARIS, July 23. (By A. P.)—Rigoulet of France finished first in the Olympic weight lifting competition for light heavyweights contested today and tonight. Heisenberger of Switzerland was second, Friedrich of Austria, third, Fredberg of Austria, fourth, Dr. Bergara of Argentina, fifth, and Dr. Scharerer, Switzerland, sixth. Rigoulet scored 1,005 points.

Heisenberger broke the world record in the one hand clean and jerk event, shouldering and lifting up 107.5 kilograms (237 pounds). He exceeded by more than 25 pounds the old record held by Hallap of Estonia.

THOMAS WINS JAY-HUSKER GOLF TITLE

Beatrice, Neb., July 23.—Dr. L. E. Thomas of Hebron successfully defended his title as champion of the Jay-Husker Golf association here today when he defeated F. Huntman, also of Hebron, 5 up and 3, in the 36-hole final round of the 1924 tournament.

The champion went into the lead early in the match, maintaining his advantage throughout of the club and by playing a careful and conservative game of golf. His adversary, however, although stronger in driving, was erratic and dubbed several of his shots at crucial moments.

Both were handicapped by the intense heat and a strong wind that several times carried their drives far into the rough.
