REBELS DRIVEN FROM SAO PAULO

Bryan Will Not Sponsor Defense Day

Governor Will Mobilize the Guard September 12, But Refuses to Issue Proclamation to Citizens.

Believes President Misled

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, Neb., July 28.—Stating that he believed President Coolidge had been misled by the War department as to the purpose of "Defense day," Governor Charles Bryan today refused to issue the proclamation calling upon citizens to observe "Defense day" on September 12.

Governor Bryan declared that he would call out all state troops on that day and appoint a committee to arrange patriotic demonstrations for the day, but that he would not sponsor the "mobilization" of citizens, which he branded as "a scheme to glorify war" and as "repulsive to the people of Nebraska."

According to the governor, the War department requested him to call on everyone to take part in a militaristic demonstration.

The plan, he said, provided for committees made by him in each community to see that every citizen took part in the demonstrations, and suggested that they should consist of men who could be called upon to serve on draft boards.

Governor Bryan declared that he had informed Maj. Gen. George B. Duncan, commander Seventh Corps area, and Adjutant General Paul of the Nebraska National guard that he would not issue the proclamation.

The governor's announcement was made in connection with a letter received from Duncan asking him to name a state committee to supervise the mobilization.

By H. K. REYNOLDS, International News Service Staff Correspondent. Washington, July 28.—Withdrawal of American diplomatic representatives from Persia unless that government makes adequate and prompt reparations because of the killing of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie at Teheran was threatened today by the United States government in one of the most blunt and outspoken notes that has ever been issued by the State department.

The maintenance of diplomatic relations between Persia and the United States, said the American note, is dependent upon the according of "adequate protection to their respective nationals and to their official representatives."

The note was handed to the Persian authorities at Teheran by Joseph Saul Kornfeld, the American minister, and Consul Imbrie's immediate superior.

Demand Reparation. Payment of reparations to Mrs. Imbrie, widow of the vice consul, and the paying of the expenses of sending a United States battleship to Persia to bring Imbrie's body back to this country for burial were demanded of the Persian government in the note.

"The government feels," the note declared, "that the continuance of its diplomatic and consular representation in Persia will be dependent upon the action which the Persian government may take in this case to vindicate the fundamental principle of international law and this foundation upon which international intercourse is predicated."

(The reference is to mutual guarantees of protection to the nationals of the other countries.) This government, it was stated by Minister Kornfeld, "awaits such action to supplement the steps already taken by the Persian government. It cannot over emphasize the seriousness of the view which is taken of the present situation."

Battleship to Persia. One of the battleships now in European or Asiatic waters, will be sent to Persia to bring back Maj. Imbrie's body. The present vessel in Persian waters, it was pointed out, will serve to make it clear to the Persian authorities that this government is prepared to go to any limit to enforce its demands on Persia and insure itself that there will be no repetition of the events which led to the assassination of the vice consul, the injury of a member of his party, and subsequent insults to his widow.
