

Railroads Ready to Handle Quickly Big Wheat Crop

Many empty Cars on Storage Tracks in Platte Valley—Shipments Being Made From Deshler.

Columbus, Neb., July 28.—Idle engines and a large number of freight cars on storage tracks are more than sufficient to handle the bumper wheat crop of the Platte valley and central Platte valley, according to announcements made by the representatives of the Union Pacific and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy here. Light movements of corn during the early summer have had much to do with the available number of box cars that can be used to ship harvest products.

Deshler, July 28.—Ten cars of new wheat have been shipped from Deshler and there continues to be delivered at the two elevators here 6,000 to 8,000 bushels a day. The yield is from 20 to 35 bushels an acre and the quality is excellent. The price paid is about $1.06 a bushel.

York, July 28.—Threshing machines have started work in some places in York county. Wheat is testing out from 60 to 64 pounds and averaging 20 or more bushels to the acre. On the farm of Clem Manson, near Lusk, a field of 20 acres yielded 1,073 bushels and tested 63 pounds.

Ashton, July 28.—Threshing has started in Sherman county and wheat is producing well. Walter Luk, living one mile north of town, threshed 13 acres of wheat that made 55 bushels to the acre. This is a record yield in this county.

Beatrice, July 28.—A. M. P.ink, living near Wymore, threshed his oats crop and received a yield of 60 bushels to the acre, believed to be a record for the state. He says that his wheat averaged 25 bushels to the acre.

Attorney Fulton Jack of this city, who has just returned from a business trip to Washington, D. C., and to a visit at his old home in Pennsylvania, says the best corn he saw on the trip was between Omaha and Beatrice, although there are promising fields in some sections of Iowa and Illinois.

Chappell, July 28.—Deuel county is harvesting one of the biggest yields of wheat it has had for several years, and the quality is of the best. The best crop here, seven miles north of Chappell, report the largest yield to date. They measured one acre of wheat, threshed it with a Deering Combine harvester, hauled the wheat to the Farmers elevator at Chappell, and it weighed out 64 and a fraction bushels.

Several others are reporting yields running from 30 to 50 bushels an acre including fields of 320 acres. Corn is backward but is growing nicely, but needs a good general rain to help it along. Oats and barley are fair.

Farmers Elevator company received 128 loads of wheat on Friday which averaged about 60 bushels to the load.

Farmers are feeling a great deal better than they have for several years and they all expect to cut down their indebtedness this year and reduce their interest.

Business Is Coming Omaha's Way as Result of Increase in Middle Western Prosperity, Survey Shows

Omaha has things coming its way, according to the Chamber of Commerce publicity bureau, and the bureau means desirable things, too.

A survey is being made by the bureau which shows that Omaha and vicinity is becoming a "mecca for homeseekers who have an eye to the surge of prosperity now getting under way in the middle west."

W. W. Koller of the Gordon Warehouse and Van company reported to the chamber that on this Monday his company received orders from 28 families who are moving to Omaha from California to handle their household goods on arrival here.

"Up till nine months ago we received an average of four to five carloads of household goods a month to be loaded and shipped to California," said Mr. Koller. "But since last October we have not averaged one carload a month for shipment out west, while the number received here has been steadily increasing."

"Shipments of household goods into Omaha have always exceeded those going out, so far as our company is concerned, but the difference has grown to such proportions in the past few months that it is decidedly remarkable."

The bureau attributes this change to the general reawakening of business in Nebraska, Omaha and the middle west, due to a large extent to increased prices for corn, wheat and livestock, and the splendid crops that are forecast, heralded by newspapers of the state.

Hogs Reached 10. Hogs reached $10 per 100-weight on the Omaha livestock market Monday for the first time since October 3, 1922, it was announced by the United States Department of Agriculture. Advances in grain prices, a strong demand for porks and lard, and a decrease in receipts of about 50 per cent at Omaha and other leading market centers, were given as factors responsible for the new high prices.

A dispatch from Wymore, Neb., to The Omaha Bee states that a "greatly increased movement of new wheat this season through Wymore destined to Lincoln and Omaha firms, as against former years, when the movement from southern Nebraska territory was almost entirely to the St. Joseph and Kansas City markets, is being noted."

"Shipments of household goods into Omaha have always exceeded those going out, so far as our company is concerned, but the difference has grown to such proportions in the past few months that it is decidedly remarkable."

Rest assured that it is exactly what it will do. And every one of the 500 cents in the $5 will buy milk or ice to preserve the milk. Nobody takes a penny for administering this fund. Visiting nurses look after the babies personally and order the milk sent to desperately poor families where it is most needed.

Aged Man Saved From Suicide by Bridge Workers

Follow Him Into Missouri River—Drawn Back to Shore as He Is About to Sink.

H. P. Callahan, 78, was rescued from suicide in the Missouri river just before noon Monday by members of a gang working on the Douglas street bridge.

Callahan has lived in Omaha 40 years and was an engineer on the Union Pacific up till he was 60. He lives at 1010 South Twenty-eighth street.

The men working on the bridge saw the aged man wading out into the river. The water was up to his waist when J. J. Maurer, 2219 Dodge street, shouted at him from the bridge and then slid down a rope to the ground, closely followed by L. D. Dean, 3318 West Broadway, Council Bluffs, and H. Tanner.

Water Up To Neck. The three followed the aged man into the stream, holding on by ropes. They caught him when the water was nearly up to his neck and drew him back to shore.

Police were summoned and Earl Sherwood and George Crandall responded.

"Why don't you let me die," said Callahan. "No man should live to be older than 60. I'm way beyond that and haven't anything more to do in the world. Let me go back and jump in. I might jump off the top of the bridge, but I'm afraid to do that. But I want to leave the world."

Mrs. Ruby Callahan, 68, his wife, said he has a good home and showed no signs of being weary of life. About a month ago he was in an accident and fell on his head. It is believed this may have affected him.
