

Butler Not to Run With La Follette, Says Sorenson

Move Injects Ku Klux Klan and Liquor Issues Into Nebraska Politics, He Claims.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 2.—"There is no danger of Dan Butler of Omaha being placed on the La Follette ticket in Nebraska when that ticket is prepared at the Grand Island convention August 19, when true La Follette followers meet to prepare a La Follette ballot."

This was the heated statement today by C. A. Sorenson of Lincoln, who is struggling with W. H. Green and J. L. Beebe for control of the La Follette campaign.

"The La Follette campaign managers have requested time and again that the La Follette candidacy be kept independent of state politics and those men in Omaha who claim to be La Follette leaders are not even friends of La Follette," Sorenson continued.

Against La Follette. "The Midwest News which bears the names of Green and Beebe as associate editors published editorial after editorial against La Follette when he issued a request that his friends stay away from the St. Paul convention. Now they claim to lead his cause."

"Of course, as I am not a member of the progressive party I can say nothing about that party choosing Butler for governor. But I think it will be demonstrated that in the end La Follette will run on a different ballot than Butler and other progressive candidates."

"I want to say now that by making Butler a gubernatorial candidate it injects the Ku Klux Klan issue and the liquor issue squarely into Nebraska politics."

Means Bitter Fight. Governor Bryan was asked to make comment on the selection of Butler today.

"I have not received official notification of his nomination," the governor said.

State politicians in Lincoln assert that the action taken by Beebe and Green in nominating Butler means a bitter fight between the Sorenson and Beebe-Green radical forces for control of the La Follette campaign. The politicians say there is no doubt that Sorenson controls the so-called radical farm vote, represented by the non-partisan league.

New Manager for Buggess-Nash Co.

Arrival of Frank Halbach Revealed at Hearing on Petition for Receiver.

A new general manager has arrived to take complete charge of the Buggess-Nash store, it was revealed at a hearing of the bankruptcy petition before Judge Woodruff in federal court Saturday.

The new general manager is Frank Halbach of Quincy, Ill., new member of the board of directors.

Declared Not Insolvent. Announcement that Mr. Halbach had taken charge was made by E. M. Morsman, attorney for the Buggess-Nash company, during the progress of the hearing.

Mr. Morsman declared the Buggess-Nash company was not insolvent and that appointment of a receiver, as sought by the petitioners, would upset all plans for reorganization.

$1,000 a Day. "Mr. Halbach is now in charge," said Mr. Morsman, "and we have implicit faith in his ability. A change in his management would mean utter ruin of the store."

W. C. Dorsey, attorney for some of the creditors seeking a receiver, charged that the Buggess-Nash company had failed to carry out the stipulations of an agreement made on March 13 and that preferred payments had been made to New York and Chicago banks.

The hearing was continued until Tuesday.

Threshing Ends in Gage County

Bumper Crop of Corn Expected; Small Grain All Stacked.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Beatrice, Neb., Aug. 2.—This evening marked the close of one of the busiest threshing seasons in the history of Gage county, thousands of bushels of wheat and oats being placed on the local markets for shipment to Kansas City and Omaha.

Most of the small grain crop in this section has either been threshed or stacked, and the next few days will see the work well in hand, provided the weather remains favorable.

Prospects are that Gage county will produce a bumper crop of corn and while it is not suffering from lack of moisture, a good rain at the present time would be beneficial.

He persuaded a small boy to carry a note to Helen Novak before he died. The contents of the note are not known. Young Placek was a graduate of the Wilber High school, class of '22, and was a son of Jim Placek, retired farmer, resident of Wilber for the last 10 years.

Bryan's Plan to Lure Vote Frustrated

Republican Members of State Board Block Branded Effort to Make Omaha the "Goat."

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 2.—The state board of equalization today voted not to boost the valuation of Douglas county $10,000,000 for state tax purposes.

This was said to have been Governor Bryan's and Secretary of State Pool's scheme to finance an out-state reduction or holding to present valuations, thus making possible a "tax-reducing" showing.

Program Falls Flat. Commissioner Unitt and others went from Omaha and "read the riot act" to the governor recently on the proposition, refusing to have Douglas county made "the goat."

State Treasurer Robinson and State Auditor Marsh, the only two republicans on the board, refused to go through with the Bryan program and it fell flat today.

Rail Plea Denied. The board fixed the 1924 levy at 1.8 mills on a state valuation of $3,155,359,767. It also denied the request of these railroads for reductions in their valuations for tax purposes: Union Pacific, Northwestern, Burlington, "Omaha," Missouri Pacific, Rock Island and St. Joseph and Grand Island.

The state levy, as made, will raise $5,733,647.85.

Green Fruit Blamed for Deaths of Council Bluffs Boy and Girl

Eating of green fruit caused the death of a little girl of 4 and a boy of 3 in Council Bluffs.

Saturday morning at 9 in Holy Family church the funeral of Beatrice Johnson, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, 1516 Avenue I, was held and the body was buried in St. Joseph cemetery.

Beatrice became ill Tuesday night, was taken to the Jennie Edmondson hospital on Wednesday and died Thursday morning. Her father said several children became sick after eating green plums from a tree in a yard in the neighborhood. The child's illness was at first diagnosed as spinal meningitis.

She is survived by her parents, a brother and four sisters. Mr. Johnson is employed at the Omaha gas plant.

Friday morning Ronald Hansen, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hansen, 2648 Avenue L, died in convulsions said to have been brought on by eating of a green apple. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 with interment in Walnut Hill cemetery.

Wind-Gust Cost Airman His Life

Comrade of Flyer Who Fell at Grave in Reno Pays Respects.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 2.—A coroner's jury will determine how William F. Blanchfield, air mail pilot, met his death yesterday afternoon. But the men of the service know that "Big Bill" lost his life paying his last respects to a "buddy," one of the men who work on the ground, but who are entrusted with keeping the planes in perfect order.

They know, too, that a trick of the wind when Blanchfield was flying over a Reno cemetery to drop a wreath on the open grave as mourners stood above the flag-draped coffin, caught the craft as the pilot turned for the closing act in the funeral service and tipped it. The plane went into a nose dive and burst into flames on hitting telephone wires. A house by which it landed also was destroyed by the fire.

And so Blanchfield, veteran of the world war and numerous battles with blizzards while carrying the mail over the Nevada deserts died.

Mourners, as the services at the grave were briefly concluded with the firing of three volleys by uniformed veterans, went to the pyre of the pilot, a few yards down the hillside. Funeral arrangements for the dead pilot will be delayed until arrival of relatives. A brother, Michael F. Blanchfield, is expected from San Jose, Cal., today. A sister, Mrs. Leo Duffy, resides in New York City. He also is survived by his mother, who lives in Cork, Ireland.

Blanchfield served with the British royal flying corps during the war. He is a native of Ireland, 29 years of age.

Joining the air mail service in January, 1921, he is ranked as one of the premier fliers of the service.

Flew 300,000 Miles. He flew his first plane in 1914.

Alleged Slayer Caught in Ohio

Crime Charged Is Murder of Tourist Near West Liberty, Ia.

Tiffin, O., Aug. 2.—Harlon Simmons, 26, Tipton, Iowa, alias Gabe Simmons, alias Fred J. Smith, was arrested here late last night by Police Chief Clyde Bordner and Motor Patrolman C. L. Lamont of Davenport, Ia. He is accused of beating Otto Ferguson, 49, Michigan tourist, to death near West Liberty, Ia., July 13.

Simmons, known here as Smith, was taken on the farm of Mrs. Mary E. Smith, four miles north of Tiffin, where he had been working as a farm hand for a week. Simmons declares he is not the man who attacked and killed Ferguson.

Extradition papers have been made out and Simmons will accompany Lamont back, starting today for Muscatine, Ia., where Simmons is under indictment for alleged murder.

Lamont traced Simmons to Tiffin by postmarked letters sent to friends in Davenport.

"I'm not afraid if the woman tells the truth," said Simmons, referring to the wife of the slain Ferguson.

He said he remained in West Liberty two days after the attack on Ferguson and denied he knew he was wanted for the crime. Simmons said he used an alias because newspaper accounts connected his name with the affair. Simmons declared he did not go near the tourist camp the night in question and saw Ferguson only when he gave him directions for reaching the camp. He has an air-tight alibi he says.

When the officers arrived at the Smith farm, Simmons was driving a team for threshing. He made no effort to break away and told Lamont that it was not necessary to read the warrant, as he knew what it was.

Officer Lamont and Simmons started back to Davenport, early today.
