GERMANY STALLS ON RUHR TANGLE

Conciliatory Reply to French Proposal to Be Made Tonight.

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 15.—Chancellor Marx went to Downing street at 6 o'clock this evening to acquaint Premier MacDonald with the German reply on the problem of the military evacuation of the Ruhr.

By DAVID M. CHURCH,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Aug. 15.—A conciliatory reply to France's proposals for evacuation of the Ruhr was drawn up for presentation this afternoon by the German delegation to the Allied reparations conference.

In some quarters it was said that Germany's answer was "virtually acceptance" of the French terms. International News Service was informed, however, that the reply makes acceptance possible but that further negotiations probably would be necessary.

The German communication is a lengthy document. It was drafted after President Ebert had communicated the gist of German political views to Chancellor Marx.

Up to Delegates.

Berlin virtually placed responsibility for the reply upon the German conference delegation but it is understood that the ministers in Berlin suggested counter proposals as a possible means of obtaining better evacuation terms for the Germans.

The Germans planned to ask France and Belgium to state their demands in a diplomatic note to which Germany will reply. Germany considers its rights have been injured here, maintaining that the separate Ruhr negotiations have not been conducted in the spirit of the conference.

However, the Germans had no alternative but submit, announcing tentative acceptance under duress.

Acceptance Delayed.

Chancellor Marx and his colleagues had decided to accept the French Ruhr terms last night, but received word from Berlin that President Ebert wished to have conferences with various political leaders first, so the Teuton envoys postponed action until today.

MAN WHO RESCUED ROOSEVELT HERE

John Allen, 33, Atchison, Kan., who carried Maj. Teddy Roosevelt, now assistant secretary of the navy, from the battlefield at Soissons July 19, 1918, is visiting his brother, V. A. Allen, 2335 North Sixty-first street.

For the last six years Allen has had a continuous headache as the result of a wound received just before he reached his comrades with his burden. A piece of shrapnel smashed the upper three vertebrae of his spine. The spinal cord is now unprotected across the gap; his head is upheld by a steel brace.

"I would do it over again," says Allen.

WOMAN FAINTS AS POLICE CALL

Nettie Wolfson, 4944 North Sixteenth street, provided the police with a thrill Wednesday evening when two officers came to her home to serve a warrant on Dorris Wilson and Mrs. E. Schlotfield. The warrant charged the two women with disturbing the peace.

The officers entered the house and asked for the two women named in the warrant, explained what it was and then were called on to catch Miss Wolfson as she fell.

Miss Wolfson is troubled with a weak heart. The appearance of the officers was too much. She fainted.

PULMOTOR FAILS TO SAVE GIRL, 17

Police pulmotor was rushed to St. Joseph hospital Wednesday morning in a vain effort to save the life of Rena Daywald, 17, Mondamin (Ia.) high school girl, who went into convulsions while on the operating table.

The girl was to have her tonsils removed. Death was said due to dilation of the heart. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Daywald. The father charges that negligence is responsible for the death.

WOMEN TOURISTS ARE HURT IN CRASH

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Fremont, Neb., Aug. 14.—Mrs. John Garrison suffered painful cuts on one eye and Mrs. Edward Hoffman suffered a sprained knee and minor bruises when a car driven by Mrs. Hoffman's husband collided with a tourist headed east on the Lincoln highway late Wednesday night. The tourist, who gave his name as Charles J. Motis, of Chicago, figured in another accident Thursday afternoon shortly after leaving the garage where repairs were made as a result of the first mishap.

In the first accident, the two cars crashed head on when Motis claimed to have been blinded by bright lights of an approaching car. The front end of his car was badly damaged while the Hoffman car was literally wrecked. Mrs. Garrison was cut by flying glass which struck her in one eye. Doctors were unable to say today whether the sight of the injured optic would be permanently impaired.
