There's lots of room for the as sertion that the Pirates have been proving themselves a better team than the Giants. On the run of the season, they have licked the Giants 13 times and fallen but six times before the National league champions. In their last two series, the Pirates have only lost one game to the Manager McKechnie has been rotating very successfully five hurlers -Cooper, Yde, Kremer, Meadows and Morrison. He has Jeff Pfeffer and young Stone in reserve, using the latter for "undertaking" jobs, which have been rare. .Yde won eight games before being beaten for first time in the majors by Brooklyn. He is an outstanding sensation and is believed by some critics as due to being the greatest southpaw in the business. Cooper and eadows have never been better in Another interesting bout on the list brings Georges Carpentier, fallen boxing idol of France, into a ring with Jimmy tire from the hemped enclosure.

Of the three champions who are to swing into action, the one who seems to be in most danger of being knocked from under his crown, is "Kid" Sullivan, This veteran of many years of campaigning in the squared circle took the crown from Johnny Dundee a short time ago, surprising the en-tire boxing world. For years the Italian boy from the Gowanus section of Brooklyn was rated a good semi-finalist but never had been prominent as a old to improve, but he entered the ring in perfect condition against the 'Scotch wop" and surprised even his

New Clubs. I used to be a great of harboring any tender and affect tionate ideas regarding clubs. I was thoroughly cured of that, I think, the day when a rusty and useless old putting cleek I had long cherished lost me a chance at a championship at Apawamis. I got a beating that was all on the greens, and I got it because I had some foolish affections for a worn-out club.

The makers of golf equipment now improve the clubs so fast, and incorhelpful things in the clubs that never know now when I shall add a new member to my bag. The golf club is the instrument with which you play your game. Clubs are the tools of war, so to speak. The better you are equipped the better your game will be, obvious ly. But golfers have a strange habit of developing a real feeling for one glub or another. This is very good own backers by beating Dundee by a so long as the club does all that you safe margin at the end of 15 torrid expect it to do. But the player will go through physical changes and will, perhaps because of devotion to the out of doors pastime, become stronger in his forearms, shoulders, wrists Suddenly his favorite driver, we will say, begins to fall down on him. But he holds onto it because of his affection for it. If he understands what has happened it will dawn on him that the time has arrived to buy new driver and throw the old one into the creek, affections and all. Its day has nassed.

Other players have a club or two with which they never feel confident They carry these to "experiment They draw them forth not and then with never any sense o security, hoping all the time that the day may come when they really can use such a club efficiently. Any such clubs should go into the discard.
