

Civil War Vet, Shocked at Wife's Death, Also Dies 15 Minutes Later

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Atlantic, Ia., Aug. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stewart of Griswold died within 15 minutes of each other, due to excitement at a G. A. R. celebration. Mrs. Stewart, in company with friends, was preparing to attend a speech by Lieutenant Governor John Hammill, republican gubernatorial candidate. She became suddenly ill and died before medical aid could reach her. She had suffered from heart disease for several years.

The shock of his wife's death proved fatal within a few minutes to Mr. Stewart, who also was a sufferer from heart disease.

Police Seek Boy.

O. N. Newton, 521 South Twentieth street, has asked police to search for his son, Oscar, 14, who left home Wednesday.

W. J. Connell Will Demand Payment of Hospital Notes

$500,000 Estate to Children; $9,500 Annual Income to Descendants for 99 Years.

W. J. Connell, Omaha attorney, left an estate said to total close to $500,000, principally to his four children and their children, in a seven-page will filed in probate court Friday. The will was made on his 78th birthday.

A striking feature of it is contained in the final page titled "Debts and Obligations," in which he directs that certain notes held by the Merchants and Omaha National banks against the Presbyterian hospital, operated until recently by his son, Dr. Karl Connell, shall be paid off within 90 days by Karl. They were endorsed by Mr. Connell.

Unless he does this and thus relieves the estate of any liability the requests to him are to be null and void.

"During over 50 years in Omaha I have never owed a debt I did not pay. This record I want to be maintained," says the will.

Equally Divided. Undivided one-fourth interests in the estate, after special bequests have been paid, are given as follows: Dr. Karl Connell, son; Mrs. Marion Creighton, daughter; Mrs. Hazel Raymond, Lincoln, daughter; and one-fourth to Florence Brown and Helen Connell, children of his deceased son, Ralph.

To these the income of $9,500 a year on property in Hillcrest is to be paid as it comes in, and to their children and descendants for the entire life of the lease, 99 years.

He gives his law library and office furniture and fixtures to his daughter, Mrs. Creighton. "In trust for each one or more of her sons, John D., Edward and Billy, as may become lawyers." Until they may require these things, his nephew, Herbert, is to have use of them.

$1,000 to Secretary. A bequest of $1,000 is made to Bessie Jones, his "faithful, reliable and efficient secretary for 16 years." Herbert Connell, his nephew, receives $500. Howard Malcolm Baldrige and his wife, Regina Connell Baldrige, receive $500 each. His eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild are also bequeathed $500 each. His two sons-in-law, Edward Creighton of Omaha, and Isaac Raymond of Lincoln, are named executors.

AT THE THEATERS

Billed as a feature act with Joe Hurlig's "Hollywood Follies" at the Gayety theater, the "Hollywood Sereaders" is one of the funniest comedy bands ever presented to the public. Marty Collins with his cornet leads this band of merrymakers dressed in nondescript costumes and energetically playing their battered musical instruments. It is an act of which the public never seems to tire. The engagement terminates with today's two performances.

George Niblo and Helen Spencer are scheduled as the attraction at the popular Gayety theater starting tomorrow matinee, in their brand new version of Hurlig and Seamon's "Step On It," with a cast that is bound to meet with the approval of the many followers of Columbia burlesque. Vaudeville specialties abound in "Step On It," headed by the always popular California Trio, melodists supreme. Joe Hurlig has gone to unusual lengths in making this, his pet show, a great one, and has interpolated many beautiful scenes, including a roof garden, a bathing beach, said to be a replica of a famous California resort, and the Hawaiian asylum. Eighteen beautiful choristers disport themselves in 12 changes of modish attire.
