

Stockyards Pay Out Five Billions Here in 20 Years

Industry Growing Rapidly and Omaha Market Will Continue to Grow, Buckingham Predicts.

Everett Buckingham, head of the Union Stockyards company, announced Saturday that during the last 20 years the livestock industry of South Omaha has turned back $5,000,000,000 to producers. This means that the great industry is paying to stock raisers, mostly in the Omaha trade territory, about $250,000,000 a year.

Moreover, the industry is growing rapidly here and so far this year the Omaha market has held second position in receipts, being second only to Chicago. Heavy receipts during the first seven months of the year have placed it ahead of its great rival, Kansas City.

Receipts for the first seven months of the year were larger than a year ago, although 1923 was one of the big years.

During the seven-month period cattle receipts were $25,837 head, an increase over the same period a year ago of 45,207 head; calves, 46,024, or an increase of 2,920 head; hogs, 2,689,964, an increase of 268,953 head. Sheep receipts were 1,364,970, but a comparison with receipts last year were not available.

The total number of cars used in transporting stock to the South Omaha market during the specified period of this year was 77,822, an increase of 3,645 cars over the number used during the same period a year ago.

Although $250,000,000 to the stock producer annually is an enormous figure, Mr. Buckingham does not hesitate to predict that the amount will increase each year.

"We're growing," said Buckingham. "Nothing can stop us."

Nebraska State Fair to Open at Lincoln Sunday

Dog Show to Be Feature This Year; Musical Revue and Carnival to Offer Entertainment.

Clarinda (La.) Pastor, 82, Serves 265 Members; Building $65,000 Church

Has Been in Ministry 57 Years and Held Only Four Pastorates in That Time.

By MARGARET B. RUSSELL. Staff Correspondent of The Omaha Bee. Clarinda, La., Aug. 23.—Dr. W. C. Williamson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church here, at the age of 82, continues an inspirational leader.

With a church membership of 265, a new $65,000 church is in process of erection, cornerstone for which was laid by him August 15. The address was given by Dr. J. A. Thompson, president of Tarkio college, the church history was read by Mrs. William Irwin of Clarinda.

Dr. Williamson is a civil war veteran, and past moderator of the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church, the College Springs Presbytery being one of the strongest of the church.

He has held but four pastorates in his 57 years as a minister, Kansas City, Keokuk, Ia.; Washington, Ia., and Clarinda, coming here in 1909. The church here was organized in 1864, with 14 charter members, one of whom, Mrs. Sarah Lee, mother of Rufus E. Lee, president of the Continental Gas and Electric company, still resides here, an active member.

A total of $22,000 of the building fund for the new church is matured building and loan stock, taken out in 1915 by members of the congregation.

Club Members Plan Building New Quarters

Happy Hollow Members to Be Assessed, Asked to Buy First Mortgage Bonds.

Members of Happy Hollow club will attend a banquet to be held Monday evening at 6:30, at the clubhouse, for the purpose of discussing building plans for the new clubhouse.

A special advisory committee of 50 members met with the board of directors of the club on Friday evening and selected a plan of financing. The plan is an assessment of $100 on all club members on September 1, 1924; sale of first mortgage bonds to members and friends for the entire balance or as much thereof as possible; a second general assessment on February 1, 1925, for any balance remaining unsubscribed to complete the total. First mortgage bonds to be sold to members amount to $206,800. Cost to be $249,500.

The amount for the building of the new clubhouse is $249,500 itemized as follows:

Construction of new clubhouse, $100,000; furniture, equipment, swimming pool, roads, walks and additional ground improvements, $50,000; refunding present bond issue and notes in hands of members due December 1, 1924, $120,000; less amount due Happy Hollow club October 31, 1924, from maturity of Brownell hall mortgage, $75,000; plus purchase of 10 acres for clubhouse site, $4,500; total, $249,500.

Beveridge to Speak.
Of this total amount, $120,000 in bonds and notes are already in the hands of club members. Figuring on a basis of a renewal of $110,000 of this amount, only $96,000 of additional bonds will have to be sold. Linn Campbell has been named chairman of the special bond selling committee. He has selected 15 teams of members who will follow up the work outlined at the banquet on Monday evening.

John H. Beveridge will be the principle speaker at the banquet. It is anticipated that the financing plan will be completed by September 1.

OMAHA ATLAS CLUB OFF TO DAVENPORT

The Omaha Atlas club, augmented by a group of Nebraska chiropractors from other cities, left Omaha Saturday evening in a special car on the Rock Island for Davenport, Ia., to attend the chiropractic symposium and clinics which are being held there.

Atlas International will hold a luncheon Wednesday noon at the Blackhawk hotel, at which Atlas club members from all over the country will be present.

At present the Omaha club and the Lincoln club are the only Atlas chapters in Nebraska, but Dr. Lee W. Edwards, who is a director of the Omaha chapter, says the order has many chapters all through the east.

SUSPECT ADMITS WINDOW THEFTS

Arthur Jackson, arrested Friday by police, is said to have admitted a series of window thefts in South Omaha. Jackson said that he broke the windows with a brick, scooped up as many display articles as possible and ran.

He admits robbery of a shoe store at Twenty-sixth and L streets and the attempted robbery of a window of the store of Martin Kusek, Twenty-seventh and L streets, Thursday night, according to police.

Sleuth Chief's Secretary Realized Boyhood Ambition to Be a Policeman

Gave Up Good Position to Walk Beat—Promotion Rapid in Year of Service.

When Herschel Kline was 7 years old he had that desire of most youngsters to be a policeman. His folks declared he must find some vocation with greater financial returns.

But Kline couldn't see it that way. He did follow various work from a farm hand to selling high priced automobiles. Things were going very nicely, and Kline considered to be "up in the money" in the car business.

Yet during his spare time, Kline couldn't refrain from hanging about police stations in Omaha and smaller Nebraska towns. He admits he got a thrill.

He made up his mind years ago that he liked police work. Commissioner Henry W. Dunn knew of Kline's ambition and decided to give him a chance. That was a year ago. Kline "pounded the pavements" for a while. He was transferred then to the garage department as a driver. Today Kline is secretary to Chief of Detectives Ben Danbaum. Danbaum recommended Kline for the position.

Mrs. Kline, who was inclined at first to talk her husband out of police work, believes now that a man should follow his own inclinations.

Rotary Sponsors County Survey of Crippled Children

Club Plans to Give Maimed Youngsters Treatments and Educate Them.

Traveling from town to town by automobile, Miss Bess Howard, teacher of the first grade at Saratoga school, is making a survey of crippled children in Douglas County.

This survey and tabulation of treatment for correction of the youngsters is to be used by the Omaha Rotary club in its campaign to aid crippled children.

Dr. E. C. Henry is chairman and Ray Kingsley, vice chairman of the committee that is interested in this special work of charity.

Miss Howard started the survey Monday and will continue for three weeks. She has studied social service work in New York City, and is thoroughly capable, said Dr. Henry.

Miss Howard visits home, mothers' organizations in the townships, ministers, editors and doctors in the communities.

"Children who are tucked away and who need a chance are going to be helped by the Rotary club," said Dr. Henry. "The club members will co-operate with all other organizations who are carrying on such work. We will not only try to cure the deformity but will educate the children to fit them for life, if possible." More than 200 children are expected to be found.
