

Rotarians Told of Bad Economic Situation Abroad

Dawes Plan May Help in Germany, but Country is Suffering Now, Traveler Says.

Economic problems are critical in Germany and Austria, declared J. W. Elwood, recent traveler in European countries, who spoke at the noon meeting of the Rotary club at Hotel Fortenella Wednesday.

"While the Dawes plan may help in Germany in time and the Ruhr question may be settled, the country is suffering now," said the speaker. He related how he asked for a 3,000,000-mark note in a bank in Germany and offered to pay the value in American money, but was given the money for nothing.

More than 1,500 persons were attracted to Grand Island by the two conventions, it was estimated. Among them was Adm. Gen. H. J. Paul, who arrived just before adjournment, which followed presentation by the department of a gold watch to retiring Commander Taylor.

The store has a mailing list of more than 17,000 names. It was called the "Cornfield Emporium" in an article in the Saturday Evening Post by Forrest Clay. Garver toured Europe with Helden at the recent British drapers' convention held abroad.

Large Attendance of 145 Rotarians was reported for this first meeting of the fall by Tom Kelly, chairman.

KEARNEY MAN TO COMMAND LEGION

(Continued from Page One.) at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., not to defend the flag and declared that if he had been the head of the institution the 38 "would have been hiking for home as fast as they could."

Attacking the war record of Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion pugilist, Chaplain Clemens declared he hoped that his opponent in his next fight "would push that slagger into the middle of next year."

The windup of the convention's activities followed Chaplain Clemens' address, Commander-Elect Courtney receiving 234-2 votes compared to 132-2 for John H. Lawler of Hastings. On motion of the latter, the election was made unanimous. Auxiliary Elects.

Election of the auxiliary's officers was not completed until late this afternoon. Mrs. J. P. Jensen of Blair was chosen vice president, Mrs. E. T. Ashley of Hastings, treasurer; Miss Margaret Kennedy of Omaha, historian; Mrs. S. L. Maines, Crete, chaplain; and Mrs. John Kilmarlin, Omaha, as alternate national committee-woman.

Members of the auxiliary's executive committee were Mrs. F. R. Gobelman, Plattsmouth; Mrs. F. H. Knott, Herman; Mrs. H. M. Diers, Madison; Mrs. Lloyd Richards, York; Mrs. M. R. Cox, Arapahoe; Mrs. R. H. Hamilton, Long Pine, and Mrs. Glenn Lasalle, Chappell. National convention delegates named were Mrs. N. C. Chaney, Falls City; Mrs. J. P. Jensen, Blair; Mrs. E. C. Warner, Norfolk; Mrs. Lloyd Richards, Norfolk; Mrs. M. R. Cox, Arapahoe; Mrs. R. H. Hamilton, Long Pine, and Mrs. Glenn S. Lasalle, Chappell.

MONEY LUST ONLY MOTIVE FOR CRIME

(Continued from Page One.) street and stopped the demonstration. It was a scene that rivaled those in the time of Louis XIV in the days of the French revolution.

The defense attorneys were bitterly excoriated by State Attorney Crowe and he charged the defense had imposed upon the court all the way through. The "dream world" of the defense was an invention, to save the necks of the slayers—to bring it out of the category of ordinary murder. The real motive was money.

"They gambled for such high stakes that not even their millionaire companions could stand the pace. They had to have money; they conceived the idea of this crime, not for a thrill, but for money."

"Money, money, money! It is all through this case. Yet Darrow says it was only a case of two poor little rich boys wandering in the dark, looking for a teddy bear."

Tells of Cunning.

He told of their cunning and declared it was only by "an act of God" that they were apprehended.

"When the glasses that Leopold had not used in three months dropped in that lonely stretch of country near where these two defendants had stuffed the naked body of Bobby Frank—it was the hand of the just God," he said.

And the prosecutor told of the cunning of the defendants after they were lodged in jail, or their plot to escape by the use of a "few thousand dollars for guards and guns."

"Was that so unreasonable; did that show mental sickness?" he asked. Sarcastically he referred to the reports of the defense alienists:

Gale May Delay U. S. Army Fliers

Favorable Weather Conditions Needed for Long Hop to Indian Harbor.

By DAVIS J. WALSH. By International News Service Staff Correspondent.

On Board U. S. Cruiser Richmond, Aug. 27. (By Wireless.)—Forecasts of a northeast gale today made it unlikely that the United States round-the-world fliers would be able to hop off tomorrow morning on the 555-mile leg of their historic air journey from Iqiguit to Indian Harbor, Labrador.

If the weather forecast proves true, the American aviators—Lieut. Lowell Smith and Lieut. Erik Nelson—would be compelled to buck a gale, whereas they need every advantage in their favor to make the long jump back to the mainland of the North American continent.

The leg of the journey to Indian Harbor is the second longest open water hop of the world flight. "I regard the completion of this next jump as a surety of success for the entire undertaking if success is not already assured," said Lieut. Commander Leighton, aviation officer.

FIRE DESTROYS MACHINE SHOPS

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 27.—Fire, originating from an explosion of a boiler, destroyed the machine shop of the Hardie Tynes Manufacturing company here, at an estimated loss of $750,000. No one was injured.

Following the explosion the fire spread with such rapidity that the night crew employed at the plant was forced to flee. The flames gathered such headway that firemen were unable to cope with them except to protect adjoining buildings.

GERMAN VOTE ON PACT IN DOUBT

Members of the cabinet are equally pessimistic. There were riotous scenes in the reichstag today. Blood—real red proletarian blood—flowed in the German national parliament when the communists, socialists and democrats mixed things more lively on the floor of the reichstag than was probably ever done in any parliament. It was a record battle for the reichstag floor, where usually more skill is shown with cuss words than with fists.

Deputy Brodauf, a democrat, opposed a resolution for immediate consideration of a resolution to grant amnesty to communist and national socialist elected as deputies, but who were in jail when elected and who are still imprisoned.

The communists made a rush at Brodauf and one of them struck the deputy in the eye, whereupon the socialists and democrats came to the rescue of Brodauf. General fist-cuffs ensued, lasting for several minutes. There were bloody noses, black eyes and bruised faces.

President Waltraff, his calls for order ignored, put on his hat and left the house in disgust, thereby closing the session. Shortly before 8 the house reconvened, the committee on rules excluding three communists from 20 sessions. They were removed from the floor by the criminal police.

The papers this evening assert that Deputy Brodauf was quite badly beaten up and that one eye is endangered. The entire press expresses indignation and disgust at such disgraceful scenes.

Cherchez la Femme. According to Remick a tall, slender young man walked into the office at 7 Wednesday morning and asked for a ticket to Fremont.
